

NEWS OF REIDSVILLE AND ROCKINGHAM

"The Fighting Trail" today (Monday) at the Grande.

Mr. Wm. Cobb of Route 4 gave us a pleasant call Tuesday.

Miss Lala Sapp of Greensboro is a guest of Mrs. W. D. Stocks.

Mr. H. W. Hines is convalescing from a three weeks' siege of grippe.

Col. B. Frank Mebane of Spray spent a few hours in town Saturday.

Attention is called to the new ad in today's issue of Mrs. Cornie Irvin & Co.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Lambeth of Salisbury, March 1, 1918, a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Barnes have returned from a visit to their daughter at Raeford.

Miss Winnie Davis of the Greensboro College for Women spent the week-end here.

"Chalice of Sorrow," a Bluebird feature Tuesday at the Grande, featuring Cleo Madison.

Mr. Chas. L. Amos of High Point spent Sunday here with his sick brother, Mr. J. E. Amos.

Mr. R. D. Gopen has returned from Henderson where he has been buying tobacco for the Export Co.

Mr. Charlie Cook, a popular young farmer of near Mayfield was in town Thursday and gave us a look-in.

Little Jennie Satterfield, who has been critically ill is now convalescing her many friends are glad to learn.

Mr. J. S. Cobb of the Oregon section was in town Friday and called in to subscribe for the Old Reliable.

Some improvement is noted in the condition of Mr. J. E. Amos, who has been quite ill the past several days.

Lieut. Wm. J. Penn, who is stationed at Jacksonville Fla., has been spending the past few days here with his parents.

Miss Margaret Brown has returned to Greensboro College for Women after spending the week-end with her parents.

Miss Joyce Henley of Winston-Salem and Miss Minnie Lee Whittemore spent the week-end with Mrs. Ben Baisley on Lindsey street.

Mr. W. B. Hughes, an influential farmer of the Mayfield section, was a city visitor Thursday and gave The Review office a pleasant call while here.

The local Red Cross chapter will meet at the work rooms at the C. & A. Hall Friday afternoon at 3:30. A full attendance of members is requested.

Mrs. J. L. Harwood of Norfolk, Va. is spending a few days here with relatives after attending the funeral of her brother, Mr. R. S. Plonk, of Kings Mountain.

Mr. R. Mitchell, who is in the medical department of an artillery unit at Fort Sill, Okla., spent the past two weeks on a visit to his mother in Wentworth.

Mrs. Lillie Stockard of Reidsville and Miss Margaret Shoemaker of Baltimore have charge of the millinery department at Mrs. Cornie Irvin & Co.'s this season.

Mrs. J. W. Bethell has returned from Philadelphia where she was called by the desperate illness of her daughter, Miss Mildred Bethell, who is now considerably better.

The sudden death of Mr. R. S. Plonk of Kings Mountain which occurred February 24, was a shock to relatives and friends. He was married to Miss Mollie Motley of this city.

Several letters from our soldier boys at Camp Jackson and Camp Sevier, during the last week to parents and friends here, state that they are anxious to go abroad. Camp life, they say, is monotonous and they prefer to be at the front where there is something doing all the time.

Mrs. Peter Faucette of near Camp Springs, Caswell county, died Thursday afternoon. She was about 33 years old and leaves a husband and several children. She had been an invalid for the past two years. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Galloway Friday afternoon and interment was made at Camp Springs church cemetery.

The recent order of the Food Administration regarding the killing of hens and pullets does not very greatly affect local trade in chickens. State Food Administrator Henry A. Page announces that no chickens may be shipped out of the State, and all producers, merchants and consumers are urged to discourage as greatly as possible the killing of hens and pullets until April 30th, but the local trade, or even shipment of small numbers of chickens from the rural sections to the cities of the State, is not absolutely prohibited.

Miss Katherine Ellington is visiting relatives in Monroe.

Mr. and Mrs. Cabell Penn of Durham are guests of relatives here.

Mr. Walter Irvin, Jr. of Oak Ridge spent the past few days here with his parents.

Mr. Jos. J. Blackhall of the cigarette department of the A. T. Co., has been transferred to Durham and left yesterday for his new home.

Messrs. R. P. Richardson and R. L. Watt attended a meeting of the Piedmont Highway Association in Danville Saturday.

Telegram from Washington states that rule against sale of live or freshly killed hen or pullets does not apply to broilers weighing two pounds or less. Restriction against eating mutton and lamb is removed until April 15.

All over the city gardens are being turned in preparation for the spring garden. Many homes have already seeded plots in early vegetables. There is every indication that this year there is going to be produced more truck in city gardens than ever before.

Low shoes and spats are to take the place of high shoes this spring and summer, according to fashion arbiters. It would be much more welcome news if we were told also that low prices for them are to take the place of the present inordinately and inexplicably high ones.

