MANY ARE ROCKING IN CHAIR MARATHON

Baby Parade Is To Be Feature Of Friday Night

The rocking chair marathon, staged under the direction of Lippincott, the Magician, got under way at McNeer's warehouse Tuesday evening with nearly a dozen contestants who evidently like to sit down anyway, rocking away as the main attraction. With but one exception all of the rockers are men and boys.

It was announced Wednesday that the marathon, originally advertised for this week only, will continue on into next week and will last until all the rockers are eliminated but one. It was also stated that a baby parade, open for babies in the baby buggy stage, will be held Friday evening at 8 o'clock, the parade to begin and end at the warehouse door. Attractive and useful prizes are to be given the winners. Either mother or nurse is eligible to wheel the children in the parade. A baby bathing beauty contest is scheduled for tonight at 8 o'clock, handsome prizes also going to the winner.

In addition to the rockers, a variety of entertainment is available for those who attend the marathon, including music and bird imitation by Garley Foster, the human bird; mysterious feats of magic by Lippincott, and a number of animals including a large black bear, a fox, monkeys, etc.

No afternoon shows will be given except on Saturday. Performances during the evening are at 8 and 9:30.

Timely Farm Questions Answered At N. C. State

Question: Should cod liver oil be fed to growing pullets during the summer?

Answer: If there is an abundant supply of succulent green feed and the ration is properly balanced the oil may be left out of the ration. During the dry months, however, the grass or green feed becomes fibrous and unpalatable and the oil should be fed. A four per cent alfalfa leaf meal will also aid in making up this deficiency in the green feed.

Question: How much grain should be fed to a dairy cow as a supplement to pasture in the summer?

Answer: The average-sized cow can consume only enough grass to maintain her body and to produce about two gallons of milk a day. Additional production demands a supplement in the form of a grain mixture containing from 13 to 16 per cent digestible protein and this should be fed at the rate of one pound of mixture to each 5 to 7 pounds of total milk production each day.

Question: What vegetables do you recommend for the fall garden and when should they be planted?

Answer: There are five vegetables that should be grown in every fall garden. These are snap beans, turnips, collards, cowpeas and Irish potatoes. Other desirable ones are cabbage, beets, kale, tomatoes, lettuce and sweet corn. A complete list of these fall vegetables together with planting dates is given in Extension Folder 31 and copies of this folder will be mailed free upon application to the Agricultural Editor, State College Station, Raleigh, N. C.

Farm Act Is In Practical Hands

The pledge that the "Agricultural Adjustment Act will be administered by practical men in a practical fashion," made by Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace, himself farmed and a farm owner, is being fulfilled in the appointments of administrative officers of the Act made thus far.

George N. Peek, Federal Administrator of the Act; Charles J. Brand, his associate; Chester C. Davis, in charge of production phases, M. L. Wilson, directly concerned with wheat, and C. A. Cobb, concerned with cotton, were all born on farms and have farmed for a living.

Mr. Peek has been engaged in work for farm relief since 1921. He was president of the American Council of Agriculture in 1924. He was engaged for a long time in the manufacture of agricultural implements at Moline, Ill., and for the past 20 years has owned farms in Colorado.

Mr. Brand, born on a farm in Minnesota, has spent his life in work connected with agriculture. Brand was the first head of the Bureau of Markets of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Chester C. Davis, born on an Iowa farm, spent the first 20 years of his life there, and later owned and operated a farm of his own.

M. L. Wilson was also born on an Iowa farm. He farmed in Nebraska as a renter when he was 21, homesteaded in Montana, managed a tractor-operated farm there, and was one of the first two county agents in the State.

C. A. Cobb farmed in Tennessee before going to the A. & M. College of Mississippi. For years, he was Editor of the Southern Ruralist in Atlanta.
