REIDSVILLE, N. C., AUGUST 29, 1913.

ISSUED TUESDAYS AND FRIDAYS

THE MEXICO MATTER

President Advises Our People To Return Home.

President Wilson read his message to Congress Wednesday afternoon and it contained the following recommendations:

That all Americans be urged to leave Mexico at once; that Mexicans be advised that summary punishment awaits them if Americans' lives are outraged; that the President deems it his duty to let the various Mexico factions fight out their troubles, and that he must strictly prohibit the shipment of arms to both Federalists and rebels to insure strict neutrality by the United States.

Shortly before noon President Wilson was still undecided whether or not he would read his message to Congress on the Mexican situation, which was complicated by the receipt of dispatches for Special Envoy Lind, stating that President Huerta had informed him he was sending him a new note on the situation.

President Wilson did not desire to delay reading his message, but was anxious to learn the contents of Huerta's latest communication.

He did not make a decision in the matter until the last moment. He had no intimation of the contents of Huerta's note.

Congressional leaders declare that President Wilson's vigorous assertion of a definite policy toward Mexico would have the effect of staying in Congress, for a time at least, open criticism of the administration and demands for information. Those who discussed the message agreed in the general statement that it presented a frank and full statement as to the recent negotiations with the Huerta government and at the same time definitely outlined the American policy for the future.

Republicans joined the Democrats in the endorsement of the President's utterances. Thus far, however, there has been little detailed discussion of the plans outlined.

Major Charles M. Stedman, a member of the foreign relations committee which deals directly with the Mexican situation, said he was delighted with the tone of the President's address. In fact all members of the State delegation who talked on the subject at all seemed to think that Mr. Wilson's attitude in the Mexican crisis has made a ten-strike with members of Congress, regardless of party affiliation, declares the Washington correspondent of the Greensboro News.

BIG WINSTON FAIR IS OPEN TO PEOPLE OF THIS COUNTY.

The Review is in receipt of a letter from General Manager Webb, of the Big Winston-Salem Fair, in which he states that the people of Rockingham county are invited to make exhibits in all the departments of the big exposition to be held in that city Sept. 30-Oct. 1, 2 and 3rd. Cash premiums aggregating twelve thousand dollars are offered by the fair association, the prizes offered covering leaf tobacco, agricultural products of all kinds, poultry, live stock, all phases of woman's work, such as needlework, fancy work, culinary, and there will also be an Educational Department in which many nice prizes are offered for work done by the school children. Every premium offered will be paid to the successful exhibitor in cash. The people of this county will be on equal footing with those of the other counties in this section, and on the same footing with the exhibitors from Forsyth county, the fair being intended to represent the entire section of the country and not merely a county exhibition.

As this county does not have a fair of its own, and therefore has no place to show off its many and varied products, we should see to it that this good old county has an exhibit at the Winston-Salem Fair that is worth while. A card or letter to General Manager G. E. Webb, Winston-Salem, N. C., will bring any one interested a catalogue and premium list.

There being so many Rockingham county people now residents of the Twin-City, there is of course a natural bond of friendship between our people and the Winston-Salem folks, and many of our people will take a few days off and take in the big fair. There will be plenty of things to interest, instruct and amuse everybody.

Fudge.
A few minced dates added to fudge as it comes from the store will make a dainty confection.

A NEW DENTAL PARLOR IN CITIZENS BANK BUILDING.

Dr. J. R. Meador occupies the suite of corner rooms on the second floor of the new Citizens Bank building, overlooking both Gilmer and Scales streets, and the appointments of the offices include everything needed in the practice of dental surgery, and the office fixtures, consisting of a new model electric motor, an electric sterilizer for sterilizing instruments, a formaldehyde comb and brush sterilizer, and individual drinking cups, etc., are in keeping with the furniture and furnishings of the banking institution and the handsome building.

These offices, separated, and with instruments and equipment for both races, and distinct reception rooms, are now undoubtedly the equal in point of beauty and convenience of any dental parlors to be found in the State.

