THE MOTHER BUTTERFLY

"A splendid tribute to motherhood," says the Asheville Citizen, "was paid by two religious societies in this city yesterday." The Citizen continues: "It was a memorial service—exercises held to call to mind that over beyond the misty veil which divides time from eternity, there reigns in glory a great army of mothers who made the present generation what it is. How seldom in the noise and turmoil of this bustling world do we pause to read in the furrowed face the story of a martyr's love!

"Have you ever studied the mother butterfly? Commonplace, perhaps, but there you find the true type of the mother of humanity. The mother butterfly is the home builder, she builds a nest for her children. The little home where her eggs are laid represents a great deal of sacrifice, for it is lined with several layers of down, plucked from her own soft body. The eggs, having been laid upon this luxurious couch, are protected by a coverlet made of the same material—the mother's down. The building of this beautiful nest is the last earthly labor of the mother butterfly. By the time it is completed her delicate body is entirely denuded of its natural covering. There is nothing to do but die. With promptness and heroism she makes the sacrifice in the interest of the coming butterfly generation. Don't you see the story of the mother of the human race? It is again 'the tramp of coming millions'.

"A long time ago we knew a father who was building a veritable castle. It was perched high on a mountain top and was so constructed that it would outlive many generations. We ventured to remark that it would be standing in its newness when ourselves, and he who was building it, were food for worms. What was his answer? 'My dear sir, we build not for ourselves, but for our children, and our children's children.' Do you get the point? The speaker heard the tread of an unborn army."

One of the great benefits of the Reidsville Seminary to the county of Rockingham lies in the fact that it is developing teachers for the county schools who take a high rank in the teaching profession and who are bringing up the county school system to the level of the very best schools in the State. Rockingham has always furnished a liberal number of teachers and educators for other schools in the State, and the Seminary is constantly equipping others to take up the work where it is left off by those who go into other fields on account of financial inducements held out to them. Prof. Hayes' position as Superintendent of Public Instruction in this county has given him an insight into the schools and he has been enabled to locate the weak places and the deficiencies of the teachers and to supply, in a great measure, at least, that which is lacking in the education of the Rockingham teachers. In her response to a toast at the Seminary's banquet a few nights ago, Miss Dameron, who is one of the county's most successful teachers, said the Seminary is to this county what the Normal College is to the State. The point well illustrates the work in this line which the Seminary is doing.

A petition asking the board of town commissioners to prepare a bill and have it passed by the legislature and call an election so the citizens could vote on the proposition to issue bonds for sewerage was presented more than two years ago. The board secured the passage of the bill, but for one reason or another the election was never called. We trust it will be the pleasure of the new administration to set a date for the election, and they cannot make a better start than by naming the date when they meet next month for organization.

Sentiment in Reidsville is rapidly crystallizing for a strict enforcement of the law. One citizen has changed his account from a mercantile firm with which he had been trading for a number of years because that firm persists in violating the city ordinance which forbids the keeping of chicken coops on the sidewalks. We repeat, it is up to the authorities to enforce their ordinance or repeal it.

It would seem that Mr. Taft was in earnest when he said in his Greensboro speech in 1906 that it would be better for the Republican party if all the Federal offices in this State were filled by Democrats. His appointment of Judge Connor, a Democrat, may indicate that he will practice what he has been preaching.

As Governor Kitchin believes in taking care of the friends he already has, the chances for Mr. Manning's appointment as a successor to Judge Connor seem to be very good. And no mistake would be made should he be nominated.

Scott Brewer.

The marriage Thursday night of Mr. H. R. Scott to Miss Flossie W. Brewer, occurred at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Huffines, on Lindsey street, in which Miss Brewer has been boarding for some time past. The marriage was one of the greatest simplicity, only a few intimate friends being in attendance. The ceremony was performed by Dr. L. T. Mann, pastor of the Methodist church.

The bride was attired in an exquisite hand-made lace robe and carried a magnificent shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. The parlor color scheme was green and white, with banks of snow balls and vases filled with white carnations. Mrs. Abernethy played Mendelssohn's wedding march as the bride and groom entered the parlor, and "Spring Song" softly and sweetly during the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott boarded one of the fast trains after the ceremony for New York where, after remaining a few days, they will sail by the Mediterranean route for an extended tour abroad, including Italy, Switzerland, Germany, France, Holland, England and Scotland.

