Mr. A. Bane has returned from the Northern cities where he selected a large stock of fall and winter goods for the New York Bargain House.

Mrs. W. B. Millner has returned from Morehead City. She was accompanied by Capt. Millner of Camp Glenn, who will spend a week at home.

In the South Carolina primary last week W. B. Dove, a former superintendent of the Reidsville Graded Schools, received the nomination for Secretary of State.

September ushered in cooler weather and it may be said that the backbone of summer is broken, though some hot days will likely be experienced before frost.

Walter Durham and Wade Durham, two youths reported to have run away from their home in Reidsville, have been located in Richmond. Their parents have been notified.

Among the 79 attorneys who successfully passed the examinations in Raleigh last week and were granted license to practice law were Levi L. Self of Mayodan and Hunter K. Penn of Stoneville.

Mr. M. A. Apple, who has been buying tobacco on the Pamlico, S. C., market, has returned home. He says the crop in that section was badly damaged by the floods. The general average on that market was $13.75. He left yesterday for Fuqua Springs, N.

C., where he will buy tobacco the balance of the season.

Miss Ruby Faulkner will leave today for Greensboro where she has accepted a position with Myers' Department Store.

Rev. H. F. Bulger has returned from a two weeks' visit to New Washington, Ohio, where he conducted a successful meeting. The rest of his vacation was spent with his parents in Washington, Ind.

Honoring Miss Florence Edrington of Fort Worth, Texas, the charming guest of Mrs. C. A. Penn, the young men of the place gave a very enjoyable dance at the C. & A. hall Friday night. About twenty-five couples participated.

Mr. Wm. Stanley, Sr., of near Meivler, aged 96, and his daughter, Miss Sue, aged 66, were in town Friday and visited The Review office. Mr. Stanley is still hale and hearty and gets about as sprightly as though he were not over 70.

Our townsman, Mr. T. J. Roberts, brought The Review two very fine large sweet potatoes, dug Sept. 1st. They are unusually large for this season of the year. Mr. Roberts makes money on his potato crop every year. His entire crop last year sold from $1 to $1.50 per bushel.

Fine progress has been made in cutting and curing the tobacco crop the past week. Only about one-fourth of the crop, it is estimated, now remains in the fields. Most of the farmers report success in obtaining a bright color. This will no doubt cause the crop to sell for a good average.

Hon. N. A. Sinclair of Fayetteville, Democratic Presidential elector-at-large, will address the citizens on the political issues of the day at Spray Wednesday night at 8 o'clock, and at Madison Thursday night at 8 o'clock. Mr. Sinclair is an orator of considerable ability and force and his hearers will be amply repaid for attending these meetings.

The city graded schools for whites opened yesterday with a heavy enrollment, as follows: West End, first A grade 72, first B grade 22, second grade 59, third grade 64, fourth grade 52, fourth and fifth B grades 46, fifth 53, sixth 57, seventh 46, eighth 46, ninth 32, tenth 30; Southside, first grade 33, second, third and fourth 39. Total of both schools 651.

The recent protracted meeting at Speedwell resulted in much good. Rev. S. M. Rankin of Greensboro was the visiting preacher and he preached the Gospel with great directness twice every day. The whole community felt the uplifting effect of the meeting and 18 in all made profession of their faith—some old men, some little children. Sixteen united with Speedwell church.

Mr. Calvin London, a well known and highly regarded citizen of the Oregon section, died yesterday morning at 2 o'clock after an illness lasting about eight weeks. He was 86 years old, a brave Confederate soldier and has been a resident of this county since he was a young man. He leaves four sons, John, Allen, Stoddler and C. L. London. The burial will take place at the Lillard cemetery this afternoon.

Mr. T. B. Doggett, a resident of the Summerfield section, and well known to many of our readers, died Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock following a short illness. The funeral was held Friday afternoon from the Baptist Church at Summerfield by Rev. W. H. Wilson of Greensboro, assisted by Rev. E. Frank Lee, also of Greensboro. Mr. Doggett was a well known resident of his community and had many friends. He is survived by a wife and two children, Waldo and Miss Ruth Doggett; two brothers, J. F., of Brown Summit, and W. T. Doggett of Danville, and a sister, Mrs. Mattie D. Summers, of Gibsonville.

The seven-room residence of Mr. Roberson Saunders, next to Mr. J. H. Bennett's home on the Ruffin road, a couple of miles North of Reidsville, caught on fire between 12 and 1 o'clock Friday morning and was completely destroyed. Only a very few household articles were saved. The house was partially insured. It was occupied by Mrs. Saunders and her brother, Mr. J. H. Bennett, Jr. The latter had been in Thomasville for several days engaged on an exciting contract which he completed on Thursday. When he reached home about 2 o'clock the building was in ashes. Mr. Bennett lost all of his clothes and furniture. The origin of the fire is unknown.