The great advances made in mechanical and applied dentistry during comparatively recent years have widened the scope and established the benefits and advantages that can be derived from professional skill and knowledge along this line, for as long as humanity lasts beauty and health will demand that the teeth be well cared for and properly and promptly attended to. The dental profession is well represented by a practitioner of pronounced ability and experience in Dr. Meador, who has been in active practice in the community since he left college in 1900. A native of Rockingham county, Dr. Meador comes from one of the leading families of this section of North Carolina, being a nephew of the late Rev. W. P. Fife, one of the noted evangelists of our times. After completing his preliminary education in the grammar and high schools of the community, and being ambitious to enter on a professional career, the subject of this sketch took up the study of dentistry in the dental department of the University of Maryland and, having attended the full course of lectures and demonstrations which covered a period of several years, graduated from this institution with the degree of Doctor of Dental Surgery in 1906. He immediately selected Reidsville as the scene of his future labors and began the work of building up a practice at which during his seven years career his experiences have been of the most gratifying character, for he numbers among his patrons many of the leading and influential families residing in Reidsville and throughout Rockingham county.

Dr. Meador's skill and knowledge respond promptly and efficiently to all demands for the benefits of modern dentistry which comprise the filling, straightening and extracting of teeth, crown and bridge work and the supplying and adjusting of artificial teeth, in all of which departments the latest and most approved scientific methods are employed.

Dr. Meador can be consulted during office hours and appointments made. He enjoys the esteem and confidence of the community, being painstaking and conscientious in his methods and maintaining relations generally whose commendable characteristics are their integrity and reliability.

A MODERN BARBER SHOP FOR PROF. A. B. BRODNAX.

One of the many conveniences which the new Citizens Bank building supplies for its patrons and the public generally is a well-appointed barber shop opening on Scales street, which will be under the supervision of the veteran, Prof. Alexander Brodnax. Naturally enough, the bank people desired to secure artists who are second to none in their lines, and in casting about for these they selected Prof. Brodnax to assemble a force whose work

EX-GOVERNOR GLENN

Said To Be Slated for Position Of Great Dignity.

The Washington correspondent of the Greensboro News learns that Ex-Governor R. B. Glenn has been offered a good job with the federal government by President Wilson and that he has accepted. The correspondent says: "While the friends of Mr. Glenn refuse to say just what kind of a job has been offered the former Governor, it is said that it is a very dignified position and carries with it a substantial salary. Mr. Glenn at one time aspired to a place on the Interstate Commerce Commission, a job paying ten thousand dollars a year, the appointment holding good for seven years. If Governor Glenn accepts Mr. Wilson's offer, and it is practically certain that he will, E. J. Justice, of Greensboro, and Senator Lee S. Overman probably will have the Senatorial fight all to themselves. Strong pressure has been brought to bear to prevent the news of the offer made the former Governor being made public. A close friend of Mr. Glenn gave the story out and it was then confirmed by a high official in the government." Answering a query from the Winston-Salem Sentinel, Mr. Glenn denies that the President has offered him a job. It is understood that both Senators Simmons and Overman are diligently trying to get him an appointment of dignity and with an attractive salary.

and whose parlors would be all that a discriminating public could desire.

The fixtures are all new and sanitary, and the artists who preside over the chairs will be Prof. A. B. Brodnax, Prof. William Preston, Prof. G. P. Mitchell, and Prof. J. H. Green, formerly of the Asheville Battery Park Hotel.

While the service and appointments at the new consorial parlor will be all that could be desired and the very best money can secure, the charges for work will remain the same as charged by other parlors in the city.

P. W. GLIDEWELL HAS OFFICES IN NEW BUILDING.

Attorney P. W. Glidewell has a convenient and well appointed suite of offices in the new Citizens Bank building on the second floor. These offices are furnished with fixtures and office furniture in keeping with the handsome building and it is entirely proper that Mr. Glidewell, one of the progressive and enterprising young men of Reidsville, should have a location in Reidsville's most beautiful and modern building.

Mr. Glidewell is enjoying a most lucrative practice which is growing all the time, and in his new quarters he will be fitted up for more comfortable work than he has ever been.

He practices in the courts of Rockingham and adjoining counties and in the Federal as well as in the Supreme court. He served his town three years as solicitor of the recorder's court, but is now devoting all of his time to his private practice.

THE WHEELER STUDIO AT ITS OLD STAND.

The Wheeler Studio in Reidsville is an enterprise about which everybody is agreed—that the work turned out by Mrs. Meador and her assistants is as good as any turned out from any studio in the State.

Don't get your mind confused about the location of the Wheeler Studio. It is still in the old Citizens Bank building, just where it has always been. Perhaps the name of the building will now be changed, but the studio will remain in its present quarters even though it has the distinction of having its home name changed without its consent or approval.

