

ARRESTS GREATEST IN TWENTY YEARS

Youths Under 25 Account For 34 Per Cent of Arrests During Year 1936

MORE WOMEN ARE HELD

Washington.—The federal bureau of investigation has revealed that 34.4 per cent of 461,489 arrest records submitted by enforcement agencies throughout the nation during 1936 concerned youths under 25 years of age.

Uniform crime reports showed 158,752 persons under 25 were arrested. Youths under 25 number 53.2 per cent of those charged with robbery; 58.7 per cent of those charged with burglary; 45.4 per cent of those charged with larceny; and 70.8 per cent of those charged with auto theft.

The compilation disclosed that 80,358 or 17.4 per cent of persons arrested were under 21 years old and that 78,394 or 17 per cent were between 21 and 24. It was reported that 51.5 per cent of persons arrested were under 30.

There were more arrests for age 22 than for any other single age group, the compilation showed, as compared to reports for 1932-35 when persons 19 years old outnumbered those of other ages.

Last year, 183,140 or 39.7 per cent of persons arrested already had fingerprint cards on file in the identification division of the FBI, it was said, in addition, there were 9,996 records bearing notations indicating previous criminal histories of persons concerned, although fingerprints had not previously been filed in the bureau.

Records disclosed that 139,707 or 72.5 per cent of those having previous criminal histories had been convicted of one or more offenses. The records of those persons revealed 493,001 prior convictions, or averages of almost three per individual.

It was reported that 39 persons charged with criminal homicide during 1936 previously had been convicted of homicide.

"In general the tabulation indicates a tendency for recidivists to repeat the same type of crime," the report said.

Of the total arrest records examined 33,670 or 7.3 per cent concerned women. "The proportion of females arrested during 1936 shows a slight increase over the figures for prior years," the FBI report said. For 1935 and 1934 the percentage was 6.9 each year.

Reports from enforcement agencies of 41 cities with population of 100,000 or over said the total value of property stolen was $15,672,857 of which 62.9 per cent was recovered.

Automobiles constituted a large portion of the stolen property. Enforcement agencies reported 24,226 automobiles stolen and 24,755 recovered. Exclusive of automobiles, the value of property stolen was $7,018,791 and the value of recoveries was $1,701,609.

CROWD WATCHES YOUTH HANGED

21-Year-Old Boy is Executed For Murder of an Officer During Robbery

REPRIEVED FOUR TIMES

Kennett, Mo., April 2.—A crowd of 1,000 persons jammed into an open-air sports arena and silently watched 21-year-old Fred Adams go to his death on the gallows today for the murder of a night marshal during a robbery.

About 1,000 additional persons pressed about the 18-foot-high wooden fence enclosing the arena, which normally is used for wrestling and boxing matches. Many stood on the roofs of buildings and others climbed telephone poles for a view.

His nerves steeled although he had spent a sleepless night, Adams walked steadily and without show of fear from the jail to the scaffold. He mounted the steps to the gallows unaided, shook hands with Sheriff Dewey Miles and his deputies and huskily said, "Goodbye."

The condemned man took two deep draws from a last cigarette, expelling slowly, as his hands were tied behind him and his legs were strapped together. The rope was adjusted about his neck. A deputy placed a black hood over his head.

The sheriff pulled the trap, dropping Adams nine feet. He dangled at the end of the rope for 13 minutes before three physicians pronounced him dead. The same rope was used to execute a negro here in August, 1934.

Adams, born and reared on a farm near Rector, Ark., had been reprieved four times since his conviction in July, 1934, for the slaying of Night Marshal Clarence Green of Campbell, Mo., on March 28, 1934.

The FAMILY DOCTOR

(By John Joseph Gaines, M. D.)

OVEREATING AND HEART DISEASE

Living almost in the door of a great city, I naturally notice their vital statistics, and the prevailing causes of death as reported in the newspapers. Within the last seven days five sudden deaths have occurred, the victims ranging from fifty to sixty years of age. "Heart disease" was the newspaper report, doubtless based on the official death certificate.

It's the same old story. The business man arises from bed in the morning—probably retired at midnight or later—he hastily swallows a cup of coffee and a half-cooked dish of somebody's "health food." He is too busy to fool with a good breakfast; besides, the wife isn't up yet; it's only half-past eight.

He rushes downtown to the office, or the car-barn, garage, store or what-have-you. Customers are there waiting. He grinds till twelve-thirty; then the lunch-counter, a miserable excuse for a meal—it just isn't one. Back to the grind for the second session.

Six o'clock—he hurries home—ah, dinner! Beefsteak, fried potatoes, coffee, many condiments for stimulation; fritters, omelettes, gravies—a monster feed and plenty of time; it reassures the tired body and nerves. The desserts challenge the capacity of old King Cole.

The tubby daddy gets short-winded in time, but he looks so capable with his bay-window. He stimulates more—struggles on and on to the fatal fifty to sixty decade, shorter of breath, maybe gets elected to a seat in the city council—drops dead! Just a heart disease; too bad.

Is life of so little worth? I wish I could impress upon my neighbors the danger of the six o'clock dinner!

Fat and Forty
Ziegler—Do you remember the youngster who used to tickle you under the chin at school?
Miss Snatch (fat and forty)—Oh, so that's who you are!
Ziegler—Oh, no. That was my father.

Ought To Have Heard Dad
Minister—Why, Ray, I'm shocked to hear you swearing; it's a very bad habit. Every time I hear anyone swear a cold chill runs down my back.

Ray—I'm sorry, sir. But if you'd been over to our house last night when dad jammed his finger in the door I guess you'd have frozen to death.
