GENERAL VILLA ISSUED ORDERS

Chihuahua Troops Ordered to Mobilize Ready for Service

HUERTA IS WORKING

Busy Placing Cannons on Hill Preparing for Stub- born Defense

By JOHN W. ROBERTS.

Chihuahua, July 14.—General Villa gave orders to all commanders whose men are recuperating at Chihuahua, Parral, Jimenez and elsewhere throughout the state of Chihuahua to join the main body of his army at Torreon within ten days ready for an advance upon San Luis Potosi if that federal stronghold has not fallen in the meantime or against Queretaro if the federals attempt to make a stand at that point.

Villa's scouts report that Huerta is marshalling forces at Queretaro and massing cannon on surrounding hills preparatory to making a stand there which will result in his overthrow in case of defeat or the delivery of a smashing blow to the constitutionalists from which they cannot recover, being in unfamiliar territory and hundreds of miles from the base of supplies, which must come from the United States or Europe. Villa does not anticipate defeat, although he does expect a desperate battle.

"Those who say the war is over and that there will be no more fighting are mistaken," said Villa today. "They don't know Huerta. His back is against the wall and he must fight. Talk of his quitting Mexico is idle, I believe. Talk of Carbajal as his successor and that he will invite constitutionalist leaders to come into the City of Mexico without their armies and join him in the formation of a civil government is silly. That would be a compromise which would cause our men to desert and rally around leaders with more backbone.

"The war must be fought to a finish and the national capital entered by men who have borne the brunt of battle, as such men should enter a city they have fought to gain.

"You have told me how at the close of the great rebellion in the United States all the victorious soldiers were taken through Washington as an object lesson and that they were reviewed by the victorious generals. We must have something like that in Mexico City when we capture it. Thousands of soldiers will then go home satisfied who, if not permitted to enter the capital, will feel they have been cheated out of the fruits of victory. Carbajal's plan, if that is his plan, won't do."

Mexico City, July 14.—President Huerta today attended the French fete in celebration of the one hundred and twenty-fifth anniversary of the fall of the Bastille. He was accompanied by his daughters and son.

It is understood that no change in the government will be made before Thursday if then.

Eufelio Zapata, brother of Ameliano, the bandit chief, is said to be on his way to Saltillo to confer with Carranza regarding co-operation of the southern and northern rebels.

Vera Cruz, July 14.—Octavio Campore, head of the local rebel junta, has given out a statement tonight that he has received a code message from Mexico City to the effect that Huerta abdicated this afternoon. Other reports reaching here say that the dictator is conferring with his friends among the diplomatic corps.

Fifteen cars of material to repair the gap in the Mexican railroad outside Vera Cruz have arrived from Orizaba and that the road bed is being prepared but Colonel Insunza says he has no orders to repair the torn ties or rails.

W. C. Turner, an English rancher, in Santa Lucrécia, arrived this afternoon from the interior. He says the Japanese government is anxious in obtaining data on Mexican conditions and asserts that a captain, two lieutenants and the chief engineer of the Japanese cruiser Idzuma recently made an inspection from Salina Cruz across country to Porto Mexico.

Virginia Election September 22
Richmond, Va., July 14.—Today Governor Stuart received the petition of about 70,000 voters asking for an election on the question of state-wide prohibition. He will issue the necessary writs and the election will be held September 22. It is conceded that the state will go dry.

SET 1914 RECORD

Hartford and New Haven Play Ball for Twenty-Three Innings

New Haven, Conn., July 14.—It took Hartford twenty-three innings to defeat New Haven by a score of 2 to 1 here today. The game is believed to have established the 1914 record for length. The game took almost four hours and was made possible because it started early as the first game of a postponed double header. The second game was postponed.

The box score resembled the work of a mathematical prodigy. New Haven players have seventy-nine times at bat, getting eleven hits and scoring sixty-nine put outs and thirty-nine assists with three errors.

Hartford with seventy-three times at bat made twelve hits and accomplished its sixty-nine putouts with only thirty-five assists, being charged with five errors.

Jensen, for New Haven, and Gelff, for Hartford, both went the entire twenty-three innings with no unusual signs of distress.

The game sets an entirely new record for the Eastern association and is the longest on record in any of the local leagues, the former mark having been eighteen innings, set some years ago by Holyoke and New Haven, then in the Connecticut league.

WAS BIG DEMONSTRATION

Carpentiers' Arrival in London Wakes the Old Town Up

London, July 14.—George Carpentier's arrival this afternoon in London resulted in a wild demonstration which lasted upwards of an hour and caused a traffic blockade in the Strand which lasted even longer. Carpentier meets Gunboat Smith here Thursday night in a twenty-round battle for the white heavyweight championship of the world.

