EULOGIZES THE PRINCIPAL OF THE REIDSVILLE SCHOOL

Editor The Review:
When a good man leaves a community and county, there is a great vacancy left which can never be filled. This can truthfully be applied to Mr. R. W. Isley, former principal of Poplar Branch High school and superintendent of Currituck county schools.

Mr. Isley has been the greatest educator this county has ever known. He stood for the uplift of the school communities and county. During his stay here, two years as principal of Poplar Branch High School and two as superintendent of the county, he did more for the foundation of an educational uprise than any one man has ever done. Through his untiring efforts the county has been awakened to see the necessity of educating, thoroughly, its children.

Before Mr. Isley came to Poplar Branch there was a four-teacher school here. When he left there was a new school high school building and a faculty of six. The entire eleven high school grades were being taught, also a course in music.

Those students who were under him and have later gone to college are very glad to tell the world that he was the best instructor they have ever had. He taught them thoroughly and cheerfully. It was a pleasure for him to assist them to the higher things of life. Through his good influence some have gone to college and are working their way so that they may be like him, if possible. He helped them to secure places in colleges of the State, as the University, State Normal and A. & E. College.

The Poplar Branch Betterment Society can not "boost" him sufficiently. He was always at its back in the hour of trial, ready and willing to give his mental and physical ability. The great space which has been left in the Society by him leaving the county seems to grow wider and wider; for it needs him more and more every day. The Society seems to be at a loss without his assistance. It was through his efforts that Betterment Societies were organized throughout the county. These Societies have been a complete success wherever they have been organized and have been a great uplift to the schools and communities.

Mr. Isley organized the first debating union that was organized in the county. The young folks took a great pride in the unions and several successful debates were held. On one occasion the debating team at Poplar Branch won in the Triangular Debate and went to Chapel Hill to enter the first contest. These unions have added greatly to the interest of the school life for the pupils.

While he was in this county county commencements were organized by him. These commencements have brought the county together in one educational enterprise as nothing else could have done. They have been pronounced a decided success by many prominent men who have spoken here. In other words, Mr. Isley has made the commencements what they are. The people of this county can not fully express the good that the commencements have been to the schools and county.

The school, community and county, which have received the services of Mr. R. W. Isley are to be congratulated and envied. He gives his mind heart and life to his work, and the school in which he teaches, the community and county in which he works are sure to prosper and grow because of his work.

Words cannot express the good that he has done in Poplar Branch and in Currituck county. He has not only been a great worker in the schools but he has helped in every way possible to make the county grow.

Poplar Branch, N. C.

"To be healthy at seventy prepare at forty" is sound advice, because in the strength of middle life we too often forget that the careless treatment of aches and pains undermines our strength.

The Selected Men

Today and tomorrow more selected men will leave for the cantonments to be trained for battle against the Kaiser's forces. The occasion is a marked one in the lives of these men and it is also one of great significance to those who are left behind. For it must always be remembered that the greater the number of those who go the greater the responsibility of those who remain at home.

Every one of the latter will have a part in determining how long those who go will have to stay, how hard they will have to fight and how many of them will return.

By the practice of self-denial, by diligence in the tasks of civil life and the soldiers of the Allies, who in this country not only have got to see that our soldiers lack for nothing; we also have the duty of sending of our substance to our Allies so that they can give the support of their men that will enable the latter to carry on their part of the fighting with complete supplies of every sort. The war will be won by the side with the greatest resources and the rapidity with which these are brought into play will determine its duration. Every citizen, however humble, has a part to perform in husbanding and conserving our resources.

The message of the President to the first increment of selected men applies to all alike. It may well be repeated here. It is as follows:

You are undertaking a great duty. The heart of the whole country is with you.

Everything that you do will be watched with deepest interest and with the deepest solicitude, not only by those who are near and dear to you, but by the whole nation beside. For the great war draws us all together, makes us all comrades and brothers as all true Americans felt themselves to be when we first made good our national independence.

The eyes of all the world will be upon you, because you are in some special sense the soldiers of freedom. Let it be your pride, therefore, to show all men everywhere not only what good soldiers you are, but also what good men you are, keeping straight in everything and pure and clean through and through.

Let us all set forth ourselves a standard so high that it will be a glory to live up to it and then let us live up to it and add a new laurel to the crown of America.

My affectionate confidence goes with you in every battle and every test. God keep and guide you.

Every selected man should have this tender, helpful message from a great and warm-hearted President where he can refer to it constantly—News and Observer.

Experience the Best Teacher.

It is generally admitted that experience is the best teacher, but should we not make use of the experience of others as well as our own? The experience of a thousand persons is more to be depended upon than that of one individual. Many thousands of persons have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for coughs and colds with the best results, which shows it to be a thoroughly reliable preparation for those diseases. Try it. It is prompt and effectual and pleasant to take.

Write To The Boys

There are many people in this as well as in other communities who have relatives or friends in the service of their country at the present time. They should make it a point to communicate, as often as possible, with these friends at the front, writing interesting and cheering letters about happenings at home, letters which will show that their service for their country is appreciated and that those left behind are with them in spirit.

There is nothing more welcome to a man at the front than a letter from home, not a doleful epistle, but one that breathes clear and hope and courage. Such a letter will encourage a soldier and make him feel more determined than ever to do his full duty.

And if you have a friend in camp or at the front and write him a letter, do not feel aggrieved if you do not get an early response. It is not because your letter is not appreciated, but because of the lack of time and the fatigue after the day's work. Intensive training in military cantonments and duty at the front do not permit much leisure for other things, especially if a man takes the time to do any reading or indulge in recreation along other lines.

"THE LETTER E"

Someone has advanced the opinion that the letter "E" is the most unfortunate character in the English alphabet, because it is out of cash, forever in debt, never out of danger, and in hell all the time.

But we call attention the fact that "E" is never in war and always in peace. It is the beginning of existence, the commencement of ease, and the end of trouble.

Without it there would be no Rexall store, no coffee, no bread, no life, no heaven, no service, no business, no appreciation, no regrets, no Fetzer's—The Words "Fetzer's Pure Drugs,"—and "Service" are synonyms and, we appreciate your patronage.
