GOOD CREAM NETS GREATER INCOME

Condition of Cream Determines the Quality of Butter That Can Be Made

EXPERT GIVES ADVICE

The price a creamery can pay a farmer for his cream is determined to a large extent by the condition of the cream at the time it is delivered.

The condition of the cream determines the quality of butter which can be made, and the better the butter, the higher a price it will bring.

John A. Arey, extension dairy specialist at State College, has pointed out some of the things a farmer can do to make sure the cream will reach the creamery in good condition.

Clean the udder and hands thoroughly before milking. Milk in a clean place, and keep all utensils scrupulously clean.

Immediately after milking, take the milk from the barn and run it through the separator with the cream screw adjusted to deliver cream testing 35 to 40 per cent. in summer.

Cream containing this percentage of fat will keep in good condition longer than if the fat content is lower.

As soon as it is separated, place the cream in a cooling tank filled with cold water and keep it cool until it leaves the farm. Use two cans, one for fresh cream and one for cold cream of previous separations. Never pour warm cream into cold cream.

Immediately after using the separator and other milk vessels, wash them in warm water containing an alkali washing powder. Then scald them in boiling water and set them in the sunshine to dry.

In summer cream should be delivered to the creamery at least twice a week. Wet bags wrapped around the cream cans will help keep them cool until they reach the creamery.

Don't store cream in a place where it will absorb unpleasant odors.

Nobody Else But You
By WILLIAM L. MILLER

When you been workin' a long, long time
A-doin' the best you can,
And you start to think about the day
When you'll be an old, old man—
When you'll want to fish and hunt and golf
Or whatever you love to do—
Nobody goin' to save that money
Nobody else but you.

Ain't no use to sit and dream
About that pot of gold
Or about the things you'd like to have
When you find you're growin' old,
Human nature ain't changed a bit—
There's really nothin' new—
Nobody goin' to send you round the world
Nobody else but you!

No use standin' along the road
Tryin' to thumb your way,
Or stickin' your dimes in slot machines,
A-hopin' they will pay.
Cause the guy who owns them slot machines
He has ideas too,
Ideas of makin' some profits—
Off nobody else but you!

Now if you're inclined to speculate,
Oh-Oh! you wanna' look out,
Cause the guy you're speculatin' with
Knows what it's all about!
And when the speculatin's over,
And the propaganda's through—
You know who's gonna be holdin' the bag—
Nobody else but you!

So I been smokin' and wonderin'
About a lot of fancy schemes—
Where I could get rich without any work—
And I'm sure they're all just dreams.
'Cause you'll find out as you go along
And see things clear on through—
Things worth while are the things that are earned
By nobody else but you!