No world's champion ever received such an ovation as was given Carpentier today. A crowd of 10,000 men and women fought for points of vantage around Charing Cross station for hours before the Frenchman was due to arrive.

THOMPSON CASE

WAS CONTINUED

The Defendant Has Retained Able Counsel for Herself

FATHER WILL ASSIST

Greensboro, N. C., July 14.—The hearing of Mrs. Mabel Thompson, charged with arson, was this morning continued until next Monday, when she will be given a hearing before Judge Brown, of the municipal court, in connection with the fire in her room in the old Benbow hotel building last Saturday morning. She has been allowed bail, and is recovering rapidly from the effects of the smoke which came near suffocating her in her room before the firemen rescued her.

The defendant is represented by Judge W. P. Bynum, and the firm of King and Kimball. It is said that the prosecution will be ably represented. Mrs. Thompson and her husband no longer live together, but she will not doubt be ably assisted in her defense by her father, Hon. O. A. Starbuck, one time a state senator and now in the internal revenue service. He lives in Richmond, Va., at present but has been here since warrants were issued for his daughter. Mrs. Thompson is his youngest child and though married is still scarcely more than a girl. The family is well connected in Guilford and Forsyth counties.

The Sunday school and Christian Endeavor convention of the North Carolina and Virginia Christian conference began a three days session in the Christian church here this afternoon. Rev. H. E. Rountree made the welcoming address and the response was by Rev. J. S. Garden, of Durham. Rev. J. O. Cox, of Elon College, president of the convention, submitted the report of the executive committee. The several department superintendents submitted reports, which showed gratifying progress during the year. Other routine business was transacted, including appointment of committees, reading of reports and enrolling delegates.

Tomorrow's session will be devoted to superintendents' missions, cradle roll, home department, organized classes, primary and elementary divisions. There will be a number of addresses.

Rev. Melton Clark, of this city, addressed the convention tonight on the "Elementary Grades."

GEN. CARRANZA RETAINS TITLE

Functions Limited to Civil and Diplomatic Affairs

AGREEMENT RECEIVED

General Angeles Placed Con- trol of Military Affairs

Washington, July 14.—President Wilson, Secretary Bryan and Minister Suarez, of the A B C mediators, today received the text of the agreement reached between Carranza and his military chiefs at the Torreon conference.

It reveals that General Angeles has been placed in control of the military affairs of the revolution and that Carranza has been allowed to retain his title of "first chief," but that his functions are limited to civil and diplomatic affairs.

The protocols agreed upon between Carranza and Villa factions were reported to the state department by Consul Carothers. They are as follows:

- 1—Release of Chihuahua prisoners and money with apology.
- 2—Calzado to control railroads and coal fields.
- 3—Villa to control his column with rank same as Gonzales and Obregon.
- 4—Carranza to retain his title but with rank will be limited to civil and diplomatic matters.
- 5—(Confidential) Angeles to be in command of all other generals.
- 6—Mexico City to be reached within a month.
- 7—Objectionable politicians to be eliminated.

The placing of Calzado in charge of the railroads and coal fields represents a victory for the Villa faction. Carranza attempted to oust him, placing Tena in charge. This was the main factor that led Villa to revolt.

The Chihuahua prisoners are the Carranza officials arrested at Juarez when Villa's officers took over the customs, telegraph and other government offices there together with a large sum of constitutionalist money.

The administration is not clear as to whether General Angeles has been given supreme command of all the rebel generals or whether he is to command all generals other than Villa, Gonzales and Obregon.

The seventh clause of the protocol is the one which has made the administration apprehensive. It is feared that this portion of the agreement means the ultimate extinction of all the politicians who come under the ban of the military chiefs.

Consul Carothers stated that complete harmony followed the termination of the conference and that Villa was satisfied with Carranza's concession.

Consul Canada cabled from Vera Cruz today that the rebels were reported to have cut railroad communication between Mexico City and Porto Mexico near the Tuxtutepe. This would bar Huerta's escape by this route.

Indications that Huerta is about to escape may be false. Canada also reports that the rebels under General Aguilar in northern Vera Cruz have been severely defeated.

It was reported unofficially here today that Minister De Gama now in New York, had received a telegram from Brazilian embassy in Mexico City stating that Huerta had fled from the Mexican capital at 2 o'clock today. Neither the state department nor the Brazilian embassy here could confirm the report.

Minister Suarez, of Chile, was in conference with Secretary Bryan today. He urged Secretary Bryan to insist on a statement from Carranza concerning his attitude toward the national obligations contracted by Huerta. Secretary Bryan said he had instructed Consul Silliman to probe Carranza on this question and that he was awaiting a report.

