VOL. XXXII, NO. 76.

REIDSVILLE, N. C., TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 25, 1919.

ISSUED TUESDAY AND FRIDAY

CITIZENS TO ENTERTAIN THE LOCAL MILITIAMEN

Colonel Don Scott, who is to command the new regiment of infantry, was in Reidsville the other day. He thinks his regiment will begin drills in the very near future, and is hoping that the Reidsville company will be among the first. Col. Scott says his home county, Alamance, and the town of Burlington have appropriated $1,500 for the new company at Burlington, and Winston and other towns and counties are giving substantial financial aid to their organizations. While here Col. Scott saw a number of the leading business men and all promised to help in the organization of the new company. R. P. Richardson said he had informed all employees in the Old North State factory that those who joined and attend the annual encampments or called out for other purposes, will receive pay the same as if at work in addition to the regular enlisted man's salary. Other plants here will likely make a similar ruling.

Members and prospective members of the local military company will be given an oyster supper on Tuesday night of this week at the C. & A. hall. A number of out-of-town guests will be present, and the promoters anticipate a large crowd and a big time.

Mexico Warned By Uncle Sam

Mexico has been warned by the American government that any further molestation of William O. Jenkins, the American consular agent at Pueblo, who recently was kidnapped by bandits, would seriously affect the relations between the United States and Mexico, for with the government of Mexico must assume sole responsibility.

Coupled with the warning was a demand for the immediate release of the consular agent, who was rearrested Tuesday on charges in connection with his abduction and ransom in the sum of $150,000 gold.

Farmers' Union Resolutions.

The Farmers E. and C. Union of America, at the closing session of its annual convention in Memphis, went on record as opposed to universal military training, urged that the federal farm loan act be amended to permit loans to farmers who do not own land as well as to land owners, and proposed that only a practical working farmer be appointed to office of Secretary of Agriculture.

Charles S. Barrett, of Union City, Ga., re-elected president, enters his fifteenth consecutive term in that office.

Judge Lane Presided.

Twenty-eight members of the Albemarle textile union, including Marvin Ritch, Charlotte lawyer and labor leader, all implicated in the strike trouble and rioting which occurred in Albemarle September 15, pleaded guilty to the fourth count in the bill of indictment, charging conspiracy. Ritch was fined $600. Judge H. P. Lane, of Reidsville, was the presiding judge.

Furniture Prices to Remain Up

The members of the Southern Furniture Manufacturers' Association, in annual convention at Asheville, heard reports, which are to the effect that prices on furniture will not be lowered, so long as the demand exceeds the supply, and elected officers for the ensuing year.

Attorney W. R. McCargo has moved into his new residence on South Main street.

Look at the program at the Grande Theatre. Four special attractions this week.

There will be a box party at the Sandy Cross School Wednesday night, November 26, 1919. Come and have a good time.

There will be preaching at the Methodist Protestant church next Sunday at 11 o'clock. Rev. L. W. Geringer will preach. The new pastor, Rev. H. F. Fogleman, will take charge the first Sunday in December.

Mrs. Alice Rowe, aged 57 years, died Sunday morning at a Greensboro hospital following an illness of four weeks. Carcinoma was the cause of death. Mrs. Rowe's husband is superintendent of a cotton mill at Spray. She is survived by her husband and four sons and two daughters. The funeral and burial will take place Tuesday afternoon at Spray.

Rev. H. F. Fogleman succeeds Rev. L. W. Geringer as pastor of the Reidsville M. P. church, the Conference in session at Concord deciding to send Mr. Geringer to the Asheboro church. The new minister is a graduate of Westminster Theological Seminary, Westminster, Md. He has just closed a very successful year at Shelby, N. C. Rev. Mr. Geringer has been instrumental in building the Reidsville church from a struggling institution to a live, large working organization that is accomplishing great and lasting good in this community. Our people deeply regret the departure of the young minister and his charming family.

Mrs. Mary Byrd Moore, aged 35, died at a Greensboro hospital Sunday following an illness of several weeks. A complication of maladies was responsible for fatality. For several days Mrs. Moore's condition had been critical. She was carried to the hospital three weeks ago from her home eight miles from Reidsville. Mrs. Moore is survived by her husband, T. A. Moore, who was with her when the end came. Seven small children also survive, as well as Mrs. Moore's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Womble, of Chatham county. Funeral services were conducted yesterday afternoon at Bethlehem Methodist church by Rev. Mr. Curtis, interment following in the church cemetery.

