WELCOME! OUR BRAVE BOYS.

Everywhere today, throughout this land of our hearts, the "Glorious Fourth" is celebrated with more sentiment, more pathos and more joy than any day since 1776.

Today the greatest nation on earth is stirred to its profoundest depths. Glorious old "Stars and Stripes" we never knew how much we loved you until a foreign foe sought to tear you from the sunlight.

But today how the old flag floats and streams in triumph and glory over a patriotic people.

The desperate struggle is ended, and the Angel of Peace sits crowned in living light above "Old Glory's" shining folds and liberty stands radiant beside her.

Many years ago Ingersoll, the great orator, said:

"A vision of the future rises. I see a world where thrones have crumbled and where kings are dust. I see empires where aristocracy of idleness has perished from the earth. As I look life lengthens, joy deepens, love canopies the earth and over all in the great dome shines the eternal star of human hope."

To America, the mother of republics, has been given, as if by Divine commission, the proud privilege and task of vindicating on the field of battle the justice and sanctity of her origin and mission among the nations of the earth.

Our brave boys, great strong-limbed, ruddy-faced youths in khaki, surpassed all our expectations and filled our minds and hearts with unbounded pride and joy and exultation. Their heroic deeds shook the very thrones of Europe's tyrant kings and filled their craven souls with terror and despair. Our brave and fearless Rockingham boys met face to face in battle the proud Prussian guards, the boasted invincibles of the Kaiser, and in terrific hand to hand combat conquered and destroyed them. They taught the military despots of Germany that an ounce of freedom in the heart is worth a ton of discipline in the ranks of tyranny. On field of battle they have sent to generations yet unborn, and to all the centuries yet to come, a mighty message of sublime decision and deathless valor.

Reidsville and Rockingham stand uncovered while our brave boys, the bravest and grandest of them all, march down our streets.

Along the street there comes A blast of bugles, a ruffle of drums, A flash of color beneath the sky. Hats off! The Flag is passing by. Blue and crimson and white it shines

Over the steel-tipped, ordered lines.

Hats off! the colors before us up; But more than the Flag is passing by.

Sea fights and land fights, grim and great,

Fought to make and save the State; Weary marches and slaking ships, Cheers of victory on dying lips.

Days of plenty and years of peace, March of a strong land's swift increase;

Equal justice, right, and law, Stately honor and reverent awe.

Sign of a nation great and strong, To ward her people from foreign wrong,

Pride and glory and honor, all, Live in the colors to stand or fall;

Hats off! The Flag is passing by.

"IS THERE STILL A DIXIE?"

(By Geo. M. Bailey.)

"Is there still a Dixie?" asks Life in its "Dixie Number." Yes, there is still a Dixie. A Dixie in the hearts of some of us older ones, and in that realm of the spirit fancy may summon visions of the most beautiful of scenes, the loveliest of faces, and days of cloudless blue! Dixie, the East to which those of us who stand on the rim of the fading day turn in devotion, while the shadows creep! Dixie, the Glory Land of the Past, the golden bourn of memory's silent rambles, the hallowed Solitude in whose cool depths the lost chords of life breathe their music into the soul! Dixie, Love's Shadowland, peopled with the unfettered spirits of the noble and the great, redolent of memories that do not die because they cluster about things immortal, temple with the dream-fabrics of a nation that rose from out God's boundless deep and, after four years of romance, poetry and glory turned again Home! Dixie, the Beautiful and Glorious, the sweetest chapter of History, the noblest Epic of the ages, the Light of yesterday whose effulgence fills the crest of Time's swift onward tide! Dixie, the stainless Mother of the Nation, the Indestructible Kingdom of the Twilight—Dixie, the incomparable South of our dreams! Yes, there still is a Dixie.

Several thousand returning American soldiers and a score of pretty French war brides are aboard the Presidential ship on its voyage to the States. A number of soldiers who were members of the guards at the Paris White House and at the Hotel de Crillon, headquarters of the American delegation, were married during their sojourn in Paris. The regulations provided no means for the brides to accompany their husbands and for a while it seemed that they might be left behind. A fearful joint dispatch to President Wilson led him to make arrangements for their accommodation, how?

Isaiah, the prophet, may have had some inkling several thousand years ago of the thirst that prohibition would raise in the land. Attention was called today to the prophet's words as found in Isaiah xxiv:11-12, which read as follows: "There is a crying for wine in the streets; all joy is darkened, the mirth of the land is gone. In the city is left desolation, and the gate is smitten by destruction."

FERTILIZERS MAY BE CHEAPER IN THE FALL

It was announced by the department of agriculture that fall fertilizers would be cheaper in the southern states. The average price would be about 30 per cent. lower than spring purchases.

Many North Carolina farmers have manifested keen interest in the prices of fertilizers for grain and other crops to be put in this fall.

The announcement of the department follows conferences with individual manufacturers which placed the department in a position to state that price of mixed fertilizers F. O. B. in the South Atlantic and Gulf ports of Baltimore, Norfolk, Wilmington, Charleston, Savannah, Jacksonville, Pensacola and Mobile will be the same as the F. O. B. prices at Baltimore, Philadelphia and Cataret, which established the prices for the northern states.

The prices are based upon delivery in 200-pound bags. If in 167-pound bags, 25 cents a ton will be added; if in 125-pound bags, 50 cents a ton, and if in 100-pound bags, 75 cents the ton.

In general, flat delivered prices prevail in Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, east of the Mississippi river, and Florida, west of the Apalachicola river, for which a flat rate of $2.50 a ton will be added to the port prices. In all of these states except Mississippi and Louisiana, when the actual freight is less than $2.50 the ton, the actual freight is used.

