F.M.C.A. Building Is Seen As Possibility; Would Cost $100,000

STATE SECRETARY TELLS KIWANIANS OF OPPORTUNITY

Of Opinion Chatham Would Put Up Goodly Sum

WOULD FILL NEED

An exceptional opportunity for Elkin to secure a $100,000 Y. M. C. A. building, partly financed by Chatham Manufacturing company, was explained in detail before the Elkin Kiwanis club Friday night by Wilson Smith, secretary of the North and South Carolina Young Men's Christian ociations.

Thurmond Chatham, president of the Chatham Manufacturing company, of Winston-Salem and Elkin, will put up $15,000 toward such a building providing the citizens of Elkin will put up a like amount, Mr. Wilson believes, pointing out that the remaining $70.00 o can be secured from the government.

Y. M. C. A. secretary pre-his remarks by stressing the fact that youth is America's greatest asset, and quoting statistics to show that most criminals make their first offense against law and order between the ages of 16 and 18. Similarly, the careers of most business men start between the same ages, he said. The Y. M. C. A. is a builder of character, the speaker con-tinued, and urged every citizen to take an interest in youth.

In explaining the Y. M. C. A stated the proposal for such a building was first made to him by Mr. Chatham. In event

SAYS McDONALD HAS "SOMERSAULTED"

Shelby, June 16. — Clyde Hoey charged in a statement tonight that Dr. Ralph McDonald, his opponent in the gover-nor's race, "turned a complete somersault" on the liquor issue because "his tax program and impossible promises have utterly collapsed."

veteran campaigner, The who led McDonald by more than 4,000 votes in the first Democratic primary, termed the former college professor's county liquor control plank "a wild chase for votes."

"Dr. McDonald has a bad case of political jitters. Both the doctor and his platform have been weighed in the balance of public opinion and have been knocked out. As defeat stares him in the face he has become desperate.'

DEMOCRATS LACK SPACE FOR THRONGS

Philadelphia, June 16.-Philadelphia Democrats who boasted a big, new convention hall when they sold the city to the party's national committee last January, found it woefully small today.

Those in charge of preparations for the national convention, which opens Tuesday, an-nounced that "the crowd could move into Philadelphia today and find the city ready for them," but admitted one problem—ticket demand—was unsolved, and likely will remain that way.

WITHHOLDS CONTRACT FROM STEEL COMPANY

Washington, June 16.-Acting at the request of the national labor relations board, Secretary Ickes today withheld from the Jones and Laughlin Steel company a contract for 1,433,560 pounds of steel for use on the Imperial dam in Arizona.

interior department chief said the stopping of con-tract negotiations was ordered because the steel company kad been found "guilty" by the la-bor board of unfair labor prac-

3.442 DRIVERS' LICENSES REVOKED

Raleigh, June 16.-Officials of the motor vehicle bureau said today 3,442 automobile drivers' licenses had been re-voked for law violations since last November, when an ordi-nance providing for license suspension was passed.

Of the 36 revocations an-nounced today, one was for hit and run driving, one was for larceny of an automobile, one was for being an habitual drug addict and the remainder were for driving while under the influence of liquor.

Is Elected Democratic National Committeeman

Attorney A. D. "Lon" Folger, of Dobson, was named Friday at Raleigh by the state Democratic convention as national committeeman for North Carolina to succeed C. L. Shuping, of Greensboro.

Mr. Folger, state campaign manager for A. H. "Sandy" Graham in his recent race for governor, has for a quarter of a century been one of the Democratic warhorses in Surry county and this part of the state, and his ex-cellent work in directing Hr. Graham's campaign brought him state-wide attention. He is well qualified for the post to which he has been named.

VETERANS BONDS

Majority of Certificates Have Been Delivered

Although not all the bonus bonds scheduled to be delivered through this postoffice have as yet been received, a majority has been received and delivered, it was learned from postal employees Wednesday.

The first shipment of bonds was received Monday and a secat the local postoffice and by route carriers. Other shipments of bonds are expected daily until the entire number has been delivered.

While the recipient of a bonus payment has his bonds he does not have his money. If he wishes to cash his bonds instead of holding them, he must endorse them before two witnesses who are known to him and who certify that he is the person named in the bonds. The bonds are then forwarded by the postmaster to the paymaster's headquarters in Asheville—in the case of Surry county claimants—and a check is then issued in the amount of the bonds and immediately forwarded to the holder direct.

Although it is not known here how many are cashing in their bonds, it is understood that many

Adopt Platform Favoring Changes In Sales Tax

ARE IN HARMONY

Raleigh, June 12.—Democrats of North Carolina pledged their 26 votes at the national convention in Philadelphia to President Roosevelt and Vice President Garner and adopted a platform favoring changes in the sales tax but saying the levy could not be abolished entirely today, at an harmonious state convention.

No discord was evident at any time on the convention floor though the platform wrangled over a possible "wet" or "bone dry" liquor plank and then compromised by making no mention of the question at all.

J. Melville Broughton, of Raleigh, president of the North Carolina Bar Association, was key-noter and vividly painted the record in the nation of "this inspired and courageous leader," Franklin D. Roosevelt, and "our courageous and public-spirited governor, son of Pasquotank, J. C. B Ehringhaus." Broughton praised the "humanitarian" administration of Roosevelt and the fiscal policies and "expanded" services of the Ehringhaus regime.

Heavy Rainfall Break Drought In This Section

A rainfall of .88 of an inch one tenth of an inch less than the entire precipitation for the month of May, according to official records, fell here Friday afternoon to break the drought which threatened crops in this section. High winds which accompanied the rain for a few min-utes, unroofed a portion of the Carolina Ice and Fuel Company building and blew in a plate glass window of the Elkin Bottling company, located just opposite the ice plant, on South Bridge Street. The damage here was confined to the two buildings.

The rainfall, which followed a series of lesser showers ear-lier in the week brought relief to parched gardens and crops According to messages from the surrounding country, the rainfall was widespread.
