Riding upon the crest of a wave of ever mounting votes, Franklin D. Roosevelt's lead over President Herbert Hoover at noon Wednesday had amounted to a total popular vote of 13,468,593 to his opponent's 9,990,432.

Governor Roosevelt's lead became apparent early Tuesday night as the returns began to trickle in from various parts of the nation, many leading Republicans and Republican newspapers conceding the election even before all states had reported.

At 12:30 a. m. President Hoover, from his home in California, conceded the election to Governor Roosevelt, sending him the following wire from alo Alto, California: "Honorable Franklin D. Roosevelt, 'Biltmore Hotel, New York."

"I congratulate you on the opportunity that has come to you to be of service to the country and I wish for you a most successful administration. In the common purpose of all of us I shall dedicate myself to every possible helpful effort."
