

NEWS OF REIDSVILLE AND ROCKINGHAM

Baseball Friday and Saturday. Don't forget the Red Cross benefit picture Thursday night at the Grande. If you fail to visit the Grande today, you will certainly be sorry for it. The Candy Kitchen is putting in a new tiled floor in their store room on Scales street. Red Feather feature today. (Thursday) at the Grande. "The Flower of Doom" in five reels. Sadler and Stacy Sunday Schools will picnic at Sadler on Friday, July 20th. The public is invited to attend. The Grande Theatre will give a Red Feather Feature picture Thursday night for the benefit of the Red Cross work. There will be a dance at the C. & A. hall Friday night of this week. Music will be furnished by the Hooper Band. The pastor, Rev. L. I. Cox, will fill his regular appointment at the Reidsville Christian church next Sunday at 11 o'clock a. m. and at 8 p. m. The public cordially invited. R. M. Hudson Co., of Atlanta and Reidsville, has just been awarded the contract for paving the streets at the military cantonment in Columbia, S. C. The contract price is $250,000. A correction in last week's list of officers should be Mr. Francis Womack, chairman and Mr. Eugene Irvin treasurer. Mrs. J. C. Mills is the active head of the Red Cross chapter. The Grande has secured for Friday night of this week King Cole, the world's greatest virtuoso and his partner, Jerry. If you have a gripe or think you are laughing-proof see them. This will be run in addition to the regular pictures. Cora Andrews, who has been a faithful servant for the family of Mr. E. F. Hall for 29 years, died Monday night. She was a fine type of the old Southern colored woman and was a great favorite among the white people. She was a faithful member of the first colored Baptist church, where her funeral was conducted Tuesday evening. Miss Agnes Martin, Miss Eva Martin, their house guest, Miss Leon Simpson of Rogersville, Tenn., Miss Katherine Klingman, Trace Mebane, Clarence Martin and Mat Lasley, of Winston-Salem, formed a motoring party Sunday to Florengate, the country home of Miss Gladys Cummings and Paul Cummings, of Reidsville, where they spent the day.—Greensboro News. Mr. B. Frank Davis has returned from a week's automobile trip to Eastern North Carolina. He was accompanied by his sister, Miss Annie, and his adopted son, Allen. Mr. Davis reports very fine crop prospects in that section, especially in corn and tobacco. Prices on the new crop on the Eastern Carolina tobacco markets are starting off very satisfactory, he says. Some of the first primings sold as high as $25. The average person should drink more water in the summer than in the colder months of the year, to supplement nature's efforts to wash the body through the pores. Drink cool, but not ice, water. The greatest danger from ice water is its excessive use. To persons who are overheated or work in high temperatures, ice water may be dangerous. It may produce congestion, better known as cramps of the stomach. The store room formerly occupied by Miles Racket Store on Scales street (which was burned several months ago) is being rebuilt. A handsome pressed white brick front is being put in by Contractor Fulk and when completed it will be one of the most attractive stores in the city. Mr. Cosmo Benson has leased it for five years and plans to move into it some time in August. He will carry a stock of fancy groceries, fresh meats and all kinds of fruits and vegetables. As President Wilson has issued a proclamation calling for national guard organizations of North Carolina to the federal service July 25, officers of the Reidsville military company are expecting to receive orders from headquarters within the next few days, stating all details regarding where they will mobilize and the many other matters that will be necessary. Preparations will begin in the next two or three days by the company, so that when the time comes to leave the city, they may have Poor Battery E. First Virginia field artillery. It gets its reward where Sally wore the beads. Think of having formed a most splendid company of as fine fighting material as ever faced an enemy, when ready for actual service to have them handed the old time salutation that "NO IRISH NEED APPLY" or just as discouraging. Now where the why? We didn't ken, and did we ken, we could not change the why. 'Tis claimed "every dog has its day" and perhaps?

Well we learn that in Muscat, the capitol of Oman on the Persian gulf is the hottest place on earth its inhabitants repair to cellars at the noon hour and remain till sundown. Wonder if they have any Ice Cream Jews in that city? Now an Ice Cream Jew, is sold here in Reidsville probably every half minute. So rejoice, be glad indeed for and Ice Cream (Cohen, tone) Walk this way Napoleon plenty of Ice Water, Free and served from the most sanitary cooler made.

