

LEAKSVILLE-SPRAY

In ceremony marked by exceptional beauty, Miss Dorothea Trent, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Trent Leaksville and William T. Goodman of Norfolk, Va., were wedded at eight o'clock in the presence of a large company of relatives and friends.

The entire lower floor of this beautiful home was thrown ensemble and a veritable fairy land presented itself. Masses of lovely spring flowers were lavishly used with telling effect being placed in every available nook. The decorations were under the direction of Mrs. Frances Johnson of Charleston, S. C., sister of the bride.

Proceeding the entrance of the bridal party, Mrs. C. W. Stanley, of Danville, sweetly sang, "Beloved It is Morn" accompanied by Mrs. A. T. Hopper. At the sounding of the first strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, the little ribbon bearers, Misses Roselyn Trent and Edith Matlock, faintly clad in white and blue tulle, entered forming an aisle for the bridal party. Next came the maids, Miss Mabel Page of Charlotte, attractive in pink georgette crepe, and Miss Eva Guster of Danville, exquisite in lavender chiffon, each carrying pink roses. Entering alone came the maid of honor, Miss Grace Trent, who wore a gown of green chiffon taffeta and tulle and carried an armful of Killarney roses. The bride entered on the arm of her brother, J. A. Trent of High Point, and was met at the altar by the groom, accompanied, by his brother, J. D. Goodman, of Norfolk, who acted as best man.

The ride was beautiful in her wedding gown, which was an elegant creation of tulle and seed pearls over silver tissue. Her veil was caught with a wreath of orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of valley lilies and Brides roses. The ceremony was impressively performed by Rev. J. E. Hicks, D. D., of Danville.

A lovely reception immediately followed the ceremony. The guests were directed to the dining room by Mrs. M. A. Trent of Roanoke, Va., where Mrs. A. E. Millner and Mrs. S. A. Waller presided and were assisted by Misses Katherine Waller, Ruby and Kathleen Ivie in serving a delicious ice course.

The bride and groom motored to Reidsville from where they left for an extended tour of New York and other points and will return by way of Norfolk.

Prior to the wedding a beautiful luncheon was given the bridal party at 5 o'clock by Mrs. J. L. Trent. Covers were laid for twenty, and five elegantly appointed courses were served.

GROOM'S

Wheat crops are looking fine in this vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Chatman of Reidsville were visitors at the home of the latter's brother, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Hopper Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Celius Stanfield of McIver was a visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wall Saturday and Sunday. The circus at Reidsville next Thursday, April 12, is being talked considerably in our neighborhood and likely by a large congregation will attend from this vicinity.

Miss Laura and Lucy Wall were visitors at Mr. W. L. Hooper's Sunday. All aboard for Sparks Circus next Thursday.

"A Japanese Flower Garden"

This beautiful, musical extravaganza will be brought to Reidsville Friday night, April 13.

Miss Martha Taylor, the leader and music directress will accompany the "Flowers" and do not miss hearing the songs and seeing the dancing specialties.

A few nights ago the following conversation was overheard:

Who'll make 'em thrill?
"I," said the chorus, "With my turn and trill,
I'll make 'em thrill!"

Who'll make 'em clap?
"I," said the Poppy, "With my skip and 'hoppy'—
I'll make 'em clap!"

Who'll make 'em laugh?
"I," said the Lilly with my dance so silly—
I'll make 'em laugh!"

Who'll hold 'em tense?
"I," said the Butterfly, "When I soar and flutter high—
I'll hold 'em tense!"

Who'll feast the eye?
"I," said the Rose, "I'm the fairest flower that blows—
I'll feast the eye!"

Who'll point the moral?
"I," said the Laurel, "With my foolish quarrel—
I'll point the moral!"

Who'll bring the "pep"?
"I," said the Fifty, "With my 'fancy step'—
I'll guarantee the Pep!"

SUNSHINE AND SHOWERS

Life is no mystery. Life is no burden.

But life is what we make it;
It's either a blessing or a curse,
It depends on how we take it.
We spend today reviewing the past
With much regret and sorrow.
And in our weakness we often dread—
The dawning of "unseen tomorrow."

And thus so many of us are living
In the haunted house of imagination,
Bearing each day the burden of worry
As tho' worrying would change the situation.

