TWENTY-EIGHTH YEAR.

REIDSVILLE, N. C. TUESDAY, OCT. 26TH, 1915

ISSUED TUESDAYS AND FRIDAYS

MINISTERS AND DELEGATES COMING TO THE WESTERN NORTH CAROLINA CONFERENCE HERE

The Western North Carolina Annual Conference of the Methodist Church will meet in Main street M. E. church this city, on the morning of Wednesday, November the seventeenth. The work of the Conference will probably be completed by the following Monday, November the twenty-second. Besides Bishop W. R. Lambuth, of Oakland, Cal., who will preside, Reidsville will have as its guests the following list of preachers and laymen.

During the early days of this week a committee of ladies will visit the homes of Reidsville citizens and ascertain the number of guests that each home is willing to entertain during the Conference. After looking over the list below, many persons will, doubtless, desire to choose certain particular persons as their guests. If the names of these selected persons are given to the committee, when it comes to your house, Pastor Lambeth says that he will see that such assignments are made. If a certain person is, however, requested by more than one party, the one making the request first will receive that guest.

It might be well to state that a considerable number of requests for certain preachers and laymen have been handed to Pastor Lambeth already.

C. & A. A. GETS AID FROM TOWN BOARD

At the special meeting of the town commissioners held Thursday night the board voted to appropriate $300 per year, payable quarterly, for advertising purposes to be used under the direction of the Commercial and Agricultural Association. The association had asked for an appropriation of $1,000, but the commissioners decided that the state of the town's finances would not allow a larger appropriation at this time. While this is quite a disappointment to the officers and members of the association, it is better than no help at all, and the directors should get busy at once and employ a competent secretary who will vigorously carry on the work of the organization without further interruption. Now is the time of the year that the association can get in some of its most useful work.

THE NEWS IN BRIEF SINCE OUR LAST ISSUE

R. C. Hood, a prominent citizen of Greensboro, accidentally shot and killed himself while out hunting Saturday.

A continuation of the progress of the Teutons and Bulgarians against Serbia; fresh advances by the Germans in Northwest Russia and the sinking of a German armored cruiser by a British submarine in the Baltic Sea, are the outstanding features in the world war, as reported in the latest official communication.

In Carthage Saturday night James Y. Larkin shot and killed his son-in-law, Dr. D. Fred Watson, after the latter had forced an entrance into the Larkin home. This sensational affair is the culmination of a long series of strained domestic relations which have on several occasions come near a fatal crisis. Both men are prominent in their town. Larkin is coroner of the county.

The Amsterdam Telegraaf publishes an article from its Antwerp correspondent under the title "The Paternal Administration of Belgium," in which it says that some weeks ago a French woman, Mme. Louise Frenay, was executed at Liege. The correspondent says that the aim of the German firing squad was not accurate and that, as in the case of Miss Edith Cavell under similar circumstances, the commanding officer of the firing squad was obliged to put Mme. Frenay to death by shooting her through the head with his revolver.

Rev. E. G. Lowdermilk is shaping his plans to carry a splendid report to the next session of the North Carolina Protestant Conference which will convene in Greensboro on November 17th, the same time the Western North Carolina Conference meets in Reidsville. His many friends trust that the Reidsville pastor will be returned to this charge.

Dr. W. M. Smiley of South Boston spent yesterday in the city. His many friends are glad to see him looking so well and to know that he is prospering.

Mr. W. T. Wooton began laying granite sidewalks on South Main street yesterday.

CITY LOCAL NEWS IN A CONDENSED FORM

Mr. J. H. Hamlin is remodeling and adding four rooms to his residence on Lindsey street.

The Camp Fire Girls will meet on Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock with Miss Cora Allen.

Mr. B. R. Stone is moving into his new home on Maple avenue. Mrs. J. S. Walker will occupy the residence vacated by Mr. Stone.

Owing to a few cases of diphtheria in town it has been decided to suspend for a few days the first three grades of the West End Schools.

The Library Association and Civic League will have a joint meeting at Mrs. J. B. Pipkin's residence Friday afternoon at 3:30. All members are urged to be present.

There will be a Hallowe'en party at Monroeton schoolhouse next Saturday night, the 30th inst. Oysters and other good things will be served for supper. Everybody cordially invited.

Remember the Brunswick stew and the band concert to be given at the Church of Christ, North Scales street, Friday night, October 29th. You like good music, you are fond of a stew, you will help the band and the church, too.

