The BOULEVARD PRINTERY

T. J. BETTS, Proprietor

To those who care for their work and wish distinction in their literature and advertising matter, the services of this concern are now offered.

It is believed that the business men of the two cities will avail themselves of this opportunity of keeping their money at home and at the same time receive just as good work as can be secured elsewhere; much quicker deliveries and no transportation charges. Think it over and then try it out.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS OF LEAKSVILLE AND SPRAY

Mrs. J. M. Washburn and family are all of them seriously ill.

Mr. C. P. Robertson has returned from a brief visit to Bristol, Tenn.

Miss Hallie Eanes is rapidly recovering from a very serious attack of grippe.

Mr. J. Morgan of Winston street is building a new addition to his blacksmith shop.

Mr. C. Walter Jones, formerly of Leaksville, has recently been elected manager of the Rhode Island and Marshall Field Baseball Leagues.

Col. B. K. Terry and Mr. J. Frank Wilson of Draper attended the Institute-Reidsville baseball game on Saturday. They saw SOME game, too.

The accounts of Dr. W. A. Biting are in the hands of Judge Manley for collection. The Judge requests that those who are indebted to the Doctor drop in and pay up.

Rev. R. E. White and T. M. Green went to Draper last Wednesday evening to assist Rev. Chas. Roberson, pastor of the Baptist church there, in the ordination of deacons.

A very quiet marriage was solemnized at the Baptist parsonage when Mr. T. P. Janney and Miss Ida Roberts, both of Spray, were united in holy wedlock. Rev. T. M. Green officiating.

The Recorder's court has been finally located in the Mercantile Building in the large room in front upstairs over the store. It has been furnished with antique furniture of a unique design.

Watch for further announcements of Miller, the Baker, "On the Boulevard." Hot weather is coming and this modern equipped plant under the direction of Miller himself will prove of real value to housekeepers of Leaksville-Spray. Baked goods in the home is a money-saver anyway.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Spray Baptist church, held its monthly meeting in the home of Mrs. A. D. Wanamaker Wednesday. Subject for study: "The New Patriotism." An interesting and enjoyable program was rendered.

Although the formal opening of the Boulevard Millinery is not until Thursday, Friday and Saturday, the 25th, 26th and 27th of March, yet the new goods, both ladies furnishings and millinery, are arriving every day. Immediately upon receipt they are checked up and placed on display. Miss Roberson and Miss Lawson both suggest that the public take advantage of this fact and call and see their new lines at any time. An inspection is cordially invited and the young ladies really welcome visitors whether a purchase is made or not.

Miss Hallie Eanes was the charming hostess at a delightfully informal social function given at the Hotel Colonnade on Friday evening. The young ladies who constituted the Treble Clef Quartet were the guests of honor and right royally did they show their appreciation by giving one of the finest musicales that it has ever been the pleasure of the writer to attend. A number of out of town guests were in attendance, including Miss Frederic of Wilmington, Del., Mrs. Barton Raham of St. Catherine's, Ont., Miss Bobby Ross of Baltimore and Miss Agnes Pratt of Madison.

THEY GOT THEIR'S

and got it good and plenty. It's the bunch of ball players from Reidsville that we are talking about. It was a good game all the way through. The final score was six to four in favor of the boys from the hill. We would like to give the game in detail but the scorekeeper faded away with the line-ups before The Review reporter could ask him for them. There was some sensational playing on both sides and some ragged playing, too. This was to be expected however. Nevertheless both of the teams showed real class and team work that was remarkable considering the fact that this was their first real work out.

There were pronounced symptoms of bat paralysis on both sides at times. The batteries worked consistently and there were but few blow-ups.

The fielding on both sides was dark in spots. The boys had a slow field to work on though and everything considered the game was a first-class exhibition of ball playing.

A return game will be played at Reidsville next Saturday and we trust that a goodly number of rooters from here will go over the river and boost for the team.

The attendance was good at this game and the local lads are encouraged. They made expenses and put a nice little sinking fund away.

The Reidsville boys were gentlemen in every sense of the word and the Reidsville High School has reason to be proud of her representatives on the diamond. We wish to congratulate both sides on refraining from killing the umpire on two or three occasions.

A REAL PRINT SHOP.

The reporter on The Review had a most interesting interview with Mr. Darlington of the Eagle Printing Co. Some or all of you calamity howlers listen to this.

The card stock used by this growing concern in the last twelve months would cover a space 22 1-2 wide and 35 and one-third miles long.

The paper stock used would reach 37 1-4 miles and be 17 inches wide. The envelopes used for the same length of time would cover a space 3 1-2 inches wide and 13 5-7 miles long.

This does not include other work such as sample cards, bands feeders, special ruled forms and cut cards.

FINIS.

Cox, the editor; Grooms, the associate editor, and Betts, the goat not in the office of the Weekly Courier at one forty-five p. m. on Monday, March the eighth. The drivel which appeared in the twelfth is the result. It was written by Cox, approved by Grooms, and put into type by Betts. No further comment is necessary except that Review reporter and The Review will be doing business in Rockingham county for many years to come and long after Betts and his Weekly Social Monger have been lost in the discards.

Perfect light flickerless projection and feature films together with the illustrated songs are rapidly bringing the new Boulevard Theatre to the front as a first-class picture playhouse. Those who have not yet attended will hardly recognize the old Hub.

INSTITUTE NOTES.

A pleasant meeting of the Cornelian Literary Society of the Leaksville-Spray Institute was held, and when the roll was called by the Censor each member gave a quotation from Shakespeare. After the business of the meeting was transacted the program for the afternoon was rendered as follows:

A Composition—Miss Myrtle Settle.

A Reading—Miss Lillian Barksdale.

National Current Events—Miss Hilda Fagge.

Recitation—Miss Anna French. State Current Events—Miss Clara Rogers.

Song—By the Society. Program for March 4th: Devotional Exercises—Mrs. C. M. Beach.

Song—Society. Journal—Miss Clara Johnson. Jokes—Miss Kathryn Martin.

Plano Solo—Miss Ruby Ivie. Current Events—Miss Ellen French. Reading—Miss Ethel Thomas.

Quotations—From Bible. The last meeting was an unusual interesting one.

Quite a number of articles had been collected by Miss Clara Johnson for the Journal which were read to the Society.

The jokes for the week were very ridiculous. These were read by Miss Kathrine Martin.

One of the most entertaining events of the program was a piano solo by Miss Ruby Ivie. Following this was a number of interesting current events by Miss Ellen French. And last but not least was a reading by Miss Ethel Thomas.

The Athenian Literary Society of the Leaksville-Spray Institute met and discussed the following subject: "Were the States justified in seceding from the Union." The judges decided in favor of the affirmative. This was a regular meeting held Thursday, March 10. The subject for discussion at the next meeting is "Is immigration detrimental to the United States."
