

NEWS FROM THE COUNTY CAPITAL

Dobson, Jan. 26. — Rains and muddy roads continue to detain the school bus. The Dobson high school will not open for some days yet.

Miss Verdye Jackson is spending the week with her sister in Raleigh.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Reid returned last Friday from Florida, where they spent two weeks for rest and taking in the interesting places all over the state. They had a most pleasant stay at St. Augustine, perhaps the oldest town in the United States.

The beaches were crowded with visitors and the climate as hot as our June. It was rest and change for Mr. Reid, as his business demands his care so closely and to Mrs. Reid a great diversion from cafe supervision.

Dr. Joe Folger and bride (nee Miss Nell Armfield) are honeymooning in Florida. They were married last Wednesday in Wytheville, Va., with the bride's sister, Miss Fredna Armfield, the only attendant. They will make their home in Dobson, where Dr. Folger is a successful dentist.

Mrs. W. L. Reece spent last week in Mt. Airy with Lon Jr. and Jack Folger, while their parents were in Washington for the inauguration.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. White of Union Grove, Iredell County, were visitors last week at the Kenlin Inn.

Miss Margaret Harkrader is spending this week with her grandmother, Mrs. S. K. Harkrader. Miss Harkrader is a teacher in the Colfax school which has closed until better weather.

Misses Lillian and Helen Harkrader of Greensboro were weekend visitors with Mrs. Harkrader. Rev. C. W. Russell filled his pulpit at the Methodist church last Sunday.

Mrs. J. T. Threatte entertained at dinner-bridge last Friday evening at two tables of contract. Mrs. Emma Mock was given a box of Yardley Sachets for winning high score. Second high went to Miss Emma Comer, note stationery.

Mrs. Threatte served a four course dinner, supplemented with nuts and after dinner mints. Her guests were Miss Eva Hancock, Miss Emma Comer, Miss Verdye

Jackson, Miss Edythe Reece, Mrs. John W. Comer, Mrs. C. G. Comer and Mrs. Emma Mock.

Sink Denies City Request In Case

J. Paul Williamson, High Point taxpayer who originated the friendly suit to test the city's right to issue revenue bonds for financing the project, resisted the proposed intervention, Duke Power Company's counsel neither resisted nor approved it.

After Judge Sink had denied the petition to intervene, High Point City Attorney Grover H. Jones presented arguments on his motion to strike out practically all portions of the power company's complaint except those allegations dealing with the city's right to issue bonds and its right under the new constitutional amendment. He contended that the allegations in question were irrelevant, immaterial and not related to the issue involved in the original action. W. S. O'B. Robinson, Charlotte, chief counsel of the Duke Power Company contended, however, that High Point was trying to separate the matter of the issuance of bonds from the purpose for which they are to be issued.

Judge Sink instructed Attorney Jones to file his answer to the Duke complaint by the latter part of next week, and he will then set a date for hearing on the merits of the cause.

Attorneys Williams and Kelly stated that a new suit, from a different angle might be started in the near future.

WAGE LOSING FIGHT

Los Angeles, Jan. 24.—Desperate and weary citrus growers, beset with a shortage of fuel and faced with the prospect of more sub-freezing weather, girded themselves tonight for another battle against the fruit-destroying frost in southern California.

Temporary respite from the cold wave which has ravaged their crops to the possible extent of $60,000,000 was promised by government forecasters.