A Durham contractor is entertaining estimates for the contract of building a $400,000 tobacco factory at Reidsville. The enterprise will enlarge the facilities for manufacturing of cigarettes in the Rockingham town. The structure will be five stories high and constructed of brick and steel. The building will probably be in readiness by fall. It is perhaps the biggest construction item commanding the attention of contractors in the State just now.—Durham Cor. News and Observer.

There is a serious situation among our manufacturers owing to a car shortage. The government is requiring an immense number of cars to haul lumber and other supplies to the new cantonments which is curtailing the supply for commercial freights. Drastic measures have been taken by the railways in the matter of shipments and all cars must be loaded to capacity. Some delays in shipments of manufactured tobacco have been experienced by the local factories, but it is thought a sufficient number of cars can be obtained in the near future.

Today Mr. W. M. Knight and his son, J. S. Knight, came into Greensboro from their Rockingham farm on business. The Messrs Knight are the biggest tobacco growers in Rockingham county. This year have over one hundred acres in the weed and will cure about two hundred barns. But tobacco is not all they raise. This year they have harvested over 2,000 bushels of wheat and have other things like oats and vegetables in plenty. They have shown the people in their section that intelligent farming brings results and in these days of high prices brings the coin as well.—Greensboro Record.

This week's program of baseball consists of games here with Draper on Friday and Stokesdale on Saturday which means that Reidsville people have a great treat in store if they want something exciting. Harry Miller is going to make a desperate attempt to "come back" on his old home diamond—and he may do so. It will be recalled that last Saturday the strong Mayodan team secured only three bingles off his delivery. He thinks he will nose out a glorious victory Friday against Reidsville. It is unnecessary to say anything about Saturday's game. Stokesdale always has been Reidsville's most dangerous foe.

James Brown of Schoolfield and Floyd Axom and Joe Garver both of Draper were arrested Wednesday at Schoolfield by Southern Railway Officer Amos Jackson charged with car robbery. The three men will be given a hearing before Magistrate R. S. Fitts at Schoolfield early next week. The men are charged with stealing from a traveling car four or five cases of shoes shipped from Lynchburg and valued at approximately $250. Jackson says he can produce eye witnesses who saw the men in the box car throwing off cases as the freight train pulled its way up towards Pelham. Part of the stolen goods have been recovered, it is understood. The men were remanded to jail pending a hearing.

Mr. W. W. Boyles is in receipt of a letter from his wife, who is visiting relatives in Stokes county, telling of a most destructive hail storm that visited that section (five miles West of Moore's Springs) Monday afternoon. The growing crops were literally destroyed and wiped of existence and tin roofs were riddled like sieves. Some of the hail remained on the ground until the next morning.

Mr. Major T. Smith, a well-known young attorney, has been elected temporary secretary by the directors of the Commercial & Agricultural Association to succeed Secretary Dunn. Mr. Smith will, of course, continue the practice of law, but will temporarily move his law office to the C. & A. rooms. Mr. Smith will look after the association's affairs, welcome visitors to the rest rooms and otherwise perform the duties of the secretary until such time as the directors decide to employ a regular official.

Mr. J. T. Matkins, a well known Reidsville citizen died suddenly Monday afternoon from apoplexy. Mr. Matkins was ploughing in his corn field near the Thompsonville road when the sudden summons came. He was aloof and it is not known just when the end came. His body was found about 7 o'clock Monday afternoon. He had the plow lines in his hands and the faithful horse was standing patiently where he had been stopped. Mr. Matkins was 65 years old and was a splendid citizen. He leaves a widow and one brother, Mr. J. D. Matkins of McIver. The funeral services were conducted from the East End Christian church Tuesday by the pastor, Rev. L. I. Cox, assisted by the pastors of all the other local churches. Interment was made at Lowe's church cemetery.

A First Consideration.

A teacher who was firmly convinced that a knowledge of the paintings and sculpture of the world was as essential as the "rule of three" had been explaining to her young wards some of the history connected with Rodin's famous statue, "The Thinker." She then asked the children what they thought he was thinking about. "Oh, I know," replied one little girl. "He's lost his clothes, and he's wondering where he's going to get some more."—Harper's Magazine.

Purely Surface Indications.

Charlotte came into the yard looking very sweet and pretty and quite conscious of the fact.

"I am prettier than you, ain't I?" she said to a man who was working in the yard.

"That depends on how you behave," he replied. "If you don't behave you won't be pretty."

She looked him over critically, expressing as her conclusion, "My, but you must have been naughty!"—Christian Herald.
