

NEWS OF REIDSVILLE AND ROCKINGHAM

They are doing it early all right. Sixteen shopping days till Christmas.

The wise shopper has already shopped. Mr. Robt. Hairston spent Thanksgiving in Roanoke.

Miss Helen Moore is visiting relatives in Goldsboro. DeVoe predicts unusually rough weather during this month.

Master Benton Pipkin is sick with pneumonia, we regret to learn. Mrs. J. G. Staples has returned from a visit to friends in Danville.

Mr. Z. H. Neal of South Boston, Va., was a week-end visitor here. Don't send away for that Christmas present. You can get it here.

Mrs. L. J. Sands has returned from a visit to relatives at Chatham, Va. Mrs. Robt. Hairston has returned from a delightful visit in Martinsville.

Miss Hunter Irvin of Greensboro spent the week-end here with relatives. Mr. Wm. Giles is in Greensboro this week serving on the Federal Court jury.

The officer with his stop-watch on Main or Lindsey can get 'em coming and going. Several chauffeurs hereabouts need something beside stop-watches pulled on them.

The streets will not get rid of the dust nuisance until it gets rid of the speed nuisance. Miss Minnie Williamson of Burlington spent Sunday here with Mrs. Jno. G. Staples.

Mr. M. A. Apple of Fuquay Springs has been spending a few days here with his family. Miss Lucy Irvin has returned to the "Meadows" after spending a few days here with her parents.

Miss Evelyn Fleming has returned to her home in Milton after a visit to Miss Ruth Hairston. Mrs. A. G. Walters of Jackson, Miss., is spending some time here with relatives and friends.

Mrs. Edd Glass has returned to her home in Mississippi after an extended visit with friends here. Mr. Z. V. Gwynn, a prominent tobaccoist of Durham, spent the week-end on a visit to his mother here.

Mrs. R. D. Gault and children will return today from a visit to Greenville, S. C., and Charlotte. Unless all signs fails, the following few months will bring forth winter in all its fury. Better prepare for it.

Mr. J. H. Griffith, a prominent farmer of near Ruffin, was a pleasant caller at The Review office Saturday. The weather continues mild and clear. This has been the most favorable fall for outdoor work we ever knew.

Mr. G. C. McIntyre of Route 1, one of The Review's most loyal friends, honored us with a brief call Saturday. Mr. Rufus Trent of Ridgeway, Va., is now with Trent and Trent and will be glad to have his friends call and see him while in town.

Mr. and Mrs. R. I. Dalley of Townsboro, N. C., have returned to Reidsville. Mr. Dalley has accepted a position with Gardner's drug store. The play, "A Woman Won't," will be given at Apple's School on Friday night, Dec. 8th, for the benefit of the Wentworth parsonage. Public invited.

Box party at Hickory Grove School house Saturday night, Dec. 9. Proceeds for benefit of the school. Everybody invited to come and bring boxes. Get your dinner and supper at the bazaar on Dec. 7 and 8 (Thursday and Friday) in the Booster Band hall. Oysters, salad course and ice cream.

Mr. M. C. Simpson of Route 2 averaged $26 for a load of tobacco here Friday. He honored The Review office with a pleasant visit while in town. Rev. and Mrs. J. F. Kirk of Statesville will arrive at the M. E. parsonage Friday. Mr. Kirk will preach his first sermon at the Main Street M. E. church Sunday morning.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church will give their annual bazaar on Dec. 7 and 8 (Thursday and Friday) in the Booster Band hall. Buy your presents for Christmas there. Col. Frank L. Lambeth of Thomasville spent Saturday afternoon here with his son, Rev. W. A. Lambeth, who is preparing to move to Salisbury as pastor of the First M. E. church there.

Mrs. Cora W. Johnston has gone to Haw River and will attend the funeral of Mr. A. W. Haywood at Raleigh tomorrow. Mr. Haywood, who was a son-in-law of the late Governor Holt, died Sunday. The Whittemore-Mobley Hardware Company announce a demonstration of the famous South Bend Malleable Range which will be held at their store this week beginning on Wednesday and lasting until Tuesday.

