'BUY NOW' PROGRAM IS UNDERWAY; LOCAL MEN ARE APPOINTED

Program Is An Attack On The Depression From New Angle

URGE FOLKS TO BUY

Swinging into line with the rest of America in the great "Now Is the Time to Buy" movement, Elkin has already developed an organization and is ready to go ahead with the drive just as rapidly as preliminary details can be worked out. In a statement today, C. G. Armfield, chairman of the local committee, made it clear that everything possible will be done by this group to speed up business in accordance with the plans outlined by the N. R. A. in Washington.

A. L. Griffith, manager of J. C. Penney Co., and E. S. Spainhour, manager of Snyder-Spainhour Co., were designated as a committee to have charge of the Buy Now movement here.

"This program is an attack on the depression from an entirely different angle than anything that has been done before," said Chairman Armfield today. "We are attacking the depression with the weapons of salesmanship. We all know that during the last three years or more there has been great lack of buying by individuals, family groups and business organizations. The present nation-wide campaign is simply a drive to get people to buy things they would have been buying during the last three years or so if it had not been for their fear complex."

"Of course, we are well aware of the fact that there are some people who can not afford to do any special buying at this time. But they are very much in the minority. Most families in Elkin can make at least some extra purchases."

"The object of our efforts will be to convince such persons that it will be to their interest to buy the things that under ordinary circum-

Cow From Klondike to Go To Little America With Byrd Expedition

Klondike Gay Carteret, Purebred Guernsey, to be Loaded Aboard Supply Ship At Norfolk Saturday Or Sunday for Trip to Frozen Wastes of the Antarctic. Will Help Supply Expedition With Fresh Cream and Milk

Milk and cream, served fresh from the udder of a purebred Klondike Guernsey cow in the frozen wastes of the Antarctic will greet members of the South Pole expedition of Admiral Richard E. Byrd during their forthcoming two-year sojourn at the bottom of the world.

The cow, Klondike Gay Carteret, will be loaded at Norfolk Saturday or Sunday aboard the Jacob Ruppert, supply ship for the south pole expedition, and will sail shortly for "down under."

Ruohs Pyron, manager of the farm, was notified Monday by H. C. Bates, southern representative of the American Guernsey Cattle Club that Klondike Gay Carteret was one of five cows selected to supply the expedition with cream, butter and buttermilk. It will be the first cow that has been taken to the vicinity of either pole, and will be in the nature of an experiment as well as for the purpose of supplying the expedition with fresh dairy products. The other four cows to be aboard the ship were selected from distant parts of the country.

A daughter of Klondike's famous sire, Foremost's Gay Lad, Klondike Gay Carteret is an expectant mother, her calf due to arrive about Christmas. Blankets for her protection while in the Antarctic have been provided.

Although it is not known what arrangements are to be made for the cows in Little America, it is possible the local cow and her four companions will spend the next two years aboard ship.

"CAP" WOODHOUSE IS BURIED SUNDAY

Killed Saturday When Racer Plunged Over Embankment

Huge crowds attended the funeral at Boonville Sunday afternoon for C. O. "Cap" Woodhouse, 35, who received fatal injuries Saturday at the Winston-Salem fairgrounds when his racer catapulted over a 50-foot embankment. Death came four hours later in a Winston hospital from internal injuries and a fracture of the skull.

The race at the fairgrounds was Woodhouse's first AAA competition, although he had been entered in numerous auto races in past years. He was driving a Model A Ford special racing car and when it crashed was traveling at about 60 miles an hour. The field, slowing for the turn, bunched, forcing Woodhouse to swing wide. Waiting too long, he cramped his turn, throwing his machine sideways and tall first into the railing.

Woodhouse, a native of Boonville, but for past years a resident of Winston-Salem, was well known here. He was a member of one of the best known and highly respected families in Yadkin county. He was a son of Mrs. M. J. Woodhouse of Boonville, and was a member of the Boonville Baptist church. He was married to Miss Rena Wood, of Mount Airy, about six years ago.

Surviving are the widow; two children, one daughter, Bobbie, and one son, Jimmie; his mother; four brothers, Frank Woodhouse, of Boonville; Waldon Woodhouse, of White Oak; Weldon Woodhouse, of Dinabur, Calif.; and Bright Woodhouse, of Atlanta; one sister, Mrs. Hedge Gibson, of High Point.

The funeral rites were held at 4 o'clock from Boonville Baptist church in charge of Rev. V. M. Swain. Burial was in the church cemetery.

TOBACCO FARMERS BETTER SATISFIED

Middle Belt Opens With Price Range From 15c to 17c

While negotiations for the flue-cured tobacco code were still apparently deadlocked, but with growers hoping for an early settlement North Carolina's ten middle belt markets opened yesterday with warehouses jammed and prices ranging from 15 to 17 cents according to unofficial averages.

