Manufacturer Tells What Country Can Turn Out Daily.

"The United States is in a far better position than any other nation has ever been in times of peace," said Guy E. Tripp, chairman of the board of an important electric and manufacturing company, recently. "So far as my knowledge goes," he added, "there are in this country greater facilities already established, operated by large organizations having experience in the manufacture of munitions of war, than have ever before existed in any country not actually at war. "In our own company alone, and we are only one out of a great many, we have facilities immediately available which have a machine capacity of 2,000 six-inch high explosive shells per day, and there will be available on April 1, after the completion of a contract we now have in hand, additional facilities with a proved capacity of 5,000 eight-inch and 125 twelve-inch shells per day. One branch of our company, which is now engaged in manufacturing rifles for Russia, has an ultimate capacity of between 6,000 and 7,000 per day."

Wrecked and Refloated by Ocean.

A New German Super-Zappellin.

If the Thurgauer Zeitung is to be credited, says the Scientific American, a new super-Zappellin has recently been tried over Lake Constance. Observers on the Swiss shore report that the ship has four gondolas, under the foremost of which was suspended a small car, apparently intended to be lowered for observation purposes. It is stated that a definite arrangement is installed in chambers built in the sides of the envelope and that at the stern of the vessel was suspended an air plane which on being released flew away inland.

OREGON

The debate at Oak Grove on Friday night was enjoyed by quite a crowd of eager listeners. The query was Resolved, That Washington deserves more honor for defending his country than Columbus did for discovering it. Washington was made to outshine all in his glory by James Smith and his colleagues, and it was very easy to see that he was the first man of the nation in the hearts of these speakers. While the negative side, led by J. W. Somers, gave great credit to their hero, they could not shade the great leader of the people; so said the judges who voted 2 to 1 in favor of the affirmative.

There will be a mock trial at Oak Grove School House Saturday night March 31st. A pig has been stolen or not stolen as the case may be. However, the culprit will sure get justice, the case will be tried by real lawyers. The public is cordially invited.

REIDSVILLE'S WATER SUPPLY

A few days ago it was mentioned in these columns that the seventh grade pupils were making a study of Reidsville's water supply, in connection with their study of hygiene. Below is submitted a report made by a young citizen on that subject. All the pupils submitted reports which were well worth publishing. This one has been selected as being the best all-round report.

The source of the water supply of Reidsville is Big Troublesome Creek about four miles south of here. This place was chosen because it was the nearest place where an abundant supply could be obtained.

At the source the water is very dirty but it is not polluted. The water runs into a wooden race, the mouth of which is covered with wire netting to keep out trash, leaves, sticks, etc. The water runs through this race to a twelve inch wooden pipe covered with tar and sawdust and is pumped to Reidsville by a large electric motor which runs continuously eighteen out of every twenty-four hours.

When the water reaches the town it runs into a settling basin, having a capacity of 150,000 gallons. In this basin the alum is put in to settle the mud. After that the water goes through a gate into another settling basin which holds also 150,000 gallons. In this basin the chloride of lime is put in to kill the infectious bacteria.

After running through both settling basins the water runs into a filtering basin. Here the water soaks through four feet of sand and seeps through ten lateral pipes.

After running through this sand basin the water runs into the clear basins holding 500,000 gallons.

The water, after going through this process, which takes about four hours, is comparatively pure. It is analyzed every month by the State Board of Hygiene. The analysis for the month of January was the best for some time.

From the clear basin the water is pumped into the tank or into the patrons' homes. Some of the water we use comes from the tank but the most of it is pumped directly from the clear basin.

The town's loss on the water plant for the year of 1916 was $6,347.49 but this loss was made up by a gain on the light plant.

Some reasons for this loss are leaking pipes, leaking fire hydrants, and fat rates in the houses. The town also loses some of its revenue by free use of water in the public schools extinguishing fires and sprinkling the streets.

The school children should be careful not to use any more water than necessary.

I am very grateful to you for sending me the little book—the advice and instructions it gives would teach anyone how to get well and how to keep well."
