April Busy Month In Re-employment Service

For the National Re-employment office at Yadkinville, April was the busiest month for some time.

A tabulation of the activities for the month follows:

New applications 58; Re-registrations 59; Renewals 127; Applications cancelled 145; Applications transferred in 7; Openings 135; Placements 135; Re-interviews 925.

Residents of Yedkin county out of work are requested to keep their cards renewed with the National Re-employment office every ninety days. Laborers are requested to keep in close contact when not actually working. Every one is especially urged to keep their cards renewed as the school building program will soon begin and jobs can not be considered where cards are out of date.

At present the office has several hundred cards that will be out of date very soon and will be cancelled unless renewed at once.

Colored Girl Bride Disappeared Thursday

Eliza Sales Blackburn, negro girl 16, disappeared Thursday of last week after leaving Brooks Cross Roads to walk to her home near Hamptonville and has not been heard of to date.

The young negro girl had married Luther Blackburn three weeks ago, but had been back in Wilkes county on a visit to her parents. She alighted from a bus at Brooks Cross Roads and started south when a small truck or pick-up was seen to stop and one man got out. He took her hand bag and she got in the truck between the two men, both of whom were white. The truck bore a South Carolina license tag and was loaded with cabbage.

The girl's parents thought she had arrived home safely and her husband didn't know she was on her way back, therefore she was not missed for four days. Her husband was reared by Tent Blackburn, one of the best known colored families in the county.

A description of the girl follows: Age 16; weight 130 pounds; height 5 feet 4 inches; color very dark; was wearing a pink hat, green striped sweater, white slippers and was carrying a hat box type of hand bag.

BLANKETEERS WIN TWO OUT OF THREE Drop First Game to Catawba; Win Second And Lick Blue Sox

The Chatham Blanketeers, after losing to Catawba College here last Thursday afternoon 6 to 4, came back to win the second of the series Friday by trouncing the visitors 9 to 6, and finished up their week's work Saturday by defeating the Conover Blue Sox 6 to 1.

In Thursday's game Chatham held back the invaders until the seventh inning when the Indians rallied to score four runs. Hampton held the Blanketeers to seven hits while the visitors got 12 hits off Stockton and Maxwell.

Friday, with Neil pitching for the Blanketeers, Catawba was held to seven hits while Chatham collected 11. The Blanketeers scored three in the second, Catawba tied the score in the third, the tie being broken in the fifth when the Blanketeers added six runs.

Fred Hambright, with three for four, and Parker two for three, led the hitting for Chatham. Garland led Catawba, with two for five.

Featured by the hard hitting of Stockton, the spectacular fielding of Gough and the brilliant hurling of Johnson, the Blanketeers trimmed the famous Conover Blue Sox Saturday six to one.

Johnson held Conover to six scattered hits while Chatham rapped out 12 safeties.

Stockton went on a wild hitting rampage in the victory attack, getting four hits out of five times up. J. Bolick led his teammates with two hits.
