G. G. Dickson returned to this city yesterday afternoon after spending several days with friends at Parkersburg.

Following Friend's Advice

After trying Fruitola and Traxo, Mrs. C. L. Clark, 840 Melba St., Dallas, Texas, wrote to the Pinus laboratories as follows:

"I have been a sufferer from gall-stones, and Fruitola and Traxo was recommended and I am glad to say I took advantage of your most wonderful medicine, with wonderful results."

Fruitola and Traxo are two remedies that are used in combination. Fruitola acts on the intestinal organs as a powerful lubricant, softening the congested waste and breaking up the hardened particles so that easy elimination follows quickly, to the great relief of the patient. Traxo is a compound of splendid tonic properties of special value in strengthening and restoring the system that has been weakened by constant suffering.

The Pinus laboratories have many letters on file testifying to the merit of Fruitola and Traxo; letters from people who have used the remedy and know from actual experience what it has done for them. For the convenience of the public, arrangements have been made to supply Fruitola and Traxo through leading drug stores. In Durham they can be obtained at Paragon Pharmacy, phone 224; and in East Durham at the East End Drug Co., phone 105; and Crabtree Pharmacy, phone 650.

WILL FINANCE DURHAM TEAM

Plans Made to Raise the $1,000 Needed at Once and Other Money

TO HAVE TICKET SALE

Young Men's Club Will Put on Contest and Offer Coat Suits

At a meeting of the stockholders of the Durham Athletic association held in the Cigar store last night plans were made to raise the money that is necessary to finance the team for the remainder of the season, or the money that will be needed to pay off the players on the next pay day. That will be done by asking some of the fans and the business men to sign a joint note for $1,000.

This will secure the necessary money for the immediate needs of the club. In order to get money with which to pay off this note at the end of the playing season, and also to help the money side of the present slump a committee from the different organizations of the city was appointed to put on a week's campaign for the sale of tickets, good for any game this season for one dollar a ticket. The committee elected by the stockholders was composed of Messrs. Burke Hobgood, chairman, of the Young Men's club; S. C. Chambers, of the Commercial club; R. A. Knight, of the Merchant's association, and Mr. J. G. Huckabee, of the Elks Club.

Immediately after the meeting of the stockholders held a conference and worked out a plan for the campaign. The committee was charged with devising some means of raising as much money as possible sometime in the near future. The plan that was settled on by the committee was this:

Beginning today as many young ladies as will get into the running will be asked to help in the sale of these tickets for the benefit of the baseball club at a dollar a piece. Two coat suits will be offered as prizes for the contestants. The young lady turning in the largest amount of money to the Athletic association will be given a $35 new fall coat suit. The young lady selling the second highest number of tickets and one simoleon each will be given a new fall coat suit worth $25. The winners of this contest can make their selection of the garments at this price from the stock of the Ellis, Stone & Co.

The contest will be open to any young lady in the city. It will run for one week, the six days during which the club will be playing in the city. Instead of the actual tickets the young ladies will be asked to sell badges which will be printed, and which will entitle the wearer to get into any of the games that may be played during the remainder of the season.

These badges will be printed today. They will be for distribution at the office of the president of the association on the fourth floor of the First National bank building. Those contemplating entering the contest can also get any further information about it from the office of the president, either over the phone or by going to the office.

President Bramham acted as chairman of the meeting of the stockholders last night and explained the present situation to those present. He said that the other clubs in the league had already made some financial arrangements for the remainder of the season, with the exception of Raleigh, and a meeting has been called in that town for Friday evening to discuss the proposition for the Mackmen. Raleigh is about $2,500 to the bad, and the other clubs in the league, with the exception of Asheville, which is financed by several of the rich men of that town, are in worse shape than the local club.

Secretary Williams read the figures of attendance for the games played in Durham, showing that it was about half what it was last year. It was stated that it would take about $200 to pay up the current bills of the club, and something like $300 more to meet the salaries on the next pay day. There were talks by several of those present including Mr. J. S. Hill, Mr. M. E. Newsom, Mr. R. A. Knight, Mr. N. E. Green and others. These gentlemen favored the idea of Mr. Bramham that the joint note for a thousand dollars to be signed by something like 25 men be secured to take care of the temporary expenses of the club. About fifteen names were signed to the note before the meeting adjourned.

Then the committee was appointed to see what could be done towards boosting the attendance at the games for the remainder of the season, and the contest explained above was the scheme this committee worked out.

FIRE IN EAST DURHAM.

Residence Belonging to Elder Joseph Hall Destroyed Last Night.

In response to a telephone message reaching the station about 9:45 last night, several companies of the local fire department hurried to a residence on North street, East Durham, which belonged to Elder Joseph Hall, of Roxboro, and was occupied by Mr. Thomas Cutts and family, only to find it almost completely destroyed and beyond the reach of their assistance. The house, which contained about five rooms, was burned completely to the ground, and very little, if any, of the furniture was saved.

Mrs. Cutts had left the house for a drug store not far away, and when she returned, the house was enveloped in flames. Alarm had already been given, but nothing could be done towards saving either the building or the furnishings. The origin of the flames is unknown.

The damage is estimated at approximately $1,000, and it is thought that it was partly covered by insurance.

RELIEVED OF THE SENTENCE

W. H. Hesse Took Down His Appeal and Will Not Serve His Time

HE PAYS FINE OF $150

Ends an Interesting Case in Which White Man Was Charged With Retailing

W. H. Hesse, who took an appeal before the recorder from the fine of $150 and the sentence of six months which was imposed at the conclusion of the trial of the case in which Hesse was convicted of selling whiskey, appeared before the court yesterday and gave notice that he wanted to withdraw the appeal.

The road sentence with withdrawal and Hesse will pay the $150 fine.

Hesse is a white man. This time was the second occasion of his being convicted for illicit dealings in whiskey.

The convicted man was required to give a bond and appear before the recorder from time to time to show that he was no longer connected with the whiskey business. He will also be required to pay the fine. Only the road sentence was stricken out. Hesse also promised the court that he would not further engage in the illicit business.

Such a disposition of the case was deemed a wise one because it will give the court a supervision of his place of business. He was packed up along with a number of other defendants who were charged with selling whiskey to a detective. It was the second time Hesse had been before the recorder on a charge of dealing in whiskey. The first time he was fined heavily. The second time, following a custom of the court when a man is up the second time for retailing, a road sentence was added to the fine.

Notice of an appeal to the superior court was immediately given and that notice has been standing since the trial of the case in the lower court. Just at the present time the clerk of the recorder's court is making up his appeals and turning them over to the clerk of the superior court in order that they may be docketed for the August term of the criminal session of the higher court. Hesse's withdrawal of his appeal just at this time and the settlement of the case against him by the payment of the fine, gets that case out of the court so far as he is concerned.

He was perfectly willing to settle the matter by paying the fine, and was able to give the bond required for his appearance to show good behavior. He was glad to make the promise to stop handling whiskey, and it seems that he is making the promise in good faith.

It was charged in the evidence brought out in the trial of the case before the recorder that Hesse was selling whiskey in connection with a furniture store across the street from the municipal building on Corcoran street. The place had been under the surveillance of the police department for some time, but they were never able to get any case against the owner. In this final effort by the department the detective was sent into the place and in order to substantiate his evidence and to pile up circumstantial evidence against the man, members of the department watched the place for a week or more, took down the amount of goods that was carried out of the store during the week, and also the names of the people who visited the place. The reading out of a number of these names caused a good deal of commotion in the city at the time of the trial.

Mrs. E. S. Merritt left yesterday for Chapel Hill.
