

THIS WEEK IN WASHINGTON

Washington, Nov. 19.—Both the friends and the foes of the Administration profess to find satisfaction in the results of the recent local elections in different parts of the United States. A good deal depends on the point of view, but the more serious-minded among the President's advisers look on the record of the vote as sounding at least a warning note.

The reputation of Postmaster General Farley as a political strategist suffered somewhat of a setback. He injected the New Deal issue into the New York legislative campaign, and that enables Republicans to chortle over regaining control of the State Assembly. Since the assembly has been Republican for 35 years, except for the three Democratic "landslide" elections of 1910, 1912, and 1934, this year's result was merely a return to normal and would have attracted little attention if Mr. Farley had not chosen to make an Administration issue of it. His only consolation is that the total Democratic vote cast in the State was 370,000 more than the Republican vote, the majority being mostly in New York City, where Tammany elected two Congressmen to fill vacancies.

Here and There
Not much significance is attached here to the defeat of the Republican candidate for Governor in the normally Democratic state of Kentucky. Over in the New England states, the political wisacres find evidence that the New Deal is losing ground, in the loss to the Democrats of many municipal offices, and particularly in the result of the Mayorality election in Philadelphia. There are many New Dealers who were sure that the G. O. P. was dead in its principal stronghold, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. But in the State-wide vote on the judiciary ticket the Republicans were victorious.

Political opinion here is settling down to the belief that it is upon the solid South and the Agrarian West that Mr. Roosevelt must rely for reelection. That is one reason why the Democratic leaders are concerned over the rising popularity of

National Corn Husking Champion Breaks Record

NEWTOWN, Ind. . . . One hundred thousand farmers gathered here to witness the annual national corn husking championship which was won by Elmer Carlsen, 26, (above), of Audubon County, Iowa. Elmer shucked 41.62 bushels of corn in 80 minutes, pitching a gross weight of 2,995 pounds in so doing. The world record of 36.9 bushels was established in 1932 by Carl Seiler of Oneida, Ill. Five of the eighteen contestants, in this year's championships, bettered Seiler's old world mark.

Governor Alf Landon of Kansas as a Republican Presidential possibility. Admitting that it will be a struggle to carry any of the states east of the Mississippi and north of the Ohio, they do not like the prospect of having to go up against a candidate who would be practically certain of carrying Kansas, his home state, and whose chance in all the rest of the Missouri Valley states would be better than that of anyone else so far put forward by any Republican group entitled to serious consideration.

Gossip of G.O.P. Dark Horse
Inside gossip in Republican circles is that there is an "under cover" candidate being groomed for the party's nomination in 1936, just as Senator Warren G. Harding was held under cover as a last-minute surprise candidate in 1920. The gossips say that Senator L. J. Dickinson of Iowa has pledged of support from twenty or so members of the Republican National Committee, and that all over the country party regulars are being lined up for him. Stranger things have happened in politics.

Senator Dickinson's record is clean and clear. Geographically he comes from a pivotal state in the heart of the most debatable ground in the whole nation, and those who know him best say that he has all the qualities of personality and political sagacity which the Opposition candidate of next year, whoever he may be, must have. Senator Dickinson was temporary chairman of the last Republican National Convention. Senators and Representatives are beginning to trickle back to Washington, most of them bringing somewhat revised ideas of what the folks back home are thinking and what they want. Expressions by many of these to their Washington intimates are taken to indicate that Congress, which will convene in only a little more than a month, will show more inclination to tell the President what he ought to do, than to let him tell them. The outlook is for strong resistance to any additional reform legislation, and a strong determination to put through a bonus bill.

Congress Again Soon
If the temper of Congress can be gauged by the talk currently heard, there isn't a chance for the new "NRA" bill, nor a 30-hour week law, in spite of the pressure that will be exerted by the Labor lobby for both of those measures. Likewise, the reports of returning members from the Farm Belt, so far, are that there isn't enough public sentiment behind the Frazier-Lemke farm mortgage green-back bill to warrant a fight for it.

The FAMILY DOCTOR

(By John Joseph Gaines, M. D.)

"GULLIBILITY"
It occurs to me more and more frequently as the years go by, that "gullibility" is one of the greatest misfortunes that afflicts our people. Sometimes I think it costs our country more in the total than the most devastating epidemic of disease. Let's get the meaning of the word clear. Gullibility is the ease with which you can be misled by fake propositions.

At heart you really abhor all swindles. It's the deal that you think is honest, that you bite at with avidity and do not learn that you have been stung until you have parted with all the good, honest money that could be extracted from you. Your gullibility leads you through suckerdome.

There are all sorts of fake sanatoria in the country, with a so-called "religious" complexion added and a freak dietary system, all designed to catch the American sucker. Such things have no legitimate place in the honest care of the ailing—nor are they true component parts of any worthy church enterprise.

The "preacher-doctor" has long been noted as an American hoax, insinuating himself into the confidence of gullible people by prostituting the sacred tenets of religion to his unholy ends.

There is no more humanitarian work than that of the true physician. If an individual must summon religion to commend him in a money-getting scheme or calling the chances are that he is sadly defective in the most important qualification, the ability to honestly deliver the goods.

I wish I were able to write a book about humbuggery. But, I think I would run myself ragged, only to fall in finding a publisher.

ALLEGED HIGHWAYMAN CAUGHT
Mount Airy, Nov. 17.—Lewis Shelton, 20, and Tommie Gordon, 19, who were caught in the Blue Ridge mountains 8 miles north of here yesterday, were identified this afternoon as the two highwaymen who held up a Mr. McMillan, Virginia truckman, several miles this side of Rural Hall Wednesday night, November 6, and robbed him of $60 and valuable papers. They are suspected of several other holdup jobs near here, police stated.

Mart Oberly, state highway engineer, reported "lost" a bridge at Knobtown, Mo. Thieves who dismantled and removed the structure were caught.