The South Bend is one of the most popular ranges on the market, and a cordial invitation is extended housekeepers to call and see the practical demonstration that will be made on them this week. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bethell are now occupying Mrs. Blanche Law's residence, Main and Lindsey streets. Mrs. Law will make her home in Atlantic City.

Remember this paper issues vote orders in the Co-Operative Trading Campaign Contest on all subscriptions sent in. The contest closes Saturday, the 9th inst. Dr. E. P. McBane, veterinarian, has decided to move to Greensboro from Reidsville and will practice his profession in that community. Our people regret very much to see Dr. McBane leave Reidsville.

Lieut. Chas. T. Somers will arrive Wednesday from El Paso, Texas, having been granted a thirty days' leave of absence on account of the illness of his mother, who is confined to her home with pneumonia. The Danville Register and Bee Co-Operative Trading Contest closes on Saturday, the 9th inst. This is the last week to secure votes. Both The Review and The Review-Observer issue vote orders on subscriptions when sent in.

The Iron Works Mill, which was destroyed by fire some time ago, has been rebuilt and is now running again. Mr. J. R. Shreve, the proprietor, has a new ad. in today's paper announcing the reopening of this famous old mill. Not only the people of Reidsville should visit the Grande Theatre on Thursday, Dec. 7th, but all country people within reach of Reidsville should take an evening off to see the most wonderful picture that has ever been produced. 15 and 25c.

Mr. T. M. Jones left Saturday for Burlington, where he becomes superintendent of the Virginia Life Insurance Company's office in that district. He is succeeded here by Mr. K. K. Liveley of Burlington, who will move his family here in a few days. Prices on tobacco are the highest of the season. Notwithstanding a heavy proportion of very common types of tobacco, the breaks each day are averaging well over $20 per hundred. Friday's sales were quite heavy and everybody was highly pleased with returns.

The Presbyterian ladies will hold their annual bazaar in the Booster Band apartments on Dec. 7, where there will be on display a line of beautiful and useful gifts. The ladies have decided to mark the prices 'way down, so those who seek some real bargains should be on hand on the 7th and 8th. A combination hearse and ambulance was driven through Reidsville Friday night, en route to High Point. It is a handsome vehicle, electrically lighted, and has side seats and room for a cot. The driver, who is an auto dealer of High Point, expected to drive through during the night. He brought the car from Philadelphia.

The people of Reidsville should feel complimented that the Grande Theatre has at last secured for them that world famous moral picture, "Where Are My Children?" Endorsed and recommended by the leading clergymen of the county, that every man and woman should see. Exhibited at Grande Theatre Thursday, December 7th. Shop early and buy it at home. This should be the slogan of every man, woman and child who love their home town and would see it prosper. Our local merchants have prepared as never before to take care of the Christmas shopper and the person who cannot be suited by the local merchants is truly hard to please.

Rev. F. L. Townsend, the newly appointed preacher in charge of the Wentworth circuit, has sent word that he and his family will arrive at the Wentworth parsonage on next Thursday, Dec. 7th. The ladies of the circuit are cordially invited to see at the parsonage Thursday to extend a welcome to Mrs. Townsend. It is hoped that every one that can go will be there to greet the new pastor. Cards have been received here from Mr. Charles Brown Flintoff of Caswell county, announcing the marriage of his daughter, Parlee, to Mr. Irvin Wilson Cobb of Danville, Va., on Wednesday, November 29th, at the Jefferson Hotel, Richmond, Va. Mr. and Mrs. Cobb will be at their home after Dec. 5, in Danville. The bridegroom is connected with the A. T. Co. in Danville and is well known in social and fraternal as well as in business circles. His bride has resided in Danville for several years, having been educated for the profession of nursing at the General Hospital there, from the training school of which she was graduated nearly a year ago.

