

DESIRE FOR SLEEP COSTS MAN $3,000

J. F. Bowman Shot Trousers Off Man Because Radio Set Was Disturbing His Sleep

Greenville, Aug. 28.—A late blaring radio, a pistol, a pair of pants, the dignity that attaches thereunto and a judge added up to $3,000 plus costs in Pitt Superior court today.

J. Francis Bowen was minus the $3,000 plus, it having been subtracted from his bank roll by Judge Walter Bowen and divided between Pitt county ($250 and the plus) and T. D. Phillips ($2,750 damages for humiliation and injury).

Phillips owned the radio, the pants and the dignity. Bowen owned the pistol and a desire to sleep.

The radio, he said, multiplied disturbances until his sleep was but a fraction of what it had been. He called on Phillips late one evening and implored him to decimate the noise. Phillips refused. Bowen fired.

The bullet struck Phillip's belt buckle, unfastening the belt which let the pants fall which humiliated Phillips. Forcible trespass cost the $250. Carrying a concealed weapon brought a six months suspended sentence.

Bowen pleaded guilty to everything.

ONLY FIREMAN CAN STUDY LAW WHILE AT WORK

Charlotte, Aug. 28.—They gave Private Daniel Edward McShane, of the Charlotte Fire Department, a testimonial dinner, here last night just to let him know that his mates are proud of the fact that he passed the State Bar examination last week.

After the fire laddies had been forced to leave their banquet seats twice in answer to screaming sirens, McShane, the fireman-lawyer, responded to calls of "speech, speech."

Blushing, he rose to his feet. His voice trembling with feeling.

"All I have to say is," he remarked, "no other job in the world would have given me time enough to read law while at work."

Three guesses, and you'll be wrong each time. It's merely a striking view of the Delaware River bridge at Philadelphia taken from a most unusual angle.

SCHOOL BOARD HOLDS SESSION

First Monday in Yadkin Is Usual Routine Affair; Schools Open Oct. 13

Yadkinville, Oct. 1.—Meeting in regular session today, the Board of Commissioners and the Board of Education transacted quite a volume of business. This being a busy time of the year, with a majority of the farmers at work in their fields saving the tobacco crop, the "first Monday" crowd in the county seat town was small.

Prof. C. W. Riden has fixed the tentative date of the opening of the free schools of the county for October 13, next. It is understood that the Booneville High School will open on September 22, which is a few days later than the opening date last year.

It is learned that the outlook for a considerably enlarged enrollment at Yadkinville High School is practically assured. There were 181 enrolled in the high school department last year, but Prof. R. H. Crater, who is again principal of the school, anticipates more than 200 this time. The faculty of the school at Yadkinville this year includes the following: Prof. R. H. Crater, principal; Nelson Ireland, history; Mary Harding, English and Latin; Mildred Holton, mathematics and French; B. H. Harding, science; Mrs. H. M. Hinchaw, home economics. Grade teachers include the following: Miss Madeline Johnson, first grade; Miss Mildred Logan, second; Miss Sarah Holcomb, third and fourth; Mrs. R. H. Crater, fifth and sixth; Walsler Hudspeth, seventh; Miss Caroline Bell, music department.

AUTO TRAGEDIES FOR YEAR SHOW INCREASE

Accident Victims for 52-Weeks Period Total 8,720 Against 7,987 in 1929

Washington, Aug. 24. — There were 621 deaths from automobile accidents reported to the department of commerce from 78 large cities during the four weeks ending August 9, compared to 660 such deaths for the period ending August 10, 1929.

During the four-week period this year 474 of the deaths occurred within the corporate limits of the reporting cities, compared to 532 in the corporate limits for the period last year.

For the 52 weeks ending August 9 this year the death toll from automobile accidents was 8,720 for the 78 cities, compared to 7,987 for the 52-weeks ending Aug. 10, 1929. This indicated a recent rate of 25.3 deaths per 100,000 population in automobile accidents as against a rate of 23.6 per 100,000 for the 52 weeks ending in 1929.

$1 A POUND FOR MELONS

Hope, Ark., August 28.—Watermelon sold for more than one dollar a pound here today.

But in this instance it was "Jumbo," Hempstead County's title aspirant to the watermelon championship, which went on the auction block.

"Jumbo," weighing 150 3/4 pounds went to the successful bidder for $196. Plans are being made to take "Jumbo" to Boston as the official watermelon delegate from Arkansas to the American Legion Convention in October.

A SERIAL WHICH EVERY WOMAN WILL GET A THRILL OUT OF

JULIE FARROW, the wicked Julie Farrow, drove young Rodney Ardron to suicide. GILES CHITTENHAM, Rodney's older half-brother, met her and swore to avenge Rodney. He would make Julie suffer as Rodney had suffered.

Then Fate took a hand. Giles made Julie Love him, then he cast her aside—but it was the wrong Julie Farrow! The girl whom he had punished was not the one who had ruined Rodney, but her cousin. And Giles found that he was overwhelmingly in love with her! As if that were not enough, Giles was already married.

Those are the materials out of which Ruby M. Ayres has woven this intriguing romance of wasted lives and broken hearts. It is a story which holds the reader from the first word to the last.

"BROKEN" begins in this paper this week.