When you are ready for handsome photographs of yourself or any member of your family, come to headquarters at the old stand. Now is a fine time to have the likeness of your baby made while it is in good health this summer.

The handsome up-to-date offices in our new bank building will be ready for occupancy Aug. 14. Hot and cold water, heat and janitor service furnished with each office. Will be glad to show the office and name price to prospective renters.—Citizens Bank.

NEAR RIOT IN YADKIN

Officers Have Hot Encounter With Darkies.

One negro is dead, one other wounded, a township constable badly bruised up and three negroes are under arrest following a mixup at a negro meeting near Huntsville, Yadkin county, Wednesday night.

Late that afternoon Constable J. E. Shugart received word that he was wanted down below Shacktown to make an arrest, and, taking his son Gurney, he started. He found that he was to arrest two negroes, Tom Hamlin and a Biting negro, for the theft of a coat from one Frank Warren earlier in the day. Procuring his warrant, Constable Shugart proceeded to the church where the negroes were holding forth. After placing Biting under arrest it seems the Hamlin negro was organizing a crowd to rescue him and finally, with six comrades, made an attack on the constable and his son, demanding the prisoner.

After this things happened thick and fast. Hamlin is of powerful build and as the leader of an attacking party is supposed to be the one who struck Constable Shugart some hard blows, after which they secured the prisoner. As they went away Shugart fired on them, but the shot went wild.

Sheriff Poindexter and some special deputies went to the scene shortly after midnight and soon several of the negroes were surrounded. In a pitched battle that followed one negro, named Biting, was killed outright. It is not known whether the one killed was the one arrested for stealing the coat.

The sheriff and posse went to Yadkinville with three of the negroes, and they will be given a hearing at once, while the officers of the adjoining counties have been notified to look out for the fleeing ones. It is not known who killed the negro and probably never will be known.

MISS LAURA ELIZABETH SHREVE —MR. WALTER R. McCARGO.

A marriage of interest to a wide circle of friends and acquaintances in Rockingham county and elsewhere was celebrated Wednesday evening, August 20, 1913, when Mr. Walter Raine McCargo and Miss Louise Elizabeth Shreve, well known and deservedly popular people of this county, plighted their troth.

The ceremony, quiet and beautiful in its simplicity, took place at six o'clock at the home of the bride's father, Mr. Thomas K. Shreve, nine miles West of Reidsville, and was witnessed by a number of relatives and close friends of the couple.

Rev. W. H. Wilson, of Greensboro, pastor of the bride, was the officiating minister.

A beautiful appointed wedding supper followed the ceremony.

The marriage is the culmination of a love affair that grew out of a friendship of longstanding and unites two excellent people.

Only a limited number of friends had been apprised of the approaching event, and the announcement of the wedding will come as a surprise to a majority of Mr. and Mrs. McCargo's acquaintances, all of whom will wish for them the best that life can afford.

Mr. McCargo is one of the county's most substantial farmers and business men. He is an influential and progressive citizen and possesses to a marked degree the confidence and esteem of the public. His bride is a woman of attractive personality and is beloved for her many gentle qualities.

Mr. and Mrs. McCargo left on train No. 7 and will spend some time away from home on their honeymoon.

Dyspepsia.

Don't think you can cure your dyspepsia in any other way than by strengthening and toning your stomach.

That is weak and incapable of performing its functions, probably because you have imposed upon it in one way or another over and over again.

Take Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills.

They strengthen and tone the stomach, assist in the secretion of the gastric juice so necessary to digestion, and permanently cure dyspepsia—not simply relieve it as the palliatives do which only temporarily ease the aches and pains it causes.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills are the medicines that cure dyspepsia, loss of appetite, and all stomach troubles.

WHAT HAS HAPPENED SINCE OUR LAST ISSUE.

Between $6,000,000 and $7,000,000 at the very least, it is estimated, is invested in automobiles in North Carolina this year, and the investment is likely to increase to nine million dollars.

Attempts to increase to the limit the income tax to large incomes, failed Tuesday when Senators Bogan, Bristow and Cummins led an effort to amend the income tax section of the Democratic tariff bill.

Besides State day, City day, Farmers' day, and Children's day, there will be President's day at the Virginia State Fair. The association is now busy arranging for the anticipated visit of President Wilson during the week of October 6th.