Gardening weather is here. Folks who propose to fight the Germans by raising their own vegetables cannot afford to lose any time in getting their gardens in shape for planting the earlier and harder vegetables. Some of the balmy days recently have caused a stirring of the blood and longing looks toward the garden spots.

Like a whisper on a summer breeze comes a gentle intimation that sugar will drop to nine cents the pound. The authorities at Washington say that the sugar shortage is a thing of the past, for the present at least, and that the merchants are now securing the sweet stuff at a price that enables them to sell at nine cents a pound and still make a reasonable profit.

April 6, which is the anniversary of the entrance of the United States into the war, will be observed throughout the nation. The day will be celebrated as a "win the war day" in cities, schools, and by patriotic societies. On that day every man, woman and child in America will be asked to stop work or play for one minute to pledge allegiance to their country.

The pine, oak and poplar growing on Stokes county's thickly wooded hills is being used in the gigantic shipbuilding program which Uncle Sam has set his hand to, in order to defeat the U-boats. Every mill in the county, says the Reporter, is rushed with hurry orders. Practically all this demand comes from the government, as lumber and labor are too high now for much private building.

State Food Administrator Henry A. Page has called upon the county food administrators and their county organizations to place in every home in North Carolina during the week of March 4-9 a copy of the 1918 Home Card of the Food Administration containing the new intensified food conservation program of the Administration and a copy of each of two leaflets containing recipes for the use of cereal substitutes.

Friday Mr. and Mrs. George Washington Denny celebrated the 25th anniversary of their wedding by entertaining a very few close personal friends at a dinner at their home on Hamilton Street. Mr. and Mrs. Denny were married on February 22, 1893, the ceremony being performed at Reidsville by Rev. D. I. Craig. Before her marriage, Mrs. Denny was Miss Margaret Johnson, a well known member of a prominent family of Rockingham county. They resided in Greensboro for a number of years atter their marriage and are as well known there, perhaps, as at Reidsville or High Point.—High Point Cor.

There will be an entertainment at the Ruffin graded school Friday for the benefit of the Ruffin Red Cross. The public is cordially invited to attend.

The five-year-old daughter of Mrs. Fred Hubbard, residing near Pelham, was seriously burned yesterday evening when her clothing caught fire. Mrs. Hubbard was alone with the child and succeeded in tearing off the blazing clothes but not before her own hands had been terribly burned. The mother doubtless saved the child from immediate death. As it is the little girl is in a serious condition, pneumonia being feared as an after development.—Pelham Cor.

The Tuesday Afternoon Reading Club met with Mrs. Buford Stone on February 26th. The vice-president, Miss Wilkinson, presided. After the usual business the afternoon program was given. A brief outline of a comedy was given in response to roll call. The first number of the program was "George Bernard Shaw as Viewed by Henderson," and this was given by Mrs. R. M. B. Ellington. This was followed by "Outline and Discussion of Drama, Pygmalion," by Miss Wilkinson. Mrs. Eugene Irvin concluded the program with interesting "Character Sketches of Pygmalion." The hostess served a delicious ice after which the club adjourned to meet with Mrs. Watt on March 5th.

James Jones, 16, and probably one of the youngest American soldiers "over there" writes his father from "somewhere in France" that his health is fine and he is getting along splendidly with the exception of meeting a disappointment in the non-arrival of a Christmas box which his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Jones of Draper, sent him just before then. Some of the scarleties mentioned in his letter are those of soap, fountain pens and dress leather gloves which young Jones says are at a premium. Jones enlisted with the coast artillery company which was organized in Danville but was transferred from Fort Monroe to the Rainbow division which sailed late in October.

STRAYED—White pointer dog, with lemon colored spots; has on collar with brass plate and letters "E. D. Watt." Answers to the name of "Ben." Reward for information leading to his return.—E. D. Watt.

MAMMIES HANDLE FREIGHT

Work in Railroad Yards at Cleveland and Like Wages.

Old negro mammies, many of whom worked on the cotton levees in Dixie, are loading and unloading freight in the freight yards at $2.00 a day. They wear red bandanna handkerchiefs about their kinky hair and each comes to work in a clean white apron. They say the work isn't hard and the pay—"Mamm-boy!"

Strenuous life of those whose days are spent indoors is bound to leave its traces upon the individual so situated. While osteopathy cannot remedy the cause of general devitalization it aids remarkably in overcoming the results of a sedentary life, by establishing good appetite, normal, cheerful spirits and well-being.

Jackson, Chief of Police.

"THE LETTER E"

Someone has advanced the opinion that the letter "E" is the most unfortunate character in the English alphabet, because it is out of cash, forever in debt, never out of danger, and in hell all the time.

But we call attention the fact that "E" is never in war and always in peace. It is the beginning of existence, the commencement of ease, and the end of trouble.
