THE BETTER THING.

It is better to lose with a conscience clean

Than to win by a trick unfair;
It is better to fail, and to know you've been.

Whatever the prize was, square,
Than to claim the joy of a far off goal
And the cheers of the standers-by.
And to know down deep in your inmost soul
A cheat you must live and die.

Who wins by trick may take the prize,
And at first he may think it sweet,
But many a day in the future lies
When he'll wish he had met defeat,
For the man who lost shall be glad at heart
And walk with his head up high.
While his conquerer knows he must play the part
Of a cheat and a living lie

The prize seems fair when the fight is on,
But, save it is truly won,
You will hate the thing when the crowds are gone

For it stands for a false deed done,
And it's better you never should reach your goal

Than ever success to buy
At the price of knowing down in your soul
That your glory is all a lie.

MISS ERWIN HONOREE AT DINNER PARTY.

Messrs. C. B. Bryant and Edwin Lipscomb entertained last evening at 7:30 at the Southern Manufacturers' club at a dinner party in honor of Miss Margaret Erwin, of Durham, guest and sister of Mrs. Hamilton C. Jones, Jr., at Garland Court, and Miss Katherine Gibbs, of Alstead, N. H., guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Van Landingham at their home on the Plaza, Chatham estates.

Miss Erwin was gowned in white satin with spangled net overdress and corsage of orchids and lilies of the valley; Miss Gibbs in white lace over silk, with corsage of orchids and lilies of the valley.

Messrs. Bryant and Lipscomb were delightfully au fait as hosts.

The guests were Miss Erwin and Mr. Bryant; Miss Gibbs and Mr. Lipscomb; Miss Rebecca Michie, of Durham, and Mr. W. Heyward McCabe, Jr., Miss Bennetta Heath and Mr. Phil McMahon; Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Chamberlain Jones, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Van Landingham; Mr. and Mrs. Ike C. Lowe.—Charlotte News.

LEE-JACKSON MEMORIAL SERVICES.

The Julian S. Carr chapter of the United Daughters of Confederacy held their annual memorial services to Robert E. Lee and Stonewall Jackson yesterday afternoon at the Carolina hotel at 3:30 o'clock. A large attendance of Confederate veterans were present.

The president, Mrs. E. C. Brooks, presided and opened the meeting, repeating the Lord's prayer. Superintendent E. D. Pusey made a most interesting talk on the lives of Lee and Jackson. Other features of the program greatly enjoyed was the reading by Miss Claudia Lewis, entitled, "The Conquered Banner," by Father Ryan.

Mrs. W. M. Yearby sang in her clear, sweet soprano, "Mother Machree," "The Soldier's Grave," a reading by Miss Elizabeth Tyree.

Duet by Mrs. J. M. Manning and W. M. Yearby.

Immediately following the exercises tea and wafers were served by Miss Sarah Brooks, Frances Maher, Eliza Beth Tyree, Louise Ballington and Master Eugene Erwin.

The parlors of the hotel were attractively decorated with Confederate flags, ferns and beautiful potted flowers.

Miss Claudia Lewis and Miss Elizabeth Tyree were members of the Lee-Jackson chapter, taking prominent parts in the exercises of the afternoon.

WILL ARRIVE MONDAY.

Miss Mary Bryan Griswold, who has been spending several months in New York with her aunt, Mrs. T. L. Williamson, is expected to arrive in the city Monday. En route home Miss Griswold will stop in Washington, going up to Annapolis to attend a "shop."

STRIPPED TABLE CLOTHS.

Household linens are of never-failing interest. The diagonal and horizontal striped cloths are still much used, and are likely to be this winter; but for the banquet cloth the plain white damask, with the double four-inch satin borders is still a fashion leader, notes the Philadelphia Record. There has been an effort to revive fringed table linen, with the Flemish knotted fringe, but without success.

It is so difficult to keep in proper order, and it is soon so ragged and matted.

Initials on the embroidery cloths have become smaller, which is to be expected, for in color they would look out of place. Those used on the white cloths are still the four-inch letters, which are placed 18 inches from the center of the cloth so as to lay between the carver's platter and the edge of the centerpiece.