A delightful and profitable afternoon was spent by the Tuesday Afternoon Reading Club with Mrs. Ballard. Thirteen members responded to the roll call with an item or quotation bearing on An American Ideal. The three papers for the afternoon, each interesting and well written, were "Lo, The Immigrant," by Mrs. Montgomery; "Education and Culture of the Foreigners," written by Mrs. Dalton and read by Mrs. Eugene Irvin, and "The Foreigner in Politics" by Miss McKinney. At the conclusion of the program, Mrs. Ballard, assisted by Miss Reid, served a most tempting luncheon. The Club's guest for the afternoon was Miss Sheepe, who is visiting Mrs. Glidewell. The next meeting will be held with Miss Coats.

One of the most enjoyable events of the season was a surprise party given to Miss Martha Jacobs by her host of friends last Wednesday night. The unexpected guests, assembled about eight o'clock and were shown into the parlor which was attractively decorated with autumn flowers. The hall was arranged for dancing which was enjoyed by all. Beautiful music was furnished on the piano, Victrola and cornets, after which many games were indulged in. Delicious refreshments consisting of cream, cake, fruits and salted peanuts were served by Misses Martha Jacobs, Ethel Jones, Elsie Benson and I. F. Parker. After spending a delightful evening the guests departed at a late hour. Those present were Misses Sue Carter, Mabel Saunders, Ota Roberts, Ethel Perkins, Alice Martin, Helen Benson, Susie Penn, Emma Cardwell Lively, Ethel Jones, Elsie Benson, and Roy Knight, Philip Sprinkle, William Minor, Ira and Carl Crutchfield, I. F. Parker, Gray Pfaff, Robert Montgomery, James Thompson.

LOCAL POSTMASTER RESIGNS HIS POSITION

R. S. Montgomery, Reidsville's popular and efficient postmaster for the past several years, has resigned his position and has asked to be relieved of his duties as early as possible.

For some time past it has been rumored that Postmaster Montgomery contemplated moving to Atlanta. When asked about it today Mr. Montgomery would neither confirm nor deny the report, remarking that he had to get out and make a living. His friends sincerely hope that he will continue to make his residence in Reidsville. He has filled the position of postmaster most admirably.

A civil service examination has been called for Dec. 23. The position pays $2,500 annually.

CLAYBROOK-YOUNG.

A pretty and impressive marriage was solemnized Saturday evening at 6 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Young on Lindsey street when their daughter, Miss Thelma Cordie Young, became the bride of Jesse F. Claybrook. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. C. Sprinkle, pastor of Main Street M. E. church. The entire lower floor of the home had been most attractively decorated for the occasion. Mrs. R. J. Oliver received the guests in the wide hall where they were served punch from a pretty bower by Misses Ethel Gibson and Marion Oliver. From here they were directed to the gift room which was lovely in yellow chrysanthemums, ivy and potted plants. Here punch was served by Misses Lillian Clark and Annie Smith.

Promptly at 6 o'clock the officiating minister took his stand in the parlor in front of an improvised altar which had been made lovely with white chrysanthemums, ferns and ivy, with the glow of many candles in silver candelabras shedding soft radiance over the scene. Prior to the ceremony G. M. McWhorter, accompanied by Miss Womack at the piano, sang "Oh Promise Me." As the first strains of Lohenglin's wedding march pealed forth, little Miss Martha Page Gibson of Danville, daintily attired in a white lace dress with pink ribbons, and Master Jack Humphreys in pure white sailor suit, descended the wide stairway, arm in arm, carrying the ribbons to form the aisle. Next came the tiny daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Firesheets, Hilda, wearing a dainty frock of white silk with large pink tulle bow, and carrying the ring in the heart of a huge white chrysanthemum. The bride becomingly gowned in a tailleur of reindeer duvetyn, with accessories to match, and carrying a shower bouquet of brides roses and valley lilies, came in on the arm of the groom, and were joined in holy wedlock, the impressive ring service of the Methodist Church being used. During the ceremony Miss Womack softly played McDowell's "To a Wild Rose."

After the ceremony the guests were invited into the dining room which was most attractive in its color scheme of pink and white. In the center of the table was a large vase of pink and white rosebuds. From the chandelier running to each corner of the table were streamers of pink tulle held in place by silver candelabras. Block cream, cake and mints, carrying out the color scheme were served by Mesdames J. R. Thomas, sister of the bride, Tom McLean, B. F. Sprinkle and C. L. Firesheets, assisted by Misses Clara Witt, Theresa Foy, and Lola Young. Mrs. Claybrook is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Young, and is very pretty and attractive. Mr. Claybrook is a native of Stoneville but has made his home in this city where he holds a responsible position with the American Tobacco Company. Many beautiful and useful gifts of silver, cut glass, etc., attest the popularity of these young people. Among the out of town guests here for the wedding were Miss Kate Claybrook, sister of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Stone, and Ota Stone of Stoneville, Miss Helen Blackwell of Spencer, Mr. J. W. Gibson, Misses Ethel and Mae, the Page Gibson and Lillian Clark of Danville, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Thomas, Thomas McLean, and W. W. Smith of Greensboro.

