County News as Told By Correspondents

STONEVILLE.

This erstwhile peaceful town is being molested lately in the wee sma' hours of the night by thieves. Last week they broke in the Norfolk and Western station here, and again last Sunday night. The first robbery occurred several weeks ago when two gallons of booze was carried away. Wednesday night a quart of booze was carried away, also three dollars and a half in kate. Sunday night they secured three cents for their trouble. Some stores have been robbed of just a few articles. Monday night they attempted to break in at the residence of Mrs. J. G. Gerry in the Western part of town. In their efforts to get in they awoke Mrs. Gerrey and she fired at the fleeing intruders. A party of young people from here motored to Reidsville Monday afternoon and one car stuck fast in the mud. After it was pulled from the mud, a bearing had burned out. After that was discovered, it was also noticed that there was no gasoline in the car, and the party walked two miles to a telephone, called up the Reidsville garage, had a car sent out and pulled this troublesome car to town. This automobile party was on two cars. One made the trip without trouble. Among the number were Misses Alma Sparger, Alice and Elizabeth McCargo, Kate Claybrook and Margaret Mitchell, and Messrs. Thomas Lauten, Lawson Ivle and Robert B. Stone. Each and every member of the party declared they enjoyed the outing to the full.

Stoneville defeated the Leaksville-Spray team Friday, 10 to 9. It was the raggedest game pulled off here during the season. The large score was due to errors on both sides. The visitors used two pitchers, and the locals used three. Miss Alma Sparger of Greensboro and Misses Alice and Elizabeth McCargo of Mt. Airy went to Greensboro Tuesday after spending some time here with Miss Margaret Mitchell. Miss Eunice Burgess of Boone's Mill, Va., is visiting friends here. Mr. Joe Glenn and family are here from Winston-Salem.

MT. CARMEL.

The farmers are very busy just now plowing tobacco and corn as the heavy rains of last week have put them behind with their work. Wheat harvest is here and all who have harvested wheat say that the crop is the best that has been cut in the past five years. Mr. J. C. Wall and family visited Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Hill in the Oregon section Sunday. Mr. J. M. Vaughn visited friends and relatives in Danville the past week. Mrs. Ira Cole and children of Danville are spending a few days here with Mr. and Mrs. J. H. French. Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Ellington of Ruffin Route 3 visited Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Ellington Sunday. Miss Edna Ellington visited her relatives and friends in Danville this week. Miss Annie May French has returned home after an extended visit to her sister, Mrs. George Strader, in Danville. Miss Lottie Morgan of Spray spent Saturday and Sunday here with her parents. Mr. L. H. French and family have returned to their home at Spencer after a week's visit to relatives and friends here. Mr. Edward Dix of Brunswick County, Virginia, spent Sunday and Monday here, the guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Dix. Misses Lella and Annie Mod. French and Mary Vaughn visited Mrs. R. B. Crisman in the Oak Grove section Sunday. Rev. L. P. Bogle will fill his regular appointment at Mt. Carmel Sunday. Hope to see a large crowd out. June apple time is almost here. A large crowd from this section attended the "Traders' Day" at Draper last Saturday and all report having a snipitous time. The writer wishes to see every section get wide awake, like Stacey, and tell us what they know.

OAK GROVE.

Fine growing weather for crops. Mrs. Ester Talley of Reidsville has been visiting friends and relatives in the Oregon section. Mr. and Mrs. Russell Scarce of Reidsville spent the week-end here with the former's people. Quite a large crowd attended the preaching at Mrs. R. J. Martin's on Sunday afternoon. Sorry to learn that Mrs. Jane French keeps so feeble. Messrs. Duke Hopper and Georgie Cobb were visitors on Main street, Nance, Sunday afternoon, as usual. Glad to hear that little Frank Carroll is improving. Messrs. Herbert Hudson and Jim Strader and Misses Mary Scarce and Ester Talley motored over to Guerrant's Spring Sunday.

HAPPY HOME.