It leaked out today that during the Torreon conference which has just ended Villa telegraphed his agents here asking them what would be the attitude of the American administration in case he should break with Carranza and declare himself the head of the constitutionalist. He was advised that the time is not ripe for such action and that he should not sever relations with Carranza until Mexico City is captured.

Mr. Robert Hackney, of the Durham seed house, has just returned from New York, where he purchased a full stock of seed for the fall season. Grasses and other feed seed were purchased.

OFF TO THE BEACH

Waldo Boone, Dixon Beale, Robert Underwood, Linwood Hicks, Henry R. L. Montgomery, Jr., Marvin Thompson, Sam Raspberry, William Roache, Masters D. H. Wilcox, Jr., and T. West Wilcox and Mrs. D. H. Wilcox left yesterday morning over the Seaboard for Buckroe Beach, where they will be in camp for fifteen days. A large tent was carried and all necessary utensils for cooking.

The boys composing the boy scout band were in high glee yesterday morning over their trip and Scoutmaster Wilcox found it more difficult to restrain them than he will after he reaches the encampment. Once the boys are there the anticipation of the trip will be gone and they will be ready to settle down and enjoy their lengthy stay on the beach.

The very excellent tent carried by the scouts was procured through the kindly assistance of Mr. T. B. Fuller, who strongly believes in the boy scout movement and is doing all in his power to advance it. The tent was priced wholesale at $60. Mr. Fuller contributed one-fifth of the purchase price and advanced the boys the remainder of the price with the understanding that the repay him the difference of $45. The boys gladly consented to do and they will, too, for the boys who are members of the scout company are big hearted determined little fellows and consider their word their bond.

OWNED SOME TIMBER

Report That Required Four Years to Make Almost Completed.

Washington, July 14.—That three corporations owned 238,000,000,000 feet, or more than eleven per cent of the privately owned timber in the United States will be shown in a report which will be published within a short time by the bureau of corporations following an investigation which has occupied four years.

Simultaneous with the conference between the head of the department of justice and the chief federal prosecutor of the New York district it became known that recently an imminent New York lawyer placed a far-reaching plan before Mr. McReynolds by which he could prosecute the New Haven directors both civilly and criminally under the Sherman anti-trust act.

What is understood to be the view of all the accused New Haven directors on the interstate commerce commission's report of its investigation of the road, however, was voiced today by John W. H. Crim, counsel for Charles S. Mellen, former president of the New Haven.

Mr. Crim frankly declared that there was ample justification in both law and reason for the acts of Mellen and his directors. He asserted likewise in a somewhat challenging spirit that he would be glad to defend any action that was begun in behalf of New Haven stockholders to compel restitution of the millions which the interstate commerce commission says were criminally wasted by the directors.

"Thereby," said Mr. Crim, "we would be able to have our side of the story presented." Adopting his client's characterization of the commission's report Mr. Crim said it was a political document.

"To say the least," he said, "the report is an eloquent denunciation of the New Haven management and the language has a peculiar melody which suggests Mr. Brandeis. The investigation essentially was a political one and it began as such in the senate. I make no attempt to explain any of the facts on our side of the case. But if the matter ever gets into a forum where the directors can explain the conclusions will be quite different."

Washington, July 14.—That one of the effects of the New Haven report yesterday will be to widen the breach between the interstate commerce commission and the department of justice was indicated today.

The department of justice takes the position that there is no law under which the New Haven directors can be prosecuted.

When inquiries of "what are you going to do about it?" were made at the department of justice, the inquirers were referred to Attorney General McReynolds' letter to Senator Norris last January in which he declared "there was no law under which the department could prosecute directors for improvident or unwise use of the stockholders' money."

HELD SECRET CONFERENCE

Discussed the Possible Pros- ecution of Direc- tors

SECRET CONFERENCE

Neither the Attorney Gen- eral Nor Assistant Would Talk

New York, July 14.—Attorney General McReynolds held a secret conference in New York today with United States District Attorney Marshall at which it is believed the criminal prosecution of the New Haven directors was discussed in great detail.

The conference was held at the Hotel Touraine, where the attorney general has apartments. When asked if the meeting would result in federal indictments based on the interstate commerce commission's report on the looting of the New Haven Mr. McReynolds replied: "I can't discuss it. I'm in a hurry to catch the Washington train."

United States District Attorney Marshall was equally secretive. "Nothing to say," he answered to all inquiries.

Simultaneous with the conference between the head of the department of justice and the chief federal prosecutor of the New York district it became known that recently an imminent New York lawyer placed a far-reaching plan before Mr. McReynolds by which he could prosecute the New Haven directors both civilly and criminally under the Sherman anti-trust act.

REACHED CRITICAL STAGE

Bill Was Sent Down in Utterly Trans- formed State.