Mrs. Roberts, mother of Attorney J. L. Roberts, underwent a very serious operation at St. Leo's Hospital in Greensboro a few days ago. The operation was a most successful one and she is now getting along nicely, we are glad to hear.

The Friday Night Bridge Club met with Mr. Ben Baisley last week. Mrs. Wm. R. Dalton won the ladies' prize and Mr. T. J. Penn was awarded the gentlemen's prize. Delicious refreshments were served at the conclusion of the game.

Mr. Chas. J. Adams of Greensboro spent Sunday here with his family. Mr. Adams has accepted a position in the dry cleaning department of the Columbia Laundry and will probably move his family to the Gate City at an early date.

The venerable Dr. Estes, a prominent citizen of Cascade, Va., has been spending several days here on a visit to Mr. T. E. Richardson. The Doctor likes Reidsville very much and says he would be glad to make it his home if he could arrange his affairs conveniently to do so.

The engagement is announced by Mr. and Mrs. Meriwether Catchem of their daughter, Carrie M., to Mr. Oliver Finally Overtook, the date of the wedding to be announced in a later issue of The Review. The contracting parties are two of Reidsville's best known people, and the event will be one unparalleled in the history of the town.

The Thursday Bridge Club enjoyed the cordial hospitality of Mrs. B. H. Pendleton on October 21. The game is always interesting and several large scores were made. The prize, a box of crepe-de-chine handkerchiefs, was won by Mrs. Fillman. After the game a delicious two-course lunch was served by the hostess. Miss Mary Blackburn of Greensboro was an out-of-town guest.

Of a class of twenty-eight candidates who took the full examination before the Virginia State Board of Pharmacy in Richmond on last Tuesday and Wednesday, Mr. Rucker Ellington, formerly of Reidsville, was among the ten who passed successfully and have been granted their certificates as registered pharmacists. Mr. Ellington received a very high grading, we understand.

We hope the ladies of the Civic League will take steps to stop the posting of unsightly circulars and posters on the telephone and electric light poles in the city. The telephone company had their poles nicely painted some time ago which added a great deal to their appearance and they should not be marred by having all sorts of posters stuck on them. We hope the good ladies will see to it that the practice is stopped.

The educational meeting which was postponed some weeks ago will be held at the Graded School auditorium Thursday evening at eight o'clock, Oct. 28. There will be a number of short addresses by leading citizens, on live topics. Among those who will speak are Mayor Cummings, Judge Humphreys, Co. Supt. Hickerson, and Mr. J. H. Allen, principal of the High School. The Booster Band will furnish a number of musical selections. In addition to this the fifth, sixth and seventh grades will give two choruses under the direction of Mrs. Francis Womack. This meeting is planned as the first of a series of meetings to be held from time to time during the year, in the effort to make the school the genuine social center of the town, for diversion, entertainment, and the promotion of every legitimate interest for the advancement of the community.

MERCHANTS CALLED TO MEET IN MASS-MEETING

Mr. Merchant: If you are getting the amount of trade you want stop reading this article, as it will not be of interest to you.

On the other hand, if you are not, you are asked to attend a mass-meeting of the merchants in the rooms of the Reidsville Commercial and Agricultural Association on Tuesday evening, October 26th, at 7:30 p. m.

The merchants of Reidsville need to get together to devise ways and means by which we can make Reidsville a bigger, better and greater trade center—to meet outside competition—solve the difficulties of credits, and the handling of every question which has a vital interest in the development of our town and community.

We want to make this Association a clearing house for your problems as well as the problems of the agricultural fields. We want to help each other to better understand the many difficulties that are constantly confronting us.

In this meeting let us discuss and devise plans by which we may cooperate with the farmer of our community in the sale of his products. He is the builder of our towns and cities, and if we want his trade we must help him who helps us.

We believe that you as a live merchant will be very much interested in this meeting because it is based on service. The service and ideas which it will give to you you may give to your customers to strengthen and increase the volume of your trade.

Co-operation is the watchword of the day, and in this meeting we can give each other a great deal of information which you individually and as a member of your community ought to have.

If you are interested in your town and the community and the people who give you their trade, we ask that you manifest the spirit of co-operation by attending this mass-meeting of merchants Tuesday, October 26, 7:30 p. m., Commercial Hall.