The bride has been a resident of Reidsville several years, coming here from Hickory. She has endeared herself to many of our people by her sweet and kindly disposition and pleasing manners. Her devotion to friends, her interest to her church, her sweet and kindly nature has been remarked upon time and time again. There is a lady beauty about her life which has won the hearts of those that know her. She was beautiful in her wedding gown, she is always beautiful.

Among a number of beautiful wedding gifts presented the bride was a mammoth silver punch bowl given by the other members of the Rockingham bar. Mr. Scott is an attorney at law and has been a regular practitioner at the Rockingham bar for several years. He has also served in the capacity of president of Citizens Bank since its establishment almost a quarter of a century ago.

The old Reed house, in which Mr. Scott's mother was born and reared, being the home of his grandfather when this locality was simply a plantation, has been for some years the Methodist parsonage on Main street, and it was Mr. Scott's desire, mostly a social one of course, to be married in that house, but unfortunately he was prevented from doing so as the house is being now dismantled and moved to make room for the new parsonage, which is soon to be built.

The Daughters to Have Ball Game.

It has been suggested that the Daughters of the Constitution be given a baseball game of some time within the next week or so, and the management of the baseball park has magnanimously offered to allow the use of the park and equipment so the receipts can be added to the monument fund which these ladies are so energetically building up to pay for the handsome Confederate monument which they have ordered and which will be unveiled in Reidsville some time in the near future.

A game of ball between the girls and boys would attract hundreds of people, if the game is arranged for some time about the middle of the week and the stores could no doubt afford to close up, thus enabling the entire population to take in the event. Some of the local enthusiasts handed in to The Review a list of players for the two teams which it is proposed to draft into service for the game. They are as follows:

- CAVALRY: C. W. Jackson, P. R. H. Tucker, Henry White, C. Lee Ware, J. E. Lambeth, SS T. E. Gardner, P. D. Watt, FR S. Montgomery, A. F. Fertiger, ER F. Betts, Kent Droe, Ed F. R. Talley, J. C. To Locate in Reidsville.

Dr. J. K. Stockard, who has been visiting his family here for several weeks past, has determined to locate in Reidsville for the practice of medicine. He has become so charmed with our delightful climate, enterprise and hospitalities of our citizens that he covered an honorable discharge from the United States army in order that he might make Reidsville his permanent home.

Dr. Stockard had recently been stationed at Fort Revere, Mass., and came home on a leave of absence to visit Mrs. Stockard and his two children. He soon became impressed with the place and set about to get his discharge. This he has received, accompanied by endorsements of the highest character by some of the nation's most noted ranking officers. Dr. Stockard, while in service, ranked as major, and he did service in the Philippines for four years, returning to the United States two years ago.

Our people will extend to him the right hand of fellowship and we trust that his stay in our midst will be pleasant. The doctor's residence is on Wootton street, but Dr. Stockard has not selected an office yet.

The Mayor Has Word.

This is a cleaning-up week in Reidsville. Every child and every citizen should exert themselves to see that the premises in the place are made clean and healthy. The city wagons will make a tour of the wards, beginning next Monday morning to gather up and haul away all the trash which has been piled up, and Street Commissioner Joyce will be along to make a record of the number of barrels to be credited to the children competing for the prizes.

Mayor Montgomery requests us to ask all the children in the city who desire to compete for prizes to notify Officer Joyce where they have worked or which piles have been given them to be counted in the contest so that no mistake will be made. At those homes where there is no one who claims the right to have the trash counted the piles will not be considered in the contest, so it must be understood by the children that they can only have counted in their favor those piles which they actually got up or which have been given them to be counted.

The wagons will call in the first, second, third and fourth wards as rapidly as they can go around, beginning Monday, 11th, and the mayor urges the people to have their trash ready when the wagons call as it is earnestly desired to have the city in a clean, healthy condition for the hot summer months.

In the first ward those children can compete for the following prize: A Two Year Subscription to The Review.

In the Second Ward the following prize is offered: A Season Ticket to all Baseball Games.

The prizes for the Third Ward, A Rug, by Wm. Young, and a Year's Subscription to Webster's Weekly.

In the Fourth Ward the prizes will be a Comb and Brush by G. W. Brittain, and a Knife, by Miller Hardware Co.

A free for all prize is offered by the Management of Wonderland of $500 worth of admissions to Wonderland Theatre for the child anywhere in the city who has the most barrels of trash to his credit.

Some one must win all of these prizes, and a little work by the children will earn one of them.

No one child can compete for prizes in more than one ward. They should decide first what ward they will work in and then proceed to get busy. Their work must be completed by Saturday night.

The reason Reed does so much watch work is because he does high class work at the same price.
