WHY IS THE DRAIN PIPE

IMPORTANT TO

Refrigeration?

The drain pipe in the modern Ice refrigerator plays an important part in the safe preservation of foods. All food gases, or odors, in an Ice refrigerator are washed out of the air and absorbed by a thin film of water as the air passes over the melting ice, and are thus carried OUT of the refrigerator through the drain instead of being stored up or transferred to other foods as is the case with foods stored in air-tight mechanical refrigerators.