London, July 14.—The home rule battle reached a critical stage tonight when the house of lords sent the amending bill down to the commons in an utterly transformed state, which the government cannot accept. This is made clear in an uncompromising speech by Lord Morley. Speaking for the cabinet he said:

"If this transformed bill is to be taken as your lordships last word then clearly the bill has only been an elaborate way of rejecting the home rule bill. It would have been far better had it been rejected openly."

Sir Edward Carson left Belfast hurriedly for London tonight on receipt of an urgent summons. It is stated that he is returning for a consultation regarding the amending bill.

WILL REJECT THE PRESIDENT'S MAN

Senators Think That Jones Will Not Land the Job

DEBATE WAS BITTER

Washington, July 14.—After a three hours' executive session this after- noon during which the nomination of Thomas D. Jones, of Chicago, to be a member of the federal reserve board was considered the sober judgment of unprejudiced senators was that the president's nominee would be rejected.

The debate at times was bitter and none talked more vehemently against appointing men of the business affiliation admitted by the nominee than some of the democratic members of the body. When the senate convened today republican senators were of the opinion Jones would be confirmed. So severe was the condemnation of the harvester trust and the fear of the effect of the selection for a high office of one of its managing directors that a number of democratic senators not suspected of disaffection expressed their strong dissatisfaction with the action of the president.

The democrats who are expected to vote against Jones are O'Gorman, Hitchcock, Reed, Martine, Varjaman, Lane, Ashurst and Clarke, of Arkansas. Sherman, of Illinois, is the only republican who will support him.

If the present line up continues the fate of Mr. Jones is definitely known and he will be rejected.

Today's discussion was on Mr. Hitchcock's motion to make the testimony given by Mr. Jones and the committee's report public. The merits of the case were discussed incidentally. The debate was enlivened by an attack upon Senator Hitchcock by Senator Blair Lee, of Maryland, for making public a statement alleged to have been given out by sanction of the committee concerning the character of the evidence of Mr. Jones.

Senator Lee said the committee had not authorized it and that it was a violation of the rules. Senator Lee was mildly supported by Senators Shafroth and Hollis, fellow democratic members of the committee, but Senator Reed and the republican members came to the defense of Acting Chairman Hitchcock and emphatically stated that he had been authorized to make the statement. This was the statement that was characterized by the president as "incriminated" Evidently with this white house statement in mind Senator O'Gorman reported to Mr. Lee that Mr. Hitchcock would have been justified in arising to a question of personal privilege and making the entire testimony public.

DAMAGE DONE BY HEAVY RAIN

News and Server Press Rooftops Flooded With Water

TRAFFIC STOPPED

Passengers in Union Station Forced to Roost on the Benches

Raleigh, N. C., July 14.—This city being the meeting place of two unusually heavy storm clouds, Raleigh experienced, with one exception, the usually heavy storm clouds, Raleigh weather bureau. Three and four hundredths of an inch of rain fell within fifty-five minutes. The street gutters were raging torrents and no one ventured from shelter until the storm had spent its force.

The Peoples' laundry and the Wright hotel building, both located on Martin street, were flooded with six feet of water. In the laundry building conditions were especially bad for the water stood in the basement completely submerging the laundry machinery and the water was more than one foot deep in the store rooms on the street floor.

Uzzell and company, state printers, got the full benefit of one foot of water in their press room, which are one step above the sidewalk.

The basement of the News and Observer building was flooded with five feet of water and much inconvenience as well as damage to property was caused.

But perhaps the Union station suffered more inconvenience than any other building that was flooded during the storm. The station was flooded as the Seaboard and Southern west and south bound trains arrived. Ten inches of water swept through the white and colored waiting rooms forcing hundreds of men and women to seek a dry perch on the tops of the benches.

Due to the severity of the storm the city was without electric lights or street car service for three hours or more. It was dangerous to venture outside while the storm raged and the water poured down in torrents. No fatalities have been reported.

ACCIDENT ON SOUTHERN

Negro Man Struck by East Bound Southern Train

William Carson, colored, was struck and knocked from the railroad by east bound Southern train number 131 a mile east of Greensboro Sunday morning. He was given medical attention and then carried to Greensboro for other treatment. Carson's shoulder was struck by the "cow catcher" and badly bruised and his face was badly lacerated when he was thrown to the ground.

Passengers on the train said that the negro was sitting on the end of a cross tie and that the engineer blew repeatedly for him to get out of the way. Apparently the man was asleep or in a stupor for he made no effort to seek safety and that the engineer then slowed down. That the train was not running at a high rate of speed when the accident occurred.

The Herald would have printed this article a day earlier but it was impossible to learn anything from the railroad officials. A reporter got wind of the affair but was informed indirectly by the dispatcher that the report was false. Yesterday passengers who were on the train told of the accident.
