NEWS NOTES FROM BETHEL COMMUNITY

Many Folks of Section Attending Finals At Ronda School

Ronda, Route 3, April 13. — The pulpit was filled at the church here both Saturday afternoon and Sunday morning by the pastor, Rev. R. J. Pardue. Several visitors worshipped with us Sunday. Probably the oldest mother present was the maternal grandmother of the pastor, Mrs. Hemic, of the Macedonia community.

Mr. Pardue took for his subject "The fundamental duty of man," selecting his text from St. John 6:27-19. Sunday evening at 8:00 o'clock C. W. Gilliam preached an impressive sermon to a good congregation, his subject being "Greater Love", reading a part of the 15th chapter of John and taking his text from the 12th verse.

There was a good attendance at Sunday school. More mothers were present than had been for quite a while. An offering was taken for the Baptist Hospital at Winston-Salem.

Miss Ethel Harris visited her grandmother at Fall Creek last Sunday.

A good many of our folks are enjoying the commencement exercises at Ronda. Three students from this section are members of the senior class, Misses Mozelle Burchett, Opal Mathis and Wayne Stroud. This is the largest graduating class in the history of the school, there being forty-two graduates.

Mrs. W. A. Pardue has been confined to her room on account of illness, but is better we are glad to note.

Miss Eleanor Melton spent last week-end at Ronda visiting her friend and school mate, Miss Joyce Jones.

Mrs. Clinton Bauldin has been quite ill we are sorry to report.

Mrs. C. W. Gilliam, Sr., accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Wm. T. Morrison and family to the funeral of Mrs. Emma Mathis Walker, which is being held today at Pleasant Grove church at eleven o'clock. Mrs. Walker was the wife of the late William Walker and a sister of Mesdames John McBride, Wm. T. Morrison and J. F. Mathis, all of this place, to whom we extend our sympathy.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Groce, of the Fall Creek community, and Mrs. Andrew Whitaker, visited Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Melton and family Sunday before last. Mrs. Whitaker is the mother of Mesdames Melton and Groce. She has recently returned from Georgia where she spent the past winter and stated that she had been enjoying such splendid health during her stay there.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Osborne and little daughter, Doris, visited Mrs. Osborne's parents last week-end.

Mrs. J. B. Green spent a while last Sunday with her mother, Mrs. William Gray near Pleasant Grove.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Ferlazzo, of Winston-Salem, and Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Gilliam, of Jonesville, visited their mother, Mrs. C. W. Gilliam last Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong came in time to attend services at the church here.

Mr. and Mrs. Seaman Dobbins, of Elkin, were among the visitors at church here Sunday, going from here to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Worth Sale, near Briar Creek where they had been invited for dinner, then to the services at Ronda, where Rev. W. E. Linney, of Wilkesboro, delivered the sermon to the seniors and a well-filled auditorium. Mrs. Dobbins stated after staying to hear "Uncle Bill" preach Sunday evening they had attended three services and Sunday school at Elkin during the beautiful day.

Elmer Morrison, with some of his friends, went to Jonesville Sunday evening to be present for the baccalaureate sermon at the school auditorium by Rev. Eph Whisenhunt of Elkin. Elmer is a junior in high school there this year.
