DISEASE BEARING INSECTS.

Rockingham county is said to be the best drafted, in a natural man ner, of the counties in the Piedmont section, and any one traveling over the county can see the reasons for this statement himself. It is the best drained county in central North Caro-Hna. Reidsville enjoys the same advantage. It is blessed with a natural drainage that makes it an easy prob lem to provide for our sewage. Netwithstanding all this we hear from time to time of cases of malaria and typhoid fever under conditions that make it apparent the diseases have been contracted in our midst. They are not justified by the natural conditions, and are brought about invar iably by deliberate disobedience of the laws of sanitation.

Malaria is caused by a mosquite. There is not a single spot in our town where stagnant water is to be seen. Mosquitos can only germinate in stagnant water, therefore the breeding places for the mosquito that carries malaria into your home is artificial, and will probably be found in some empty cans, carelessly thrown about, and left to become filled with water. The remedy is to make a habit of perforating every can, after it has been emptied of its contents.

Typhoid is induced by the germ found in human feces. The only way this germ is conveyed to the human being is through the food we eat. Our water is pure and uncontaminated, by the Southern Shorthand and Civil So long as we permit flies to feast on | Service University. filth, and then alight on food intended to be eaten, so long will we have cases of typhoid fever. The remely consists of screening our houses against files, and, of course, swatting the fly every opportunity that offers. but no amount of swatting will prevent a single fly depositing five thousand germs of typhoid on the food intended for your next meal unless the most determined and careful methods are used to protect the food.

Neither typhoid nor malaria ought to be permitted to show themselves m Reidsville. Where either of these diseases do show the only conclusion is that the victims did not use ordinary precautions, or cleanly methods, and the consequences are dual-sorrow and anguish to the household, and a class often make the mistake of thinking June to the utmost, one must be it of advertising for our town that it does not deserve.

Better a moderate bill for screening than a larger one for medical expense, perhaps followed by a practical demonstration of the increased expense of dying.

FORMER REIDSVLLIAN WEDS MISS MEDEARIS OF WINSTON

Caracterized by beauty and daintiness throughout, the marriage of Miss Annie Medearis to Mr. Albert L. Butler, which was solemnized last/evening at 7:30 o'clock, at the home of the parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Medearis, was one of the loveliest of the season.

Quantities of flowers were used their arrangement being artistic and tasteful, each room having a different decorative color scheme, the whole being most effective and beautiful.

The marriage vows were said in the parlor, which had been converted into a scene of exquisite bridal beauty with its ingenious arrangement of ferns, white iris and other lovely b'ossoms of pure white. An improl vised altar had been erected, a large white parasol, etched with ivy, hang ing above it. Ropes of smilax and white dessamine blossoms extended from this to the white graduated co!umns, which held beautiful ferns and lovely iris. Among the flowers and greenery many candles gleamed, shedding a soft radiance over the scheme.

A lovely musical program was rendered, with Miss Bess Man of Charlotte at the piano. Mr. Jasper Dean sang beautifully "Because I Love You" and "At Dawning," accompanied by Mr. Lupo. "Love's Dream," by Liszt, was exquisitely played by Miss Mann, who also rendered the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin, this being sung by Miss Mary Sue Henly, Mr. Clemmie Tise McAdoo, Mess s. . as per Dean and Walter Buhman.

As the beautiful words were being sung the bridal party entered and took aheir places. First came the groomsmen, Mr. Noble Medearis, brother of the bride, and Mr. Peter Wilson. Next came the bridesmaids, Miss Vearl Freeman and Miss Irene Butler of Reidsville, sister of the groom. They were lovely pale green organdies, and carried huge bouquets of pink sweet peas.

Miss Frances Modearis was her al. ter's maid of honor, and was charming in a pink organdy costume with pretty bouquet of sweet peas in pink and lavender shades.

The groom entered with his best man, Mr. William H. Chance. The pretty flower-bearer was little Anna Simpson, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Simpson Archer Glenn, the handsome little son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Glenn, was the ring bearer, carrying it on a small white satin cushion.

Last came the bride with her father, Mr. N. H. Medearis, who gave her away. Always a pretty girl, she was unusually attractive and lovely in her bridal robe of white satin with its graceful train of white tul'e. Her veil was becomingly arranged with a Juliet cap, being caught with a wreath of orange blossoms and pearls. She wore a necklace of seed pearls, the gift of the groom, and carried an exquisite shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and white sweet peas.

While the marriage vows were be ing said with Reverend Dr. E. K McLarty as the officiating clergyman, the soft sweet strains of McDowell's "To a Water Lily" were heard, played by Miss Mann.

Immediately after the ceremony an informal reception was held, when the bride and groom received the good wishes and happy felicitations of their friends

* Amid a shower of good wishes Mr. and Mrs Butler lefa later in the evening by automebile for Greensoro, where they caught a train North. The bride wore an attractive and modish traveling suit of dark pluwith hat and accessories to match.

After a bridal trip of ten days or more the young couple will return to this city, where they will make their home.-Condensed from the Winston Salem Sentinel.

With Paige it was "The Standard of Value and Quality".

Long before this phrase was actually expressed, Paige Engineers and Paige Designers were intent upon the production of an automobile that would offer the utmost of motoring luxury at minimum cost to the owner.