The Booster Band has moved into its new quarters in the new Irvin building, over Degrotte's fruit store and bottling works. On Friday night the band members will formally open their splendid dance hall to the public. The hardwood floor has been put in excellent shape, the finishing touches are being put on the dressing rooms, the the musicians are practicing hard for the event on Friday night—the first of a number to take place during the coming fall and winter. It is the intention of the band to use both the 25-piece band and 12-piece orchestra for these dances, the former playing the first couple of hours and the latter completing each night's program. Only a nominal charge will be made for gentlemen participating in these dances while the ladies will be admitted without cost.

THE COOPERATIVE SPIRIT IN WILLIAMSBURG AND CASWELL

We must confess to surprise when we noticed from a contemporary that the citizens of Caswell county had joined the wide awake citizens of Williamsburg township in the recent action for the continuance of the splendid sandclay road, via Lenox Castle, to Caswell county line. We published the report of the proceedings before the County Commissioners in a previous issue, taking it for granted, in the absence of any stress by our neighbors of Caswell on their participation in this splendid movement for increased good roads in Rockingham County, that only those actually living on this thoroughfare in Rockingham county would be so public spirited as to contribute the use of teams, topsoil, and right if way to the completion of this highway. It now appears that fifty per cent. of the contribution of teams comes from our neighbors across the Caswell line.

Caswell county has certainly put one over on us. But Caswell county can depend upon it that when the occasion arises for reciprocation, the citizens of Williamsburg township will not be found lacking in a similar generous spirit. Speed the day when the occasion may arise. We are just as desirous of visiting Yanceyville as our friends in Caswell are to come to Reidsville, and a good sandclay road the whole way will serve to widen our mutual horizons, and break down the only barriers that now serve to hinder closer social relations with our good friends in Caswell county.

Promoting Livestock Farming.

Mississippi proposes to move out of crop farming merely or mainly and to occupy the next higher level of farm civilization, that of livestock farming. Diversified cropping in a region understocked with farm animals is a sentimental not an economic proposition. And marketing feed crops on four legs is far ahead of marketing such crops on four wheels.

In the census years North Carolina was 37 per cent below the level of even lightly stocked farms, which is one animal unit to every five acres; and Mississippi was still further behind.

But in 1916 the increases in Mississippi farm animals over the numbers of the census year were as follows: Dairy cows 4 per cent, sheep 5 per cent, horses 12 per cent, mules 14 per cent, and swine 25 per cent. Strange to say the meat cattle decreased during this period. But the gain of 325,000 swine in five years is wonderful.

But the gain in livestock grades was even more wonderful than the gain in numbers; and in this particular Mr. Davis and Point Comfort 14 have made Mississippi famous. Everywhere we found the papers commenting upon the importation of high-bred sires.

Indeed, Mississippi impressed us as awake and alert about this matter of livestock farming. The bankers are financing the Pig Club boys and the Baby-Beef Clubs. They evidently believe that livestock is a safe bet.

Nearly half the counties are already tick-free, and in 1917 Mississippi, like Louisiana, goes under a State-wide tick eradication law. In the month of May nearly 600,000 cattle were dipped. That is to say, more than half the cattle in the State were dipped in a single month.

The State has not done so well in agricultural industries—creameries, condenseries, cheese factories, and the like. We located only 11 butter factories in the State, and only one of those was a co-operative concern.

This particular creamery is located on the A. & M. campus. The college is campaigning livestock farming, dairy industries, and co-operative enterprises with rare vigor and wisdom.—University News Letter.

COUNTY FAIR PREMIUM LIST NOW READY FOR THE PUBLIC

The premium list of the third annual Rockingham County Fair for October 3-7, 1916, will be mailed on request.

The management desires to state to the public that the aim of the Association is to make each fair bigger and better than its predecessor and consequently is spending more money in each department.

Seven large tents will be used to house the exhibits, which will give ample space for attractive displays in every department.

The most thrilling attractions that money can buy will be brought here for this occasion, including aeroplane flights, balloon ascensions, fire-works and numerous other out-door features.

Instead of booking a carnival company, as most fairs do, the management is booking a large number of independent shows and concessions which will make a clean, attractive midway.

Address C. P. Robertson, Spray, N. C.

The manager of the Grande Theatre is to be congratulated for the best program of pictures that has ever been run in Reidsville, and as a result this popular Theatre is showing to packed houses every night.

The State Fair.

The State Fair is purely the people's institution. The money it earns is put into the enlargement and improvement of the equipment. Its object is solely the advancement of the State. Mr. Tufts gets nothing from his work for the Fair. Surely where a man is giving his time, his money and his ability, the newspapers can back him for the common good. Let us join this movement for the welfare of the State. See that your community has an exhibit at the Fair this fall even if it is small. Read the premium list and tell your folks what they can exhibit. You can afford to help develop your county. Look what the bankers are doing. It comes back to you in a very short time.—Raleigh Chamber of Commerce.
