Attorney J. R. Joyce has been notified by Mr. Santford Martin, private secretary to Governor Bickett, that Bud Casstevens of Reidsville has been granted a pardon. Casstevens was convicted along with young Jarrell, the Caswell county youth, who wrote the famous "hunger" letter to Governor Bickett some time ago.

The Reidsville ball team goes to Mayodan Saturday, April 28th, to play the first game of the season. The boys have been at hard practice the past month and are now in good trim. Everything looks toward a winning team this go-round. The season will open here Saturday, May 5th with Stokesdale. Get your season ticket.

The following pupils of the fourth grade have had perfect written spelling lessons for the month of April: Susie Sharp, Frances Wray, Margaret Fels, Louise Tesh, Isabel Hubbard, Julia Haskins, Virginia Whitsett, Anna Montgomery, Virginia Newell, Emma Pillar, Janie Sands, Lindsey Smith, Mable Perkins, Mary Strader, Virginia Waynick.

Mr. W. W. Dallas of the Summerfield section called into to see us Monday. He tells us that Mr. Charlie Harris of his neighborhood has a calf with only three legs which is quite a curiosity and has attracted considerable attention. The calf is now five weeks old and is active and healthy. It has only one front leg—the place where the other leg should be being only a short nub.

In deciding this great question of future policy of town government—municipal ownership of public utilities, or private ownership of public utilities—our citizens should not be influenced by ties of friendship or even of blood kinship in voting for town commissioners in this particular election. Vote the ticket that represents your individual views on the specific issue now before the public!

At the regular meeting of the Irving Literary Society last week the famous Trial Scene from "The Merchant of Venice" was presented by students from the 9th grade. The cast of characters was as follows: The Duke of Venice, King Carter; Antonio, Archie Wilkinson; Bassanio, Vernon Link; Shylock, Joseph Fels; Shylock, Frank Hall; Gratiano, William Hester; Clerk, Jasper Roberts; Portia, Mary Stokes; Nerissa, Nina Rochelle.

A trip to the country today would convince the most hardened pessimist that the farmers are doing their share to relieve the threatened shortage in food stuffs. Practically every foot of land is being plowed and cultivated by the farmers of this county and section of the State. New land has been brought into cultivation by clearing off rubbish, and in some cases, forest lands. The farmers have entered into the spirit of preparedness with a vim and apparent earnestness that will produce the greatest yield in the history of the country. They have learned that the soldier on the battlefield is not to carry on the war alone, and the spirit shown by

NO. 13. Reidsville, N. C. By G. W. BRITAIN

The "You're in Love" company up to the immediate present, has not established a recruiting station in Reidsville, but is perhaps on the way. Why not try the plan? New York has found it the very thing for gaining recruits, and if they in the East have done so well, why not try it here in our Southland where we have greater attractions? The plan of the "You're in Love" company is that "Three little Maids" from school or not, who are patriotic and not over shy, to daily attend the recruiting office and offer a kiss for a recruit.

The Grande Theatre played to full houses at every show Tuesday at the great picture, "War Brides." This picture is one of those great war pictures that brings to our own home the horrors as they are actually happening in every day life in the war stricken countries of Europe. This picture showed actual facts and not fiction and those who were so fortunate to gain entrance will not forget the horrors of war any too soon.

M. Mims, the oldest resident of Caswell county, 97 years of age, and who lives near Yanceyville, was in Danville today to see some of his friends, now few because of the farmer's longevity. Mims, who incidentally has been a subscriber to the local paper for forty years, was born in 1820 and is as active today as many a man of forty or fifty. He is a Confederate veteran, being wounded four times in the war. He does not consider that he has passed his fighting days, for he stated this morning that he was ready to do his bit if he should be required to.—Danville Bee.

Miss Sadie King was at home Wednesday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Henry Clark and Miss Edna King, a bride of next month. The house was beautifully decorated in flowers. Rook and bridge were played, at the conclusion of which, Mrs. Kitty Mae Irvin and Miss Susie Stokes tied for the prize. Miss Irvin proved to be the lucky one, and was presented with a box of dainty handkerchiefs. Both honorees were also given handkerchiefs. A delicious salad course was served, followed by ice cream and cake. The invited guests were: Misses Blair Spencer, Minnie Lee Whittemore, Ruth Rawley, Kitty Mae Irvin, Lucy Wray, Marguerite Penn, Susie Stokes, Gladys, Ruth and Kate Burton.
