RISE OF PRINCESS

EMPEROR NOW RECOGNIZES WIFE OF AUSTRIA'S HEIR

Syouse is Honored by Her Husband's Uacle.

By granting the title of "highness" to the Princess of Hohenberg, morganatic wife of Archduke Francis Ferdipand of Austria-Hungary, the old ruler of the dual monarchy, Emperor Francis Joseph, has renewed the discussion of the exact status of the princess and the possibility of her sitting on the throne with her husband, who is nephew and heir to the aged emperor. The princess and her husband will shortly visit the kaiser at Berlin, where they will receive

The children of this morganatic marriage are the Princess Sophia, aged eight; Prince Maximilian Charles, aged The kaiser's reasons for inducing the cording to the Austrian authorities, is due to a desire to promote better feelings toward Germany on the part of the new duchess, who has been a steadfast opponent of pan-Germanism.

Married to Archduke In 1900.

The wife of the beir to the Austrian throne is the daughter of Count Chotek. former Austrian ambassador to Belgium. At the time of her marriage to Francis Ferdinand, July 1, 1900, she Princess of Hobenberg. Archduke Francis Joseph is the only

Austria who contracted a morganatic marriage for the sake of his wife, who is a member of an old Bohemian family. The archduke for ten years resisted all the imperial efforts to marry him to a woman of his own rank. The emperor blmself vainly endeavored to stop the marthe wedding the archduke took an onth that he would not declare his wife either empress or queen or his say that this renunciation does not apply to Hungary and that the prindom, which is part of the dual empire. Indeed, there are many in Austria who now believe that the renunelation will not be too rigidly adhered to in Austria and that her highness, who was born Countess Sophia Chotek, may be empress as well as queen.

More Honors For the Princess. It is understood in court circles that this evidence of the emperor's relenting after nine years of obduracy will be followed by other honors bestowed upon the once unrecognized morganatic wife of the Austrian heir.

The new duchess, it is understood, Intends to approach the Vatican in an effort to induce the pope to annul the archbishop's vows of renunciation which stand between her elder son and succes ion to the Austrian throne.

It is an all feature show, nothing tame or stale about it. The side show is high class. The menagerie contains After Nine Years Morganic first-class animals, clean, healthy and large. The horses and all the equipment are clean, well kept and of the best. There is nothing shoddy or shabby. In the arena the seating is close to the performers, giving an excellent view of every act. And every act is good of its kind. There are several features of the old-fashioned circus, dear to our boyhood days, some that are too figenently left out of the big shows in recent years. These are the several kinds of bareback riding.

Declares Rival Producers Are Trying to Wrest Her Big Company From Her.

Miss Hermana Kaessman, head of the Sunflower State Refining company, who has been fighting legal proceedings to have her company put in the hands of a receiver, is known in Kansas as "the woman meen of the oll industry."

She is the principal owner and conductor of the refinery at Niotaze, Kan., the largest in the midcontinent oil field and the most complete institution of its kind west of the Mississippi river, which has sucked the oil from under the Kansas prairies and converted it into a product of commerce and sent It out to the people by the hundreds

Began In Oil Business In 1903.

Miss Kaessman's connection with the oil industry started back in Rochester, N. Y., In 1903. The Kansas oil fields were then in the earlier stages of their development. Miss Hermana Kaessman, a principal in the schools of Rochester, talked to the teachers in the Rochester schools and her women friends in the social set in which she moved of this new oil field in the west. And as she talked they listened, for before ever she set foot on Kansas soll she had made, through her savings and investments in tobacco stocks, something in the neighborhood of a personal fortune of $200,000° and had demonstrated her Standard Not to Blame, She Says. Miss Kaessman declares that her company's financial embarrassments are only temporary and are due to certalu producers who, she says, are trying without warrant to create distrust of her concern among the banks and to destroy her credit. They are also alming at taking the company from her, she says. She does not blame the Standard Oil company. She says that the Standard has shown her courtesies. She admits it may be because she is a woman, although she does not believe it. On one occasion when her storage capacity for fuel oil was exhausted the Standard allowed cars to be diverted from its own quota to help her out of the difficulty. She has not found them using with her the methods which they are reputed to apply to competing concerns.

It may be chivalry, she admits, or it may be some new policy of the oil trust, but certain she is that they have treated her with unusual courtesy,