JUNIORS GATHER IN A GET-TOGETHER MEETING

The local Juniors held a most delightful meeting in their hall last Thursday night, 200 members attending this get-together meeting. Music was furnished by the Junior Order band; there were many short, interesting addresses, while R. C. Booker, proprietor of the new ice cream factory, sent up several gallons of delicious cream, and other refreshments and smokes were furnished by the council. The speakers were L. N. Hickerson, Rev. C. F. Sherrill, N. R. Reid, J. R. Joyce, J. M. Sharp, and others. The Juniors of Reidsville are always wide-awake. Their membership here now numbers around four hundred.

Among the visitors from other councils were Mr. Morgan, from Little River Council; Rev. C. F. Sherrill, from Pleasant Garden Council, who is the new council of the Wentworth M. E. circuit; Supt. L. N. Hickerson and State Councilor N. R. Reid, of the Wentworth council.

The speeches were of a constructive order, and were well received. The new band, recently organized among members of the order under the leadership of Irvin F. Parker, gave several good selections. This was the first time the band had given an exhibition of their progress before a meeting of the order, and every member was delighted, and many were surprised to find that the band was capable of playing before such a gathering.

GRACEFUL AND FITTING ACT

(S. P. U. Magazine.)

There has been no more graceful or fitting act affecting a North Carolina community recently than that of Mr. Jeff Penn, in presenting to the city of Reidsville and the county of Rockingham a modern hospital as a memorial to his wife, the institution to be known as the Genevieve Memorial Hospital. The hospital will contain twenty rooms for whites, and ten for colored people, with a free ward in each department, and will cost about one hundred and fifty thousand dollars. Needless to say, the good people of Reidsville and Rockingham appreciate the spirit which prompts this generosity fully as much as the hospital itself.

THE COLORED PEOPLE PASS RESOLUTIONS

A mass-meeting representing the colored citizens of Reidsville was held at the colored graded school Nov. 17 for the purpose of expressing their appreciation to Mr. T. Jefferson Penn for his generous gift of a hospital to Reidsville and Rockingham county. Rev. M. C. Walker was chairman. Many enthusiastic, practical and wise talks were made, after which the following resolutions were read and approved:

Whereas, the time in which we live brings us face to face with unmatched conditions, which call for serious reflection and careful action and make us realize that we should count our blessings as well as take note of the unpleasant things which come to us. And whereas, a former citizen of Reidsville, (whom we believe inherits much of his generous spirit from his sainted mother), has agreed to build and equip a modern hospital with ample provisions for our people, as a memorial to his wife. Be it resolved:

1. That for the generous gift we extend to Mr. T. J. Penn our heartfelt thanks and appreciation.
2. That in his reference to us, we see that we still have in him a friend and believe that through him a great blessing has come to us.
3. That we pledge our support to any movement which means the betterment of our town, county or State.
4. That a copy of these resolutions be published in The Review and The Voice and a copy be sent to Mr. T. Jefferson Penn.

J. A. McRae, chairman; J. H. Owens, B. C. Clarke, Thomas Pannill, E. M. Turner, Rev. M. C. Walker, Mrs. Maggie Koger, Mrs. Hattie D. Woods, Rev. J. W. Croon, secretary.

Until further notice the Acme Steam Laundry will be closed.

Reported producers' sales for the season 207,206,53 pounds; estimated total producers' sales for the season, 214,116,753 pounds. Average price of October sales, 56.85 cents per pound.

Crops sold in the counties where grown, 63 per cent average. Final condition of crop, 68 per cent.

1918 total producers' sales reported, 285,000,000 pounds. Government crop, estimate is 285,000,000 pounds. Quality of present crop reported, 80 per cent.

Out of Joint.

The Government's crop estimate on November 1 placed tobacco production at 1,316,553,000 pounds. It is a safe bet that the estimate has overshot the mark—as has been the case, many times heretofore. The crop reporting service to the Government—upon which the estimates are based—somehow seems to be out of joint, which is a pity, for correct figures on this subject would be a valuable help to the tobacco trade.—Southern Tobacco Journal.
