

Reidsville Review.

TUESDAYS AND FRIDAYS.

LIVER BROS., Proprietors.
ONE DOLLAR PER YEAR.

REIDSVILLE, NOVEMBER 14, 1905

The F. M. Simmons who purchased whiskey from the Williams distillery, as developed at the Greensboro trial last week, was not Senator F. M. Simmons, but a man by the same initials who lived in Greenville, S. C.

The Raleigh Post, which has served its day and generation well as a newspaper of independence in thought, suspended publication Sunday after a career of eight years. The Post claims that its inability to lease the Associated Press service was the cause of its suspension, the service it was receiving being too expensive and inefficient. The Raleigh Evening Times has leased its mechanical equipment and will fill out the unexpired advertising and subscription contracts of the Post.

Matlock Visits Danville.

Sam Matlock, the noted moonshiner of Caswell county, who is badly wanted by the Federal authorities here, was seen in Danville one day the past week. It will be recalled that several months ago Deputy Marshal N. P. Easley and a posse of officers surrounded Matlock's house in Caswell and that he opened fire on the officers. After an exciting battle he was finally captured, handcuffed and placed in a buggy to be brought to Reidsville by Officer Easley. While in the buggy handcuffed the prisoner succeeded in some way to secure the pistol of the officer, and would have shot him had it not been for the prompt action of Officer Easley.

Matlock was given a preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner J. T. Pannill and remanded to jail. He, however, succeeded in escaping after being confined only a few hours, one of the local policemen leaving the door open in releasing some other prisoners. Since that time Matlock has been a fugitive from justice. He is well known in Danville and called on several acquaintances while there.

Reports from Danville say that despite the minions of the law are after him, Matlock seemed to be perfectly cool, and at ease, and referred to his escape from the jail here, remarking:

"The Lord opened the prison doors for Paul and Silas, and I guess he opened them at Reidsville for me. Anyhow, I found the door opened and I just walked out."

By this time Matlock has probably left for parts unknown.

Patent Medicines Subject to Tax.

Collector E. C. Duncan sends us the following for publication:

"The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has ruled that alcoholic compounds advertised and sold as medicines, bitters, cordials, etc., which are composed chiefly of spirits or mixtures thereof without the addition of drugs or medicinal ingredients in sufficient quantities to change materially the character of the alcoholic liquor, are subjects of special tax; and on and after December 1, 1905, persons selling such compounds will be held liable to tax as liquor dealers.

"The ruling that if such compounds are composed of spirits in combination with drugs, herbs, roots, etc., and are held out as remedies for diseases stated in labels on the bottles they are to be regarded as medicines until shown to have been sold for use as beverages is now revoked; and persons selling compounds as medicines are held accountable for the actual character thereof rather than what is stated in labels and printed matter sent out by the manufacturers.

A Doctor's Medicine

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is not a simple cough syrup. It is a strong medicine, a doctor's medicine. It cures hard cases, severe and desperate cases, chronic cases of asthma, pleurisy, bronchitis, consumption. Ask your doctor about this.

"I have used a great deal of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for coughs and hard colds on the chest. It has always done me great good. It is certainly a most wonderful cough medicine." - MICHAEL J. FITZGERALD, Keokuk, N. D.

Mrs. Fillman Entertains.

One of the most unique entertainments of the season was that given last Friday by Mrs. Scott Fillman in honor of her guest, Miss Courts, of Galveston, Texas.

The living room, where the guests were assembled, was artistically decorated in autumn foliage. A great deal of fun and excitement was caused by a sign tacked on the door leading into the dining room which contained this inscription, "The Hall of Silence." When curiosity had reached the highest point Mrs. Fillman distributed pencils and paper and the wondering throng were ushered into the all-mysterious dining room, which had been converted into a picture gallery of all the men and women in the public eye of today, together with some famous ones of the past. They were all pictures with which everybody is more or less familiar, and yet the consternation felt at being presented with nameless pictures was shown in every face. The Roosevelt family were easy enough to find, but the confusion caused by Mark Twain, Sir Henry Irving, Andrew Carnegie, Russell Sage and others was amusing, even our own Ex-Governor Aycock was lost in the throng.