Many Egyptian patterns are shown, which are really very decorative.

THURSDAY LITERARY DAY.

The three literary club meetings are scheduled for this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. The Tourist will be entertained by Mrs. C. W. Toms, the Halcyons members to meet with Mrs. C. C. Thomas on Dillard street, and Mrs. J. M. Manning will be hostess to the Up-to-Dates. Another event for today's social calendar will include the dance at the country club this evening from 9 to 12. The young men of the city will be hosts on this occasion.

GERALDINE FARRAR.

In conversation with Mr. W. H. Overton, who is looking after the securing of a special train if possible to bring those who attend the Geraldine Farrar concert back from Raleigh after the concert, he states that unless the full quota of eighty are secured by tomorrow evening, no special train can be secured. Any who desire to take the matter up may telephone No. 219.

MRS. PARRISH MUCH BETTER.

Mrs. E. J. Parrish was able to be out yesterday for the first time in a week, having been confined to her room with a deep cold.

Play at Bethesda.

Thirty people will present the "Deestrick Skull" at the Bethesda school Friday night. The public is invited.

PERSONAL MENTION

O. T. Powell, of Baltimore, is visiting his brother, Capt. R. H. Powell, in the city.

Miss Hazie Moser, of Charlotte, Miss Alma Council and Carl Moser, of University, were Durham visitors yesterday.

Mrs. J. H. Hammond, of Cedar Grove, arrived last night and is the guest of Mrs. G. H. Beck.

L. C. Brogden, of Raleigh, spent a short while in the city yesterday on the return to his home from Creedmore.

To Meet Tonight.

The entrapment of Odd Fellows will meet in their hall tonight and all members are urged to be present as there is quite a bit of work to be attended to. Another thing that will be of interest to those members who are not already informed is that regular meetings are to be held on the first and third Thursday nights rather than on the second and fourth as has been the custom.

IN THE KITCHEN AND PANTRY

LUNCHEON consisting of a puree of vegetables, salmon croquettes, radish salad, creamed potatoes and strawberry whip is one of the possibilities within reach of the home cook.

Puree of Asparagus.
Salmon Croquettes.
Radish Salad.
Strawberry Whip.
Creamed Potatoes.
Cake.
Iced Tea.

Puree of Asparagus.

Boil the sticks of a large bunch of asparagus in a pint of salted water until very tender; boil the asparagus "tops" in a separate dish with just enough water to cover. When the sticks are tender press hard through a colander. Cream together one tablespoonful of butter and one tablespoonful of flour, add gradually the water which has been strained from the asparagus, add one pint of rich milk and strain. Add to this the asparagus "tops" with the little water in which they were cooked. Add one cupful of whipped cream and serve with fried croutons, which are best made by frying cubes of bread in hot lard like doughnuts.

Salmon Croquettes.

Take one-half can of salmon, cut it up fine, season with a little salt and white pepper. Boil and mash three or four potatoes and mix with the salmon. Form in egg shaped croquettes, dip them in egg then in cracker crumbs. Fry in very hot fat. Drain them on brown paper, put on a hot platter. Garnish with parsley.

Breaded Veal Cutlets.

Dredge veal with flour, dip in eggs, then in bread or cracker crumbs. Brown in hot fat, cover with milk and cook in very slow oven until tender.

Radish Salad.

Scrape well four large radishes, cut them into thin slices and put them into a salad bowl. Peel and slice a moderate sized cucumber and put with the radishes. Mix in equal quantities of salad oil and vinegar season with salt and pepper and pour the mixture over the salad. Sprinkle chopped capers and herbs over and serve.

Strawberry Whip.

Hull one quart of fresh, ripe strawberries, sprinkle with a liberal amount of sugar, mash, add the juice of one orange and let stand one hour. Beat the whites of four eggs until stiff, then add berries previously rubbed through a sieve and beat until stiff and smooth. Line a dish with sponge or delicate cake, fill with the whip and garnish the top with whole berries. Serve at once.

