

NEWS OF REIDSVILLE AND ROCKINGHAM

Baseball Saturday! The Voice on the Wire Friday at the Grande. Stokesdale comes over for a game Saturday and Reidsville will endeavor to again tie the series. Weather conditions this week have been ideal on growing crops and corn and tobacco are doing finely. Butterfly feature today (Thursday) at the Grande theatre "The Phantom's Secret" in five acts featuring Mignon Anderson. Revival services will begin at the Speedwell church next Sunday and continue through the week. The public is cordially invited to attend. During August the library will be open from 5 to 8 each afternoon. It will close promptly at 8 o'clock. Patrons will be governed accordingly. Tanenhaus Bros. have bought the stock of goods of the New York Store and will move the same to their storeroom on South Scales st. All who have loved ones buried at Lowe's church are requested to meet Thursday August 16th, 1917 for the purpose of cleaning away the rubbish and dressing the cemetery. Mr. P. D. Watt attended the funeral of Mrs. J. S. Cobb, wife of Mr. J. S. Cobb, head of the leaf department of the Liggett & Myers Tobacco Company, at Durham Tuesday. Mr. W. J. Brown comes to the front as the champion tomato grower having gathered three from his garden that weighed four and a half pounds thus averaging one and a half pounds each. Next? Mr. E. L. Williamson of Martinsville spent yesterday in town and gave us a very pleasant call. He says work is now under way on a large scale in building the new industrial town of Fieldale, four miles north of Martinsville. A week of preaching services will begin at Speedwell church Sunday afternoon at 4 p. m. Just the one service Sunday, and two services during the week, afternoon and night. Everyone is most cordially invited to come and bring his friends. Mrs. George Harrison, aged 31, died at her home near Pleasant Grove church in Caswell county Monday evening and was buried at Bethesda church cemetery Tuesday afternoon. She leaves a husband and three small children. Her death was caused by uric acid poisoning. They are telling a little joke on Judge Humphreys. It appears that an anxious father told the Judge that his son's eyes are very weak and implored him to do all in his power to prevent him from being drafted. "Don't worry, my good friend," responded the Judge, "the government has arranged to place all the weak-eyed men in the front ranks."

Next Wednesday at 4:30 at Red J Park the Insurance Men and Bankers will meet a combined team of Merchants and Lawyers in a baseball contest. Walker Williams and Abe Womack, remembering the last game, are determined to come out with heads up this time and are "loading up for fair." The gate receipts go to the Red Cross Society, so let's all go out and help a good cause. Here is a list of the clothing supplied by the government to each soldier: Band, cap, dress; belt, waist; breeches, cotton, D. D.; breeches, woolen, D. The North Carolina State College of Agriculture and Engineering has just issued a very neat little folder calling attention to the importance of technical education at this crisis in our national life. To this is added information about the college; requirements for admission, courses study, expenses, scholarships, and many other details. With this folder is included a six page folder containing pictures of all the college buildings. These publications have been issued for general distribution. If you want them write to the Registrar, West Raleigh, N. C.

Mrs. James S. Cobb of Durham died suddenly Saturday afternoon at a private sanitorium in Philadelphia. Mrs. Cobb was the daughter of the late Mr. E. J. Orr, and Mrs. Fannie Forest Orr. She was born in Caswell county on August 8, 1868. She was married to Mr. J. S. Cobb in 1891 and shortly afterwards moved to Durham, where Mr. Cobb became connected with the American Tobacco company. Mrs. Cobb is survived by her husband, one sister, Mrs. N. H. Wright of Winston-Salem and four children, James O. Cobb, of Winston-

Salem; Misses Annie and Mary Cobb of Durham. Southern Railway will operate a seashore excursion Thursday, August 16 and 30, 1917 to Atlantic City and other New Jersey seashore resorts. The round trip fare is $11.50. Tickets good on all regular trains, and limited to 16 days, including date of sale. Atlantic City is having the gayest season of its existence, and this gives an unusual opportunity to visit America's greatest seashore resort at small cost. Make your reservations now.

After a period of slow progress for several weeks past, owing to shortage of labor and delay in shipments of material, the street paving contractors are now getting into a better stride on street and sidewalk paving. The work is now going ahead at a satisfactory rate. Sidewalks on Main and Lindsey streets are being laid and the paving of Lawsonville avenue, East Market, South Scales and other streets, is now under way. There is still much street and sidewalk paving to be done and it will require several months yet to finish up all the work laid out.

The August term of Superior Court is in session this week at Wentworth. Good progress has been made on the docket. Quite a number of cases of affray, liquor selling, and many minor cases have been disposed of. The grand jury, of which Mr. Money of Mayodan is foreman, completed its work yesterday afternoon and was discharged. The local bar is well represented and quite a number of visiting attorneys are in attendance. Judge W. J. Adams of Carthage is presiding and Solicitor Porter Graves of Mt. Airy is prosecuting attorney for the State. The term will end tomorrow.
