

MODERN WOMEN

Painting exotically colored deep sea flora and fauna is something that interests Miss Elise Bostlemann...

known to the public, is Miss Mary M. O'Reilly, assistant director of the Mint in Washington.

A costume worn by Mrs. Grover Cleveland when she was our "First Lady" and in which she appeared when hostess at a White House ball in 1894...

The "dean of Brooklyn club-women" is Mrs. Arorette E. Frazer whose 101st birthday was in March and who appeared as George Washington's mother in a series of tableaux presented by a Brooklyn club.

Miss Sally Clary, sculptor, taxidermist and hunter, says she holds the world record in lion shooting, having killed two lions in two minutes with two shots.

Mrs. George Bethune Adams, at the age of eighty-eight, is resident manager of the Ellin Prince Speyer Hospital for Animals in New York. She lives in an apartment at the top of the hospital and is up at 5:40 every morning to begin work among the dog and cat patients and often stays up until after midnight.

The first woman graduate of the New York Law School, Mrs. Agnes Murphy Mulligan, is a seventy-one year old grandmother who is an operator of real estate holdings and lives in Hackensack, N. J.

The art of bookbinding has reached a high point of beauty and excellence through Miss Marguerite Duprez Lahey who has encased many of the treasures of the Pierpont Morgan Library.

What courage Mrs. G. Tyler Dresser had to start to paint at the age of sixty-seven and to achieve success at eighty. She has been exhibiting more than a dozen canvasses at a New York gallery.

What a surprise it is to hear about women of seventy or eighty who are engaged in work. Some even older are vitally interested in the affairs of today in favor of or in opposition to important movements.

POOR EGGS BRING LOWEST OF PRICES

Yet Many Poultrymen Help Beat Down Prices With Inferior Eggs

INFERTILE EGGS BEST

"You can't get good prices for poor eggs," said C. J. Maupin, extension poultry specialist at State College.

Yet many poultrymen help beat down prices every spring and summer by flooding the market with inferior eggs, he continued.

Good eggs can be produced in hot weather, he added, if poultrymen feed and manage their flocks as they should.

Produce only fertile eggs. Infertile eggs keep better and are of a more desirable quality than fertile eggs.

Gather the eggs twice a day in a wire basket or other ventilated container. Allow the eggs to cool for 12 hours before packing them in cases.

Air should circulate freely between the eggs. If the air becomes too dry in hot weather, a few pans of water set on the floor will help keep the room moist.

Take the eggs to market at least twice a week, if possible. Clean eggs bring more attractive prices than dirty eggs.

Don't try to save money by skimping on feed. Poorly fed birds can't produce very many good eggs, but it is a good plan to save feed by culling out low-producing birds.

Farmers who wish to preserve some of their eggs for home consumption next fall and winter can do so with sodium silicate, or the water glass method, which is inexpensive. Only sound eggs should be saved as defective eggs are likely to spoil.

JUNE 12 IS LAST DAY SIGN SHEETS

County Offices Cannot Accept Work Sheets After That Date

CONSERVATION PROGRAM

June 12 is the last day on which North Carolina farmers will be allowed to sign work sheets for the 1937 soil conservation program, said E. Y. Floyd, of State College.

The county offices have been instructed from Washington not to accept work sheets after that date, Floyd pointed out.

However, growers who sign work sheets in time will be eligible to earn soil-building and diversion payments by complying with the terms of the program this year.

Those who signed work sheets for 1936 are not required to sign again for 1937, Floyd continued, but if they have bought more land or otherwise made changes in their farms, they should notify their county agents at once.

Work sheets are used in preparing information that will help farmers plan their farming operations so as to take part in the program and get all the benefits possible.

The work sheet is not a contract, Floyd added, and when a grower signs one he does not place himself under any obligation whatever. But a work sheet must be filed with the county office if a grower is to receive any payments.

He pointed out that there are two reasons why work sheets must be signed on or before June 12. First, information prepared from work sheets signed after June 12 would be too late to be of use to growers this year.
