VOL. XVI, NO. 24.

REIDSVILLE, N. C., MAY 22, 1903.

$1.00 PER YEAR

FARMERS, REMEMBER

Special Yellow Leaf, Peruvian Mixture, Bob White.

The superior quality of these goods and the very low price at which they are sold places them entirely out of the line of competition.

These goods are composed of the very best ingredients known for plant growth, and failure is impossible when these goods are used.

The Special Yellow Leaf is said by our own State chemist to forty cents a ton, commercially, higher than any other goods on the market.

GUANOS THAT PAY YOU.

The farmers of Rockingham and adjoining counties, in order to make success in raising tobacco, should use a fertilizer that grows it with good body. J. H. Burton sells the guanos. This is no joke. If you have not used his guano ask your neighbor who has. They will tell you about it.

The Old Reliable Piedmont.

Tobacco with good body weighs heavier and sells higher than a poor nondescript. To get the best results use the Piedmont and grow rich, waxy, heavy tobacco. It has stood the test for thirty years and justly won its reputation of being as good as the best and better than the rest.

$15. - MATTRESSES - $10.

Elastic Felt Mattresses—the same class of mattress, but not as good as one we sell you, is advertised in the magazines at $15.00. Now $10.00 is more than enough for the magazine advertised article—you are fooled out of $5.00, when you send a magazine advertiser $15.00 for an article not as good as the mattress we sell you.

It Always Pays to buy Here.

The principal thing you get from a magazine advertiser is "talk," it's cheap. It costs several times as much to advertise in a magazine as it does in any first class newspaper in Reidsville. Any furniture dealer can furnish you a better mattress for $10.00 than those advertised in the magazines in any city in the country. Before being tempted come to our store and get posted and save your money.

THE GOSSIP OF WASHINGTON

There is considerable concern manifested among members of the Cabinet and other prominent officials in Washington regarding the extent and the emphasis with which the President, in his western speeches, is dwelling upon the Monroe Doctrine. It is believed in the East that the Monroe Doctrine is most expensive to maintain and brings with it no adequate return. It has been pointed out that whenever a European nation secures control of a colony the commercial status of the newly acquired territory becomes fixed, the demand for foreign goods increases and the United States secures its share of the commerce. In South America, however, the integrity of numerous petty governments is preserved by the United States and the result is that these little countries are constantly at war, that they repudiate their commercial obligations without hesitation and to the serious loss of every American businessman who attempts to deal with them, and that even when the United States has a favor to ask, as in the case of the Panama canal, it receives even less consideration than is accorded European nations. Under these circumstances the officials referred to regard it as ill-advised for the President to dwell with such marked emphasis upon the subject. The facts are, of course, that Mr. Roosevelt is afraid to discuss the tariff because of the factional differences on that subject in his own party, is unwilling to discuss trusts and monopolies for fear of further offending the Wall street interests and finds the Monroe Doctrine a safe topic because few people understand it and most regard it as a sort of patriotic duty to uphold it. Incidentally, Mr. Roosevelt wants a larger navy and the alleged necessity of maintaining the Monroe Doctrine furnishes an excuse for his coveted "big stick."

It is learned on authority of a member of the Cabinet that the President and Senator Hanna have made a trade whereby the former will welcome as his running mate, provided he secures the nomination, Mr. Myron T. Herrick whom Mr. Hanna is just now booming for Governor of Ohio. The Cabinet officer alluded to was invited into the President's official family because of his political sagacity. He says, "Colonel Herrick is one of the strongest possibilities for the second place on the ticket. It seems now that the likelihood of his being nominated will become much stronger if he is triumphantly elected governor of Ohio next fall. Should his majority fall far below normal, however, his availability will be seriously affected."

Secretary of State Hay is now thoroughly convinced that there was no foundation for the reports forwarded here last week by Minister Conger at Peking to the effect that the Russians had occupied Niu Chwang in Manchuria. It appears that United States Consul Miller, at Niu Chang, heard that the Russians were to occupy the forts at that point and immediately communicated with Minister Conger who cabled the statement to this country. There had been some movement of Russian troops in Manchuria but nothing in violation of the treaty stipulations. Although it is stoutly maintained at the State and Navy departments that nothing has occurred to necessitate the presence of a stronger naval fleet in Chinese waters, it is regarded as somewhat significant that within the past week the Wisconsin, the Raleigh, the Albany and the Cincinnati have been ordered to attach themselves to the Asiatic squadron.

Representative Swanson of Virginia, a Democratic leader on the floor of the House, is in Washington and recently expressed some views on the presidential situation. Mr. Swanson regards Senator Gorman as the most available man in the party but names Judge Parker of New York as his second choice. He sees encouragement in the enthusiasm with which Mr. Cleveland has been received on several occasions as demonstrating more than usual interest in the democratic nominee and auguring success for the democratic ticket but he does not believe Mr. Cleveland stands the slightest chance of being nominated.

The most important development in the Postoffice situation during the past week has been the summary removal of August W. Machen general superintendent of the division of free delivery, and the appointment as acting superintendent of M. C. Fosnes, who is regarded as the most able postoffice inspector in the service. It will be remembered that it was Mr. Fosnes who cleared up the Cuban postal service after Estes C. Rathbone had gotten it into an almost inextricable muddle. Since Machen's removal some important discoveries have been made although their character will not be revealed until Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Bristow completes his report. It has been announced that the appropriation for rural routes has been exhausted and no further routes will be established until after July 1.

There have now been removed from office four officials against whom charges have been preferred, Judge Tyner, Mr. Christianity, Tyner's assistant, Machen and Superintendent Beavers, although the latter was permitted to resign. It is not believed that any one of these officials will be permitted to resume his duties. In the case of Machen there appears to be no occasion for his office. There is now a superintendent of city free delivery and a superintendent of rural free delivery. As "general superintendent of free delivery" Machen occupied a position analogous to that of an assistant postmaster general which he had labored to have himself appointed. It is now regarded as more than likely that after the conclusion of the present investigation the division of city free delivery will remain under the supervision of the First Assistant Postmaster General and that of rural free delivery will be permanently transferred to the bureau presided over by the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General where it will be in close relationship with the star routes, etc., apparently its natural location.

A NEW FLAG FOR THE SCHOOL.

The Members of the Junior Order Lodge Present It With Appropriate Exercises.

Wednesday morning Carolina Council, No. 9, Jr. O. U. A. M. presented the public school with a beautiful flag, which was accepted by the committee and raised for the first time after pretty and impressive speeches had been made. The members of the order marched in from their lodge room to the building, and were invited into the assembly hall. Pretty and appropriate songs were sung, and Mr. J. R. Joyce, on behalf of the lodge, made a beautiful speech presenting the flag to the school committee.

Mr. J. T. Pannill, for the school board, replied, accepting it in happy language and making time remarks with reference to the order and its interests and principles.

Both efforts were highly complimented and showed that the speakers had given thought and patience to the preparation of their remarks.

The committee from the lodge then tied the rope to the flag, and when the children, the members of the order, the committeemen and quite a number of visitors had marched to the front of the building it was raised by a squad of the little girls who are in Miss Pitt's room. The flag is twenty seven feet long, and presenting it to the school has been a pleasure to which the members have looked forward since the new building was completed.