REJOICES DAUGHTER CAN RESUME STUDIES

"Everything my little 12-year-old girl ate distressed her; even a glass of water would cause her to belch gas and she was unable to go to school for nearly a year. I bought her a bottle of May's Wonderful Remedy, and since taking it she is eating us out of house and home and is attending school again." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. All dealers.

TO RHEUMATIC SUFFERERS.—Take a few bottles of Martin's Rheumatic Compound. The great medicine that cures inflammatory, acute and chronic rheumatism. For sale in Reidsville by T. A. McGhee, East Market street. Mail orders to Dr. W. D. Martin, P. O. Box 56, Leaksville, N. C.

Albatross Wonderful Flyer.
The albatross spends its life, with the exception of a few weeks given each year to nesting, entirely at sea, and is on the wing practically all the time. Furthermore, it does not progress by flapping its wings, as most birds do, but seems to soar at will, rarely, if ever, giving a stroke of the wing, seeming to need no impetus. At nesting time, which is early in the year, the albatross repairs to an isolated island, such as one of the Crozet islands, in the southern Indian ocean, or Tristan da Cunha, in the South Atlantic ocean.

Right Idea About Business.
The old idea that business is getting the better of your neighbor is not only "bad business," but nonsense. Business is not getting the better of but doing the best for your neighbor—and yourself. If business is not mutually profitable, it is mutually destructive. My neighbor's prosperity helps mine and mine his. When that old pernicious notion is finally exploded the millennium of business will be at hand, the era of universal peace between capital and labor.—Lord Leverhulme.

Famous Castle of Durnstein.
The ragged towers of the castle of Durnstein, in which Richard of England was imprisoned, still rise by the Danube, and there is a Napoleonic legend that, as the French emperor rode by in his Wagram campaign, he pointed to them with horror as a reminder of a barbarous incident. Seemingly his reverie was untroubled by any prevision of the far harder fate in store for him.

Holly Used as Symbol.
It was usual at Roman weddings to present the bride with a wreath of holly, significant of the warmest congratulations. In India and Persia the followers of Zoroaster, the founder of fire worship, soak pieces of holly bark in water and throw the infusion in the faces of newly born babies, believing this will insure their prosperity and safety in this world.

Opportunity at Funeral.
Shortly after the new family moved into the house across the street the old grandfather took ill and died. When his little son heard of his death he said he was going to the "foonerl." "Why, Bobbie, you don't even know them," I said. "I know, mother," was his reply, "but I think the foonerl would be a good place to get 'quainted.'"—Chicago Tribune.

Good in Strawberry Wine.
Regarded medicinally, strawberry wine is held to be superior to grape wine. Spanish doctors who have investigated the matter report that strawberry wine gives the greater strength to a weakened constitution. The strawberry wine industry is said to be assuming some importance in Spain.

Why Delay?
"Take this medicine," said the young doctor. "If it doesn't cure you, come back in a few days and I shall give you something that will." The patient pocketed the dose reluctantly. In a few moments he returned. "If you don't mind, doc, I'll take some of that that will cure me right away."

Retribution.
When the man who invented the slide trombone grew old and crippled and could not get away, retribution hounded him in the form of a neighbor who practiced on one of the blamed things every night. An evil deed is always repaid with an evil deed.

Baker's Dozen.
Years ago when a heavy penalty was inflicted for short weight, it was customary for bakers to give a surplus number of loaves, called "inbread," to avoid risk of fine. The thirteenth was known as the "vantage loaf." It is said.

Drawing the Line.
"The fresh young man who always wants to 'start something,'" remarked the Observer of Events and Things, "draws the line" when it comes to the morning fire in the stove."—Yonkers Statesman.

To Keep Pens From Corroding.
Steel pens are destroyed by corrosion from acid in the ink. Put in the ink some nails or old steel pens, and the acid will exhaust itself on them, and the pen in use will not corrode.

Indirect Action.
Said the almost philosopher, "It may sound like a paradox, but when a fellow has a weight lifted off his mind it makes his heart light."

Not Knocking the Doctor, Either.
Sometimes it looks like the doctor is the only person in the community who hasn't a sure cure for bad colds.—Galveston News.

Want of Perception.
The devil has no stancher ally than want of perception.—Philip H. Wicksteed.

Daily Thought.
Be wise worldly, but not worldly-wise.—Quarles.

As I was
As I am

Mr. R. W. Pendarvis, well known in Dismore, Fla., says: "I suffered from such pains in my back that I could not stoop over far enough to tie my own shoes. I was stiff and my joints hurt me continually. My bowels were bound up, and my stomach was weak, often filling up with foul gas. My liver was inactive, which gave me headache, dizzy spells, coated tongue and that lazy, drowsy, no-account feeling. I bought a bottle of DRECO, and that was the best money I ever spent. My back is limber and supple. I can stoop and bend at will, bowels acting regular and easy, rheumatism cured and my muscles taut. DRECO is the medicine and I gladly recommend it." DRECO is made from juices and extracts of many medicinal herbal plants, which act on the vital organs in a pleasant and prompt manner.

ESSAY ON PANTS
Pants are made for men and not for women. Women are made for men and not for pants. When a man pants for a woman and when a woman pants for a man that makes a pair of pants. Pants are like molasses; they are thinner in hot weather and thicker in cold weather. There has been much discussion as to whether pants is singular or plural. Seems to us that when men wear pants it is plural and when they don't it is singular. If you want to make the pants last, make the coat first.—The Alabamian.

FORTUNES FROM WHITE BURLEY TOBACCO
Ohio tobacco growers are so flush with money that banks are complaining that they cannot lend their funds. Mortgages that were to run several years have been lifted and money is being put into new houses and farm buildings. Owners of small tracts of tobacco land, who had not expected to have anything but the most modest type of farm house, are now having houses built that would be a credit to any city.—Southern Tobacco Journal.