After an hour of painful endeavor to connect faces and names the papers were collected. Mrs. Robt. Harris had the largest number of names, and to her was given a lovely plate in grape design. To Mrs. Hamlin was given the "booby," a tin plate engraved with the alphabet. To Miss Courts, as guest of honor, was given a bottle of Hudnett's violet water.

Delicious orange soufflé with white cake was served, after which the guests departed, one and all proclaiming the perfect success of the afternoon.

Southern Officials Here.

All the prominent officials of the Southern Railway were in Reidsville yesterday on their annual inspection. They always spend but a very few minutes here, as they have so much confidence in Agent Thompson, knowing that whatever he does is in strict accordance with their desires.

No Poison in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

From Napier New Zealand Herald: Two years ago the Pharmacy Board of New South Wales, Australia, had an analysis made of all the cough medicines that were sold in that market. Out of the entire list they found only one that they declared was free from all poisons. This exception was Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, made by the Chamberlain Medicine Company, Des Moines, Iowa, U. S. A. The absence of all narcotics makes this remedy the safest and best that can be had; and it with a feeling of securities that any mother can give to her little ones. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is especially recommended by its makers for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. For sale by Geo. W. Brittain.

PERSONAL MENTION

"Uncle Joe" Fetzer is spending the winter in Concord.

Miss Lizzie Gwynn has returned from a visit to Danville.

Mr. James Mayo, of High Point, was here to spend Sunday.

Mr. Luther Huffines, of Rocky Mount, visited Reidsville yesterday.

Mr. Frank Abbott, of Winston-Salem, spent the past few days here.

Miss Anita Penn is in Raleigh to attend the Boylan-Thompson marriage.

Mr. R. H. Milton has returned from a short business trip to Pittsburg, Pa.

Dr. J. W. McGehee is in New York taking a post-graduate course in medicine.

Mr. S. T. Neal, of Williamston, was here with his family Sunday and yesterday.

Miss Lily Watt Penn left today for Lexington, where she will attend the Adderton-Bragaw wedding.

Miss Kate Ellington has returned to Reidsville, after making a delightful visit to her sister, Mrs. Allen, in Sanford.

Messrs. R. W. Hutcherson and W. T. Barber have returned from Selma, where they were engaged in the tobacco the past few months.

Miss Ida Gwynn is at home from Rex Hospital, Raleigh, and is threatened with appendicitis. An operation may be necessary, but her physicians have not determined as to this yet.

Mr. J. Robert Garrett, of Lenox Castle, left yesterday for Greensboro, where he will join Sheriff Jordan and a party of hunters and go to Manchester, in the Eastern part of the State for a week's hunt.

A True Bill for Fornication and Adultery.

Mr. J. B. Phillips, who is connected with the Lily Cotton Mills, of Spray, and who separated from his wife several months ago, has, through his attorneys, Messrs. Scott & Reil and Johnston & Ivie, instituted habeas corpus proceedings against his wife, Mrs. Blanche Phillips for the custody of their child, little Miss Minnie Phillips. Mr. Luther L. Jones, (Mrs. Phillips' step-father), Mrs. Phillips and daughter were cited to appear before Judge Bryan at Wentworth last Friday, at which time the case was to have been heard.

The mother of the young girl, over whom the contest is now on, is not in condition of health to travel, and these facts were laid before Judge Bryan in affidavits of physicians and others. The counsel for the mother, Messrs. Winston & Bryan; and Messrs. Boone, Giles and Boone, all of Durham, made a strong appeal to Judge Bryan asking for a continuance. He agreed to the continuance and required a bond of $200 of the mother and her step-father, Mr. Jones, to have the child before him or some other judge in the Eleventh Judicial District in January, the exact time and place to be named later. The bond was given and the case continued.