The North Carolina Farmers Union is in annual session in Raleigh with over five hundred farmers in attendance. There also in session is the State Convention of Farm Housewives of the State under the special direction of Mrs. Charles McKimmon.

The Democratic campaign has begun in Maine in earnest. An election is to be held on Sept. 8 in the Third district to choose a successor to the late Congressman Goodwin. The Democrats are standing squarely on the tariff measure now pending in Congress.

Twenty-one people were injured in wreck of a mixed train on the C. and O. railway near Bremo, Va., on Tuesday afternoon. The train was derailed by spreading rails and the passenger coach and three freight cars loaded with lumber rolled over a 20-foot embankment.

The "kneelet" has made its appearance upon Atlantic City board walk, circling the limbs of two young women who acknowledged they were from Pittsburgh. The "kneelet" is worn with the slit skirt and is the twin to the anklet, with the exception that it was worn just above the knee instead of around the ankle. Also the slit in the skirt extends much higher to show the "kneelet."

The Metropolitan Tobacco Company, an organization of independent New York jobbers selling for independent manufacturers, has complained to the department of justice that the American Tobacco Company has by unfair methods practically closed to the Metropolitan and other concerns the sale of certain brands of cigars, cigarettes, chewing and smoking tobacco. Attorney General McReynolds will investigate.

Ashville Elks are to build a new fifty thousand dollar home.

Keen scientific interest is displayed by Brockton, Mass., physicians in the case of Henry Dickerson, a 15-year-old boy, whose heart was forced by accident to his right side. The boy was practically the whole support of his family. Several weeks ago, Dickerson, who was employed in a factory, was run over by a wagon. His ribs were crushed. The surgeons say it is probable the heart will remain on the right side, but that the boy will regain his full strength in time.

"There is a deep and solemn apprehension that some great event lies just in the future. All eyes are turned to look for the coming man and who is the coming man but the Man, Christ Jesus, the Desire of all Ages, the Anointed of the Lord?" said Carlye P. Haynes, the evangelist and lecturer, to a great audience at the camp meeting and conference of the North Carolina Seventh Day Adventists who are holding their annual conference in a city of tents in Greensboro. The forceful address on the subject of the second coming of Christ was based entirely on the 24th chapter of Matthew.

Early Tuesday morning a body of men, numbering 35 or 40, went to a Charlotte hospital, covered the nurses with revolvers and forced the surrender of the negro John McNeely, who shot Policeman Wilson in Charlotte a week ago. He was carried out into the street and virtually filled with bullets, forty being fired into his body. The negro was left in a gutter to die and the end came about five o'clock Tuesday morning. This is the first lynching that has ever occurred in Mecklenburg county. The city council offered a reward of one thousand dollars for the capture of each of the guilty parties.

When you are ready to consider erecting a monument or tombstone over the grave of your departed loved one, give me a chance to submit samples and quote prices. I can save you money.—P. H. Williamson.

MOTLEY PLANT SOLD

Brought a Third More Than It Did Before.

The A. H. Motley Co. factory building and other real estate, furniture and office supplies, brands and machinery, were sold yesterday by Receiver H. W. Hines. The total amount bid for the property at this re-sale was $15,261, an increase of $4,740 over the previous sale.

At the sale a few weeks ago Mr. J. H. Burton was the highest bidder for the factory building, and yesterday the factory was knocked out to Mr. S. C. Penn. The factory building proper brought $12,700.00.

A. L. Brooks, attorney for the receiver, announced that the sale of yesterday probably would be confirmed. The fact that the property brought approximately a third more than it did when it was knocked out thirty days ago shows that Reidsville real estate is still in demand.

Mr. Penn has not made known the purposes for which he will use the building, but there is an impression that he and his son, Mr. Cabell Penn, will equip it with re-drying machinery and that they will be big buyers of the leaf on the Reidsville market henceforth.

CANADIANS GIVE THAW A GREAT OVATION.

Harry K. Thaw won three victories over the New York State authorities Wednesday and was locked in the Sherbrooke, Que., jail immune for the time being from the Dominion immigration authorities, after having received an ovation from the townspeople of Sherbrooke that would have done honor to a prince of royal blood.

So riotous was the scene in the Superior court when at the morning session Judge Arthur Globensky refused to allow counsel representing New York State to be party to the proceedings, that the court subsequently warned spectators that a repetition of the cheering, chair climbing, handkerchief waving and general hysteria would mean jail sentences for the demonstrators.