The recent rains have almost let the grass get ahead of the farmers. Sunday School at Happy Home is progressing nicely. Mr. Ambrose Powell has returned home from Whitsett Institute. Miss Loula Carroll spent Saturday and Sunday here with Miss Annie Hopper. We are very glad to have Miss Myrtle Powell home again. She has been attending school at Elon College the past term. Prayer-meeting at Happy Home every first Sunday at 3 o'clock. Come out and join us.

SAUNDERS.

Farm work is progressing nicely. The finest season has been here for some time and the prettiest crop of tobacco set out ever seen. Wheat is great and the prospects are good for a powerful wheat crop. Corn—a large crop planted and growing nicely. Miss Minnie Stultz of Leaksville was the guest of Misses Bessie and

HAVE YOU WEAK LUNGS?

Do colds settle on your chest or in your bronchial tubes? Do coughs hang on, or are you subject to throat troubles? Such troubles should have immediate treatment with the strengthening powers of Scott's Emulsion to guard against consumption which so easily follows. Scott's Emulsion contains pure cod liver oil which peculiarly strengthens the respiratory tract and improves the quality of the blood; the glycerine in it soothes and heals the tender membranes of the throat. Scott's is prescribed by the best specialists. You can get it at any drug store. Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N. J.

High Tribute to Colonel Andrews Paid by Directors of Southern Railway

THE LATE COLONEL A. B. ANDREWS.

NEW YORK.—The board of directors of Southern Railway Company paid a high tribute to the memory of the late Col. A. B. Andrews, first vice-president and for many years a member of the board, who died at his home in Raleigh, N. C., on April 17, 1915, in the following resolutions: "In Memoriam, Alexander Boyd Andrews. "Alexander Boyd Andrews was born in Franklin county, North Carolina, on the 23d day of July, 1841. He tendered his services to the Confederacy in April, 1861, and in June of that year, before he was 20 years of age, was made a second lieutenant in Company E of the First regiment of North Carolina cavalry, Confederate States Army. He served with distinguished gallantry until, in September, 1863, he was shot through the chest and lung by the fragment of a shell at Jack's Shop, near Gordonsville, Va. After recovering from this serious wound he found, when peace was re-established, the whole industrial life of the South prostrate as a result of war and the people among whom he lived confronted with the task of rebuilding their social, and of creating an industrial system on new lines. He became a factor of prime importance in this creative and constructive work. Realizing the necessity for transportation in any plan of reorganization and reconstruction, he entered railroad life. His first service was with the Raleigh and Gaston and with the Raleigh and Augusta railroads, and as their superintendent for eight years he was the principal factor in their rehabilitation after the ravages of war. "With the R. and D. "His efficiency in this work brought him an offer of promotion from the Richmond and Danville Railroad Company, and in 1875 he became superintendent of its North Carolina division. He remained with this and other predecessors of Southern Railway Company and with the Southern itself uninterruptedly until his death, a period of forty years. Beginning with the office of superintendent, he worked his way up through various intermediate grades until he became first vice-president and a director of this company, which position he held at the time of his death and had held for many years. "His active railroad work had thus extended over a period little short of half a century. "During that time the principal construction and organization work of the railroads of the South has been done, and the industrial life of the South itself has been reorganized and rebuilt. In this accomplishment Colonel Andrews was a vital force. Possessing a strong and dominating personality, virile and commanding in character and intellect, he threw himself into his great work with irresistible will and purpose. His achievements, which were many, richly entitle him to a place among the great constructive forces of his State and section. "Completed Western Road. "Among these achievements was the completion of the Western North Carolina railroad, from Old Fort, over the mountains, through Asheville, to Paint Rock, and its branches. Thus through his efforts was opened up the great industrial section of western North Carolina. Population and development and industries followed his pioneer act, and every person in that rich and inviting territory is now, and their descendants through all the coming years will be, enjoying the conveniences, the opportunities and the blessings made possible by this great piece of constructive work. The Western North Carolina Railroad will remain a monument to the useful and honorable achievements of Colonel Andrews, who was its builder. "His life was not an easy one, for it was his lot to encounter and overcome great difficulties. His activity, his positive and purposeful character and his touch with great things brought him into sharp conflicts with important forces. In the midst of them all he bore himself with a courage and virility which commanded universal respect and enabled him to crown his efforts with notable success. In every trust and in every relation of life he was loyal and faithful and true. "On the Personal Side. "On his personal side he was a man of compelling and attractive personality and was greatly honored and beloved. He married in 1869 Miss Julia M. Johnston, daughter of Col. William Johnston, of Charlotte, N. C., who was president of the Charlotte, Columbia and Augusta Railroad Company. With her as his helpmate he built up an exceptionally happy and beautiful home life, which he distinguished by the most cordial and liberal hospitality. "He was a devoted husband and father and followed his children, even after they were grown, with undiminished parental tenderness and solicitude. "He took a deep interest in the welfare of Confederate veterans and in the establishment and maintenance for them of the Confederate Soldiers' home in Raleigh. "Although himself deprived of the benefits of a college education, he was an earnest friend and supporter of the University of North Carolina, being for many years a member of its board of trustees and of its executive committee. "He came to realize the value of a religious life and connected himself as a communicant with the Protestant Episcopal church, being an active and zealous member of the Church of the Good Shepherd of Raleigh, for which in the latter years of his life his munificence helped to provide a new and stately place of worship. "Devoted to Native State. "He was devoted in his attachment to the state of North Carolina. No exigency of business or of personal interest was strong enough to persuade him to make his home elsewhere. He believed in the sturdiness, the sense of justice and the patriotism of its people, and if at any time they, in his judgment, erred, his faith in the ultimate triumph of their sense of right was unwavering and supreme. He was always willing to leave his name and fame in their keeping, in the confidence that their ultimate judgment would correctly appraise and appreciate his purposes and his work. "His death has brought universal sorrow and regret wherever he was known, but especially in the South, where his life was spent and his work most largely done. "The secretary is directed to express to the surviving members of Colonel Andrews' family the respectful sympathy of this board and to transmit to them a suitably engraved and attested transcript of this minute."

