

AW, SHUCKS!

Two or three days ago we received a letter, written on Salvation Army stationery, from New York. It was signed "Adam Elam," who is no stranger to these columns.

The contents of the letters follows: Dear Browning: Am sending you a much marked copy of the Daily Mirror, and have asked the publishers (he must know something on 'em) to mail one to you for the next three months. Maybe the Grab Bag Column won't be so rotten for a while. Yours phooey, Adam Elam."

Naturally we were elated over the prospects of receiving a mirror every day, what with our wife complaining bitterly because we broke the one in the bath room, so imagine our surprise and dismay when only a New York tabloid, The Daily Mirror, appeared!

However, it has continued to arrive daily since then, thanks to the goodness of Mr. Elam, so why should we kick? It's not costing us anything.

But to get back to the marked copy the letter mentioned. A pencilled note on the front page directed us to Walter Winchell's column, across the top of which was written "Try this on your cockeyed mess." And after reading the column through we found to our surprise that Mr. Winchell is not nearly as lousy as he sounds over the radio.

To the right of the column on the same page was an advertisement of a play at one of the New York theatres. The name of the play was "Let's Have A Baby." And under it Mr. Elam had written "All right by me." Knowing him as we do we hasten to add "Oh yeah!"

Anyway, we appreciate Mr. Elam's thoughtfulness in having the Daily

this better way

WOMEN who get into a weak, run-down condition can hardly expect to be free from troublesome "small symptoms."

Where the trouble is due to weakness, Cardul helps women to get stronger and thus makes it easier for nature to take its orderly course. Painful, nagging symptoms disappear as nourishment of the body is improved.

Instead of depending on temporary pain pills during the time of suffering, take Cardul to build up your resistance to womanly ailments.

Storms tear and twist
but surely build Character.

Maple Springs News

Due to the bad weather and the epidemic of measles there was no Sunday school at Maple Springs Sunday. The public school has also been closed for the past week on account of measles.

Friends of Doc Pardue will regret to know that he is still ill at his home here.

Charlie Collins, of Wilkesboro, spent part of last week visiting friends in this community.

Mrs. Lee Poplin has been ill for the past week, her friends will be sorry to learn.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Howell, former residents of this community, who have been residing in Elkin, moved back here the first of last week. Their many friends here welcome them back.

Richard Morrison, of Roaring River, is spending some time here visiting his daughter, Mrs. C. M. Reeves.

C. R. Watt, of Stony Point, spent the week-end here with relatives.

Stevenson Pardue, of Brook's Cross Road spent a part of last week here the guest of his brother, I. J. Pardue, who is critically ill.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our friends and neighbors for the many acts of kindness shown us during the illness and death of our dear husband and father. May God's blessings attend you all.

Mrs. A. P. Whitaker and Children.
