MOB DETERMINED TO KILL A NEGRO

Who Had Confessed to An Assault on a White Girl—Two Killed and a Number of People Wounded.

Akron, Ohio, Special.—Between 1 and 2 o'clock Wednesday morning, Officer John Duffey arrested a colored man who during the day confessed to Prison Keeper Washer of having attempted to assault Christina, the six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Maas, industrials and respectable people who live on Perkins Hill. The prisoner had given his name as Louis Peck. He is about 40 years old, married and recently moved here. The story of his confession spread like wildfire through the city and officers learned that an attempt would be made to lynch him. In the police court Peck pleaded guilty and was bound over to the Common Pleas Court. His bail was placed at $5,000.

Several thousand people were ready at night to lynch Peck. A large crowd gathered about the city prison at 7:30 o'clock and forced in the doors. The prison was soon packed with the mob and the officers offered no resistance, as Peck earlier in the evening had been quietly taken away to Cleveland. To satisfy the mob, the officers suggested that a committee of six be appointed to search all the cells and go through every part of the building. "This was done, and as the negro was not found a yell was made. 'Now for the county jail! Give us the nigger, and we will deal with him!' A mad rush followed for the jail and soon the jail was in the hands of the mob. After going through the private apartments of the jail the crowd started to batter down the big iron doors. Deputy Sheriff Stone stood in front of the prison doors and made a speech. He informed the crowd that Peck could not be found there and he told the people of the mob to select a committee and he would allow them to search the jail from top to bottom. A committee was quickly selected and the jail was searched, every cell being examined. Satisfied that the negro was not there the mob then rushed across the street and forced open the doors of the county court house. The old court house was soon packed and all rooms searched except the rooms in the treasury department.

The city prison was again surrounded and hundreds of people forced their way into the prison for the second time, insisting that the negro was there. Mayor W. E. Young at this time appeared at one of the windows in the upper part of the building. He addressed the mob as best he could, saying that Peck had been taken out of the prison at 4 o'clock by Sheriff Kelly, and driven out of the city in a closed carriage. The people in the mob would not believe the mayor, and continued to yell and demand that Peck be surrendered.

At 10 o'clock the mob began for the third time to attack the city prison. Some one in the crowd began shooting at the building. This was followed by several more shots. The officers in the building appeared at the windows and began to shoot over the heads of the people. A man with a shot-gun then fired at the officers. It is said that several officers were wounded. The crowd then began to smash in the windows of the city building and the firing became general. Hundreds of shots were exchanged, and one boy, name unknown, was carried dead from the street. It is certain that dozens of men were wounded. All the ambulances of the city have been called out and the excitement has become intense. The front of the city building is a total wreck.

At 10:45 p. m. Prison-Keeper John E. Washer came from the building and he was knocked down by a brick he was badly injured about the head and had to receive medical attention.

It was known that two persons were instantly killed and another person is dying at the city hospital.

STATUE IS UNVEILED

Fitting Memorial to the Immortal Vance.

R. H. BATTLE DELIVERED ORATION.

Two Little Grand-Daughters of Senator Vance Unveiled Statue Which is a Work of Art and an Excellent Likeness—Tremendous Crowd Present.

Raleigh, Special.—The superb bronze statue of Vance was unveiled on Wednesday, and was greeted by the enthusiastic cheers of a vast crowd.

Mr. R. H. Battle, Governor Vance's private secretary, made the formal oration, which covered the whole life and career of the great commoner. Dr. Eugene Daniels offered the prayer. Col. Thomas S. Kenan was chief marshal and introduced the speaker.

The two little granddaughters of Senator Vance unveiled the figure. The statue is a splendid work of art, as well as a fine likeness.

The statue stands in the Capitol square, midway between the east front of that building and the boundary of the square, while the noble memorial erected by the State to its Confederate dead, "First at Bethel, Last at Appomattox," stands at the western front.

The movement to erect a monument to the Senator took shape soon after his death, and was begun as a popular one. In this way about $25,000 was raised. The Legislature of 1899 came to the aid of the movement by appropriating $5,000, and with the $7,500 it was decided to secure a statue. There was a lively competition by artists last summer, no less than 12 competing, but Henry J. Elliott, of Washington, was the winner. Mrs. Vance, the widow, admired his model, which was a study from the best photograph, and made frequent visits to Elliott's studio. She also followed closely the work on the full-sized clay model. This pleased her, as it also did the two committees, one appointed by the Legislature, the other by the citizens who had made contributions.

The statue is 8 1/2 feet in height and stands upon a base of granite from Mt. Airy, Ga., the base being of equal height. It was cast by the Gorham Company, at Providence, R. I., and when two members of the committee went there to inspect it in June one of them exclaimed as they first viewed it: "There's Vance!" This exclamation was made by Richard H. Battle, who during the most trying period of the Civil war was Vance's private secretary, and who for nearly forty years was one of his most intimate friends. When the statue was put in position last month the few who saw it made the same remark. Vance's personality was very striking. The likeness of the face and head is the feature of the work.

One the base is the one word "Vance" in bold letters. That one word is enough. In bold relief it stands out, typical of the man who in war or in peace was always for his beloved North Carolina and North Carolinians. The head is lion-like, yet kindly in expression. The artist has happily caught the bearing of the man and his true manliness of face, form and pose.

Solving the Negro Problem.

Detroit, Mich., Special. The State Federation of Colored Women has adopted a memorial to President McKinley, petitioning him to ask Congress to pay the widow of the late Postmaster Baker of Lake City $40,000 in lieu of the life of her husband, which was lost during a race riot in that country. The memorial also states: "We would like to ask for a law to be enacted to this effect, that should any State be found guilty of mob law and lynching it be expelled from the Union. The blacks then could execute and all the negroes but we could have a State of their own, where in they need not see a black face. Thus we solve the negro problem."