Mr. and Mrs. McFarlane of Perth Amboy, N. J., have 17 children. Her husband thought it would be right to hire a housekeeper to help her. As soon as the housekeeper appeared Mrs. McFarlane walked out and deserted the family. When arrested she said that she did not want any one interfering with her work and would go back if the housekeeper was fired.

WHEN FEELING TIRED

Hood's Sarsaparilla Builds Up the Whole System—Makes Pure Blood.

That tired feeling that comes to you in the spring, year after year, is a sign that your blood lacks vitality, just as pimples, boils and other eruptions are signs that it is impure; and it is also a sign that your system is in a low or run-down condition inviting disease. It is a warning, which it is wise to heed. Ask your druggist for Hood's Sarsaparilla. This old standard tried and true blood medicine relieves that tired feeling. It cleanses the blood, gives new life, new courage, strength and cheerfulness. It makes the rich, red blood that will make you feel, look, eat and sleep better. Be sure to get Hood's, because it is the best. There is no other combination of roots, barks and herbs like it—no real substitute for it—no "just-as-good" medicine.

CATARACT NOT DREADED NOW AS OF OLD

Cataract is a disease of the eye that most people regard with horror. To them it is irremediable blindness. As the disease progresses and the vision decreases, they become alarmed and are quite positive they are going blind for life. The trouble is they do not know the nature of the disease. What they should know is that the disease is such that there will be a progressive loss of sight until a certain stage is reached, after which it will be possible by a delicate but not especially dangerous operation to restore the sight. In only a very small percentage of cases does the eye become blind. In the great majority of cases, a high degree of useful sight is obtained, and in some a condition approaching normal vision results. In fact, cataract is one of the most favorable eye diseases which cause loss of sight, and a patient whose failing sight cannot be remedied by glasses, should halt this diagnosis with relief instead of horror. There is one or two points, however, that persons suffering from cataract should be careful to observe. The first is that they should pay no attention to quack doctors, advertising eye specialists, and "cataract cures." Glasses will do no good while lotions may do great harm. The second is that they should early consult a reputable oculist and should put their case in to his hands. They should not by any means delay treatment as the success of the operation depends much on this point.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for Constipation.

A Mistake Made By Many.