On Saturday afternoon Miss Edna King entertained in honor of her house guest, Miss Eva Teague, of Leona. Rook was played. At the conclusion it was found Miss Watlington had won the highest score. She was presented a dainty crepe-de-chine handkerchief. The guest of honor was presented handkerchiefs also. A lovely ice course was served. Miss King's guests were: Miss Eva Teague, Miss Wilson Watlington, Miss Kittie Mae Irvin, Miss Marian Wray, Miss Lucy Wray, Miss Ruth Rawley, Miss Marguerite Penn, Miss Susie Stokes, Miss Minnie Lee Whittemore, Miss Ruth Burton, Mrs. Dave Shreve and Mrs. W. L. Glancey. Mr. J. H. Newnam, of Madison Route Two, called in Monday to subscribe for the Old Reliable. Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Wilson of Greensboro and Mr. R. L. Goolsby of Pleasantville, spent the week-end with their mother, Mrs. J. W. Watkins, near Oregon.

Mrs. Chas. H. Balsley, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Balsley, Mr. Wm. A. Balsley and Mrs. Kate H. Balsley returned from Thomasville to attend the funeral of Mrs. Keen, a sister of Mrs. Kate H. Balsley.

The marriage of Mr. Thomas Rankin of Reidsville and Miss Louise Anderson will take place Tuesday night of this week at the home of the bride's parents in Greensboro. The marriage of Miss Edie Anderson and Mr. L. Cutler, both of Greensboro, occurs on the evening of the 19th of December.

Mr. Bethel Withers, a clever young knight-of-the-grip and a rising politician of Rockingham county, and otherwise a pretty good citizen, spent the forenoon in Mocksville today on business, giving the Enterprise office a pleasant call. Already Mr. Withers' friends are hailing him as the next sheriff of Old Rockingham.—Mocksville Enterprise.

Squire W. D. Hightower officiated at a double-barrel wedding Sunday night. The contracting parties were Mr. F. D. Trent and Miss Mary Price Green and Mr. Wert Childress and Miss Helen Johnson, all from Phoenix, Va. The young people came in on train No. 43, and after spending a few hours in the city returned to their Virginia homes to seek forgiveness of their parents.

Mrs. Fannie Bulter was hostess at a miscellaneous shower given by "The Do As You Please Club Friday, Nov. 24, in honor of Miss Jewel McCollum, the bride-to-be. The parlor was beautifully decorated in potted plants. After an hour spent in sewing, a delicious salad course was served. Then the prospective bride was led to a table where she found many pretty gifts—such as made the heart of a bride glad.

Between now and January 1 many subscriptions to The Review will expire. We hope all of our subscribers will promptly renew their subscriptions and save us the expense of sending out statements. The present cost of print paper leaves no margin of profit whatever on our regular subscription price and we can not afford to send the paper longer than the time paid for. Please renew promptly. The date of expiration will be found on the address.

The paving on Main street is being finished up this week and that street will soon be turned over to the auto speeders. As the stop watches have all stopped the residents of Main street are raising a purse to give in prizes to the most reckless drivers. The prizes will be awarded on the basis of speed, but bashed and broken bones will add considerable points to the score of the competing chauffeurs. Also the force of the exhaust noises of the motors will be reckoned in the awards. No interference from the officers is apprehended. Messrs. J. N. Watt, E. M. Redd and W. J. Irvin will award the prizes.

The last message of Rev. W. A. Lambeth's ministry in Reidsville was delivered to an immense audience on Sunday night. In his honor other churches of the town were closed. The subject of his discourse was "The Abundant Life". In forceful manner he told of life's opportunity, its chance of helpfulness to others, thereby developing self, and finally of the promotion that awaits in the vast beyond all those who have faithfully served both God and fellowman. The sermon was but the spoken thought of what has been the daily life of Mr. Lambeth in Reidsville, and seldom has he given his hearers so true a perception of the crystal clearness of his heart and mind. In his fine sensitiveness to all that is good and beautiful, and the breadth and strength of his thought, one felt his harmony with God. A more splendid message could not have been selected with which to close his truly useful ministry here.

The time, when advertisers can make the most, is when the people have plenty of money and the masses enjoy high wages, and are in the mood to use their great purchasing power. Now is the time to advertise in this paper because people were never so well employed, the country never had so much wealth and advertising never has the business-pulling power that it has today.

When you have anything to sell, advertise in our Business Builders, five cents per line for one insertion; 10 cents per line for three insertions.