'Tis true we cannot see the future,
And dark may seem the coming years,
But we should strive to scatter smiles
Although they may come through tears.

True indeed are the poet's words,
"Into each life some rain must fall"
But whether there be sunshine or showers,
Let us be cheerful through them all.
The beautiful flowers won't always bloom,

Neither will the birds always sing,
But if we never had the winter—
We could not see the beauty of spring.

How could we ever show our courage
If our way was always bright?
Many, many stars are never seen
Until we have the darkest night.
And in this life the stars are they
Who faithfully fight until the end.
Hardships are as a drifting process
That separates cowards from the men.

The most of us can wear a smite
When the day seems bright before us,
When the flowers are blooming everywhere—
And the cloudless blue spreads o'er us;

But those who wear a victor's crown
And win for themselves the praise,
Are those who fight through darkest night
And smile through darkest days.

Although in life somewhere we must
Meet with dark and gloomy hours,
The God is just who gives to us
Both the sunshine and the showers;
And we should be thankful for the hardships,

For those about us can never tell
The real true worth that we possess,
As long as everything goes well.
The hand that brings the clouds of darkness
Doth also the sunshine send,
And weary ways like summer days,
Must surely come to an end.

Then let us face life's storms with courage,
Let us tread where the heroes trod
Let's faithfully fight through the darkness of night
And trust in the Living God.

Constipation and Indigestion
These are twin evils. Persons suffering from indigestion are often troubled with constipation. Mrs. Robert Allison, Mattoon, Ill., writes that when she first moved to Mattoon she was a great sufferer from indigestion and constipation. Food distressed her and there was a feeling like a heavy weight pressing on her stomach and chest. She did not rest well at night, and felt worn out a good part of the time. One bottle of Chamberlain's Tablets corrected this trouble so that she has since felt like a different person.

Surely Not.
"What's your hurry?"
"I have an engagement with Patience."

"In that case there's no hurry. Patience surely won't mind waiting."

BIGGEST IN AMERICA

There are some wonderful lions with The Sparks World's Famous Shows that will exhibit here April 12th at the Burton Show grounds. They are not only of amazing size and beauty but they have been trained to do some of the most thrilling acts ever presented to an audience. Herr Fritz Brunner, the world's greatest lion tamer, was born and raised in the jungles of equatorial Africa, and from childhood was accustomed to hear the roars of the man-eating kings of the forests that prowled about his cabin at night. His father once captured some lion cubs which he trained to aid him in his hunting expeditions. Thus reared the boy naturally became a lion tamer and hunter. Selecting some cubs of the largest species known, he reared them and educated them to perform feats that would illustrate the amazing strength and agility of these beasts.

During the performance of the Sparks Shows a group of these monster animals will be turned loose in the great steel enclosure in full view of the audience. Herr Brunner will enter this enclosure, unarmed, and put these lion through some astonishing performances. It is the most thrilling act of the kind ever seen and will never be forgotten by the beholder.

Like every other act and feature presented with the Sparks Shows it is far away from and superior to anything of the kind ever seen before. There are numerous other trained animal acts in which tigers, leopards, hyenas, tremendous elephants, etc., will obey the commands of their fearless masters.

Mrs. Martha N. Brände
It is with a sad heart I attempt to write the death of a dear mother who departed this life, March the twenty-fifth, 1917, making her stay on earth some fifty years. She leaves nine children, five boys and four girls, and two sisters and a host of friends to mourn her loss. She had been in failing health for some time and on Saturday, March 17, she was taken with pneumonia and only lived a week from that time. She was taken but little did we think she was reaching the end. They did everything in their power but nothing seemed to do any good.

She was kind, considerate, and faithful in every relation of life. Only those that were acquainted with her knew of her patience, kindness and her love for that which was right. She was a faithful mother, a devoted sister and loving friend. She will be missed by her neighbors, and especially her children. If she ever had an enemy we did not know it. God sent his angels and called her home to rest where all his loved ones are. We sadly miss her yet we could not wish her back with us for we have evidence enough to believe she is at rest and we feel our loss is her eternal gain. May God in His mercy comfort her and her children, and that He may make them feel that their loved one was taken from them to make heaven rearer and dearer to them and may they try to prepare to meet her in that blessed world where they will part no more.

A precious one from them is gone,
A voice they loved is stilled;
A place is vacant in their home,
Which never can be filled.
