

ADVICE TO FARMERS

It being about the time of year when the farmers are not very busy, and have more time to elevate their minds, we are turning the column over to our farm expert, Simpson, who will pinch hit with several valuable suggestions that should make farming more pleasant and profitable.

Let it be known before someone starts scoffing, that Simpson is an authority on soil and its tilling. He acquired his experience on various and sundry prison farms here and about the country.

POULTRY NOTES

Fewer mistakes will be made in culling hens if the chickens are allowed to lay down as well as lay eggs. The practice of making the hens stand up so much is responsible in a large number of cases for inferior eggs, haphazardly produced.

Winter egg production does not depend entirely on the number of hens you keep, but upon the number of eggs they lay. It is important to keep this fact in mind.

Keep old and young stock separated. The younger hens are liable to put modern ideas into the heads of the older ones. And everyone knows what can happen among a bunch of old hens when gossip gets out.

THINGS TO BE DONE IN SEPTEMBER

Of course September is gone, but

Keep them from chattering ... with HANES UNDERWEAR!

TAKE the teeth out of winds that bite to the bone ... climb into HANES Underwear! It's like climbing into another climate! You get those soft, snug ribs of generous fluff buttoned down your front, and it's hard to believe the weather reports!

Mister, HANES is the Heavyweight Champion! It's knit and cut to the perfect proportions of your chest and trunk, so that you don't feel all tied up. You never have to ease yourself over when you bend ... nor act like a cripple when you stretch. HANES's elastic-knit is spry enough to "give" without cutting or pinching! Buttons, buttonholes, cuffs, and seams are sturdily stitched ... and they stay!

A dealer near you has HANES Union-Suits for $1 and up ... HANES Shirts and Drawers begin at 75c ... HANES Boys' Union-Suits, 75c ... HANES MERICHLID Waist-Suits, 75c. P. H. Hanes Knitting Company, Winston-Salem, N. C.

this advice can be stored away until next September: Earth up celery and prune kale, kabbage and kauliflower. Pick potatoes and worm onions. Make and sow lawns. It is best to make the lawn before sowing, although some people sow the lawn before making. However, use your own judgment.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Ants can be kept out of beehives by setting the legs of each hive in cans filled with crankcase oil. Kerosene is also good but not for the honey.

To keep water from running under a tent pitched on sloping ground, camp out when it's not raining.

Cold mashed potatoes used instead of soap will clean the hands and make the skin soft and smooth. This does not mean you should serve soap for dinner.

To separate water glasses which have become stuck one in another, hit them with a hammer.

WE GET A LETTER

The following letter, to which the writer overlooked signing his name, crept in from Ozona, Florida, the other day:

Hon. Alan Browning, W.L.P.E.
Dear Mr. Browning:

While sitting way down here on the bank of the Gulf of Mexico listening to Eddie Cantor and reading the wonderful writings of the world's lowest paid editor, I am wondering why in the hell both of you don't write something or say something that would be more "uplifting and beneficial."

When are you going to write something interesting? When you do, please wire me at once, collect. In event you do not like what I said about your writing you will please mail me a copy of your bunk to P. O. Box 414, Ozona, Florida.

Boy! Oh Boy! Sell your old winter clothes for as much as $7, crank up your old tin can and head her south, and you can live on Florida "hot air" when you get here. All you need to wear is a bathing suit. This is the life!
Hoping to see you in Fla. sometime before long.

Sorry, Richard, we can't get down. But thanks for the sample of hot air just the same. GB.

THIS AND THAT

One of the commissionaires called up the boss Thanksgiving night with the statement that high water had made it impossible for the new super deluxe garbage limousine to get to the garbage dumping ground, and wanted him to make arrangements with us for having the garbage dumped in our back yard for a few days.

Not having the love for the garbage manifested by the commissionaires, we naturally refused, but in case they get a new fire truck and run out of a place to park it, we'll see if we can't accommodate them in that respect.

A local business and civic leader here stated last Friday morning that he would be willing to pay $100 out of his own pocket toward the purchase of a new truck. He said if some steps toward adequate fire protection are not taken, he is going to put in his own fire fighting equipment.

Just as a precaution we have already equipped our home with a couple of squirt guns.

How do you like the Christmas dress? We wanted to print this issue on purple paper with purple ink but were over-ruled.

Let's go out and catch cold sometime.

SEZ SHE

Mother: Louise, your hair is all mussed up. Did that young man kiss you against your will?
Louise: "He thinks he did, mother."