Hollandaise Sauce.

One-half cup of butter, two egg yolks, one tablespoon lemon juice, quarter teaspoon of salt and one-third cup of water. Cook over a low fire as you would a custard.

FOOD PROBLEM MORE SERIOUS

Petrograd, Jan. 18.—Due to the lack of transportation facility, the food problem in Russia is serious. The Novoe Vremya says:

"Demands for foodstuffs are coming from all parts of the empire and they are getting more and more urgent. The large cities, like Petrograd and Moscow, are short of almost everything. If they have meat and sugar enough for a short time, then there is a lack of bread. When more grain and flour arrive meat and sugar supply is used up. Something is always missing."

"The laboring classes are suffering terribly, although there is enough food in Russia to sustain the population for two or three years. In the rural districts enormous quantities of wheat, butter, lard and meat are waiting shipment, but the railroad facilities are insufficient, and the transportation service has been completely disorganized for many months. The blame for these conditions has to be placed on the shoulders of certain high officials, who not only prevented the building of more railroads before the war, but are incapable of running those in existence efficiently."

"Even in the Caucasus, only a comparatively short distance from the granaries of southern Russia, the population of the larger cities faces starvation. In some of these cities the bakeries have been stormed by mobs and the military authorities had to take drastic measures to prevent serious riots."

"If the minister of the interior does not act quickly to solve the food and transportation problem grave disorders are sure to follow, because hungry mobs know no law. The question of feeding the millions in the large cities and industrial centres is more important just now than military successes at the front. The people must at once be supplied with sufficient food, even if the military transports have to be stopped for a few weeks. The promised great offensive, by which the Baltic provinces and Poland are to be cleared of the enemy, can wait. There is no hurry, because our army will only become stronger, if the deciding campaign is postponed until spring, or even later."

BUILDERS CLOSE THEIR SESSION

Greensboro, N. C., Jan. 19.—The builders exchange association of North Carolina closed the two days session here this evening with a banquet at the McAdoo hotel, attended by about 75 members. Officers of the exchange for the year are: J. T. Saimon, Durham, president; J. R. McClamroch, Greensboro, vice-president; Joe W. Stout, Sanford, second vice-president; Philip Williams, secretary and L. G. Berry, treasurer. J. R. Burch, of this city, is traffic manager. Sessions were held this morning and afternoon. Several matters of business were considered, and the visitors were given an automobile ride over the city in the afternoon.

The state board of optometry announces the following as successful candidates to practice the profession in the state, as a result of the examinations held here this week: Henry B. Day, of Winston. E. F. Harbour, of Rockford; Samuel Robinson, of Asheville. There were eight successful candidates and five who were unsuccessful. Dr. Charles H. Honess, of Asheville, was re-elected president of the examining board and Dr. J. W. Taylor, of this city, was re-elected secretary. The next meeting of the board will be held in High Point July 11-12. A new act of the general assembly provides that after July, 1917, all applicants for license must have a high school certificate and a diploma from a school of optometry. The board is attempting each year to raise the standard of requirements. The examinations include both theory and practice and the candidate must make 75 per cent grades.

Hon. Clinton Rogers Woodruff, of Philadelphia, secretary of the national municipal league, will speak here Sunday under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. on the subject, "Christian Citizenship and the Making of a City."

SOLDIER BOY AT ONLY FOURTEEN

London, Jan. 19.—Yarmouth car probably claim the distinction of having supplied the British army with its youngest soldier. He is Private George Carr, of the 5th Norfolk, who was born on December 21, 1900, and enlisted in March last, being then only just over fourteen years of age. He took part in the landing at Suvla Bay, where his regiment suffered heavily, and continued fighting for two months before being invalided home with dysentery.

His mother said today that she and his father, who is in the national reserve, did not know of her son's leaving for Gallipoli until almost the eve of his departure, and she wanted her husband to stop him from going. "But," she said, "the boy pleaded so hard that his father said, 'if he is so set on going, let him go.'" The boy's health is improving, and his mother says that he is anxious to rejoin his regiment.