Growers apparently were better pleased with prices than were eastern planters when the bright belt opened.

The crop was reported to be the best in several years and higher grades predominated.

With the largest opening in several years, Durham warehouses sold approximately 425,000 pounds at an average of from 16 to 17 cents, according to L. G. Cheek, sales supervisor. Tobacco farmers appeared to be satisfied with the prices, particularly those for the middle grades. The better and the poorer quality leaf did not bring as relatively as good prices as the middle grades.

Henderson registered opening prices 40 to 50 per cent higher than last year. Prices ranged from $10 to $35 for smoking tobacco and from $5 to $18 for tips. Had it not been for the large quantity of tips and primings prices would have reached the parity price of 17 cents, warehousemen said. Approximately 650,000 pounds were offered.

MAN WITH 4 WIVES GETS THREE YEARS

Charge of Embezzlement Against E. C. James Nol Prossed

Henry Wallace, white, of the Mountain Park section, was Tuesday sentenced to serve three years on the roads, by Judge J. H. Clements, presiding over the current session of Surry criminal court, on a charge of bigamy. A second sentence of six months, to run concurrently with the three year term, was imposed following Wallace's conviction of assault on a female.

Evidence disclosed that Wallace had four wives, two living and two dead, and that his attentions to a fifth woman brought about his downfall.

A nol pross was taken in one case of embezzlement against E. C. James, of Elkin. A second charge of embezzlement was continued until the next term of court.

According to the evidence in the nol prossed case, James, who was alleged to have embezzled $600 from the funds of the Elkin-Jonesville Building and Loan association while he was acting as secretary approximately 10 years ago, was responsible for the shortage through ignorance of the building and loan system of book keeping. It was also brought out that the shortage was repaid to the association by Mr. James shortly after it was revealed by audit.

Dr. J. D. Hogaa, prominent Mount Airy dentist, charged with manslaughter, saw his case continued until the next term of court.

Other cases of minor nature have been disposed of.

WORK OF MARKING STREETS IS BEGUN

Improvement Noted In Traffic Situation At Once

The task of lining off the streets in the business district for 45 degree parking, as authorized by the board of town commissioners last Wednesday night, was begun here Monday.

Due to the fact that the streets are not wide enough for this form of parking on both sides, 45 degree parking will be allowed only on one side of the street, automobiles to be parked parallel with the curb on the opposite side.

Although all of the streets have not yet been marked, a decided improvement in the double parking situation has been noted on Main street, on which the process of marking was completed Tuesday.

It is understood the commissioners took no action upon a suggestion that local streets be marked with names, or that all business houses and residences be numbered.

It won't be long now before the dregs will sit back and tell the wets to take care of the whisky problem.

TOWN FATHERS HOLD MEETING WEDNESDAY NIGHT; WAR ON RATS

Close Pool Room And Rearrange Downtown Parking System

PASS ORDINANCE

Meeting Wednesday night, the town board of commissioners closed a pool room, rearranged traffic on downtown streets and declared war on local rats, not to mention the passing of an ordinance forbidding anyone to dig a grave in Hollywood cemetery without first presenting a deed or other evidence showing that they had purchased and paid for the burial plot.

In closing the pool room, which was located on South Bridge street and operated presumably for negroes, it was brought out that the place had acquired a reputation of being very disorderly and that mixed play between whites and negroes had been allowed. A fight there, resulting in one of the participants landing in jail, was also thrown in as evidence against the place.

In declaring war on Elkin rats, the commissioners acquired the services of a Mr. Lockmore, who, assisted by local citizens, will spread the rat poison. This poison, it is claimed, will also prove fatal to various and sundry bugs who may partake of it.

The graveyard ordinance was to the effect that no one shall be permitted to dig a grave in Hollywood cemetery without first showing ownership of the burial plot. In a number of past instances burials have taken place in plots not owned or paid for by relatives of the deceased, it was said.

It was also decided by the commissioners, while upon the subject of the cemetery, to improve and develop an extension which will give much more burial space.

Taking up the traffic situation, which in the past has been one of double, triple and middle-of-the-street parking, the commissioners authorized Chief of Police W. G. Church to mark off one side of the business streets in such a manner that parking will be done at an angle of 45 degrees. This work was begun Monday, the streets to be marked being Main, Bridge, Market and Church.

During the course of the meeting a matured public improvement bond was presented in payment of street assessments. However, it was the opinion of the commissioners that only matured street improvements bonds should be accepted as payment of street assessments.

The audit of the town books for the year 1933 was presented and referred to a committee for study and a report at a future meeting.