The grand jury at this term of Rockingham Court returned a true bill for fornication and adulteration against Mrs. Blanche Phillips and Earl Clodfelter, of Spray, and this case will likely be tried at the next term of court.

An Old Newspaper.

Mr. D. R. Ellington has in his possession a copy of the Raleigh Star and North Carolina State Gazette, dated August 30, 1816. The issue contains some interesting reading matter—several items about people and their connection with the war of 1812. One item of local interest was the establishment of a rural route from Hillsboro to Roxboro and from Hillsboro to Salem. The latter route came via Lenox Castle, Thompsonville to Reidsville, the latter place being only a forest with possibly a half-dozen inhabitants, on to Rocky Springs via the old "Baggage Road" and Greensboro to Salem. This enabled the people to get their mail once a week, and the Star and North Carolina State Gazette was singing loud praises of the great convenience. The mail carrier was given fifty seven hours to make the trip, and it was required of him to be strictly on time. Another item heralded the news that Henry Clay had just been elected to Congress from a Kentucky district.

Mr. Ellington obtained this relic while attending court at Wentworth last week. The address was written with a feather quill and ink in plain writing to Capt. Ambrose Peay, grandfather of our townsman, Capt. J. W. Peay. Mr. Ellington values the paper quite highly.

Death of Mr. J. H. Hall.

Mr. James H. Hall died Sunday night at the advanced age of 73 years, after a short illness. The news was a severe shock to his friends generally who had not been apprised of his illness.

Mr. Hall had been feeble for the past year or two, but his ailments were principally the infirmities of old age and his recent short illness was the climax in the career of a long and useful life.

For a long number of years he was a resident of Wentworth and conducted a hotel there. He celebrated his fiftieth wedding anniversary some time during the past year.

After removing to Reidsville he was engaged in the hotel business, and later served the county as sheriff. Being a man of sound business ideas he was successful in all of his undertakings. Several years ago he went to Charlotte and engaged in the hotel business there, returning to Reidsville a year later.

Mr. Hall was a member of the Primitive Baptist church and was held in high esteem by his fellow citizens.

Mr. Hall is survived by his wife and the following named children: J. T., of Charlotte; L. B., Miss Mattie Hall and Mrs. Bettie Abbott, of Reidsville; Mrs. Edgar Vaughn, Mrs. P. A. Thompson and Mrs. Dr. Bynum, of Winston-Salem.

The funeral was conducted yesterday afternoon from the family residence on Piedmont street by Rev. D. I. Craig, of the Presbyterian church. The interment was at Greenview Cemetery.

The active pall-bearers were Squire J. C. Gardner, Capt. J. S. Dalton, E. R. Harris, R. W. Morris, R. T. Williams, J. T. Pannill. The flower-bearers were J. B. Jones, Wm. Giles, C. H. Fetzer, T. S. Reid, Francis Womack, John T. Oliver.

COMMUNICATION FROM FETZER & TUCKER.

Offer to Refund Money if Hyomei Does Not Cure Catarrh.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:—We have been asked recently if the advertisements printed in your columns regarding Hyomei were true, where we offer to refund the money if this treatment does not cure catarrh. We wish you would please print this letter in a conspicuous place as possible in your paper, saying that we absolutely agree to refund the money to any purchaser of a Hyomei outfit if it does not cure catarrh.

This outfit has an inhaler of a convenient size to be carried in the vest pocket so that the user can breathe Hyomei for four or five times daily. With this included a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomei. The outfit sells for $1.00 and is a most economical treatment for the inhaler lasts a lifetime and there is enough Hyomei for several weeks' use, while extra bottles can be obtained for fifty cents.

We trust this letter will settle any doubts that has arisen as to have willing to refund the money for a Hyomei outfit, in case the purchaser is not perfectly satisfied.

We wish to say emphatically that our guarantee on Hyomei holds good, and we will refund the money to any dissatisfied purchaser who simply states that he has used the treatment according to directions and has not been helped.

Respectfully yours, Fetzer & Tucker.
