Wednesday, but is improving at this writing.

Mrs. F. A. Lineberry fell from the first floor down in the basement at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Burt Martin on Thursday evening, bruising and shaking herself up very seriously but seems to be improving slowly.

Mrs. Tom Smith in Arlington is critically ill at this writing with pneumonia.

Messrs Ivory Johnson, John Triplett and Bohonson Greenwood, arrived home Saturday from school at A. S. T. C. Boone for summer vacation.

Jonesville Faculty Honored With Lovely Party

Honoring the members of the Jonesville faculty, Mesdames O. E. Boles and M. A. Holcomb, entertained Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Boles.

In the living room and dining room amid a springlike setting of tulips, iris and other spring flowers, six tables were made up for bingo. Prizes were won by Mrs. L. S. Weaver and Mrs. Orville Myers. Additional guests of the evening were Mrs. L. S. Weaver, Messrs. W. V. Holcomb, O. E. Boles, M. A. Holcomb and Fred Key, of Boonville. After the game, the hostesses served a salad course.

P.-T. A. Meets

The Jonesville P.-T. A. held its monthly meeting Tuesday night at the local auditorium with a large attendance.

During the business period the officers for 1936-37 were elected, namely, Mrs. O. E. Boles, secretary, and Mr. Johnson Steelman, treasurer.

The society was entertained by a program from first and second grade children and was enjoyed by all present.

BETHEL

Ronda, route 2, May 4.—All vegetation was very much refreshed yesterday by the fine rain that visited this section.

This correspondent is glad to be able to write the little bit of news from this dear place again. And happy, too, to have our neighbors and friends visit us, with their love and sympathy, after returning from the hospital two weeks ago.

The choir at the church here is preparing for the next fifth Sunday singing.

Mrs. W. N. Weatherman and her mother-in-law, of North Elkin, spent last week-end here visiting her daughter and family, Mrs. J. T. Mathis. They attended Sunday school here Sunday morning and were visitors of the Womans' Bible class.

Mesdames Romey Pardue and W. F. McBride and Miss Mildred Harris of Jonesville, were the guests a while one day last week of Mrs. J. T. Triplett and Mrs. D. S. Gilliam.

Mrs. J. G. Gilliam of Elkin, visited her cousin, Mrs. W. H. Jones, here last Monday evening.

Little Miss Ina Pinnix returned to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Pinnix, here, last Friday. She had been spending some time with her sister at Sparta. Her brother, Ralph, accompanied her home.

The roads leading through this section were machined (as we say) by the State Highway men last week. Anyway, they were made smooth, look better and more pleasant to ride over, until it rains.

Dan and Topsy are the names that have been given to the fine, frisky colts that recently made their arrival at the barnyard at the home of B. R. Pardue and brothers.

Only two more weeks of school at Ronda and the children's minds will be free from their books for a season.

Mr. J. F. Mathis is attending court at Wilkesboro this week, serving as juror.

Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Sparks and Mrs. Frazier of Winston-Salem, visited Mrs. Sparks' brother and family, W. H. Jones, a while last Tuesday. Late in the afternoon they went to Ronda to visit a while with Mrs. Frazier's brother, Mr. Neal Henderson and Mrs. Henderson.

Several people from here attended the singing at Pleasant Hill church, near Elkin, last Sunday afternoon.

Lelia Foster Martin, colored, wife of John Martin, passed away at her home near here last Sunday night.

Mr. C. A. Osborn had the misfortune to lose a fine cow last week.

SWAN CREEK

Rev. N. T. Jarvis filled his regular appointment at the Swan Creek Baptist church last Sunday. Due to a slight illness Rev. Jarvis did not preach Sunday. Rev. R. J. Pardue supplied for him.
