

"SCHOOL DAYS" ARE DESIGNATED

Children of Surry and Other Counties to Visit Forsyth Fair Free

BIG CROWDS EXPECTED

School day at the Winston-Salem and Forsyth County Fair is always an eagerly awaited holiday for the children of Forsyth and all surrounding counties and will be no exception this year, for Wednesday, October 6th has been set aside for the children. Winston-Salem city schools will have their day on Thursday.

Well before the day set aside for their entertainment the children of Forsyth, Stokes, Davidson, Davie, Gullford, Iredell, Randolph, Rockingham, Surry, Wilkes and Yadkin counties will receive free complimentary tickets good for Wednesday, October 6th. Tickets for the teachers, too, will be in the hands of county superintendents at least a week before the fair. Other surrounding counties may participate, too, as the management is anxious for every school child in North Carolina who possibly can, to see the local exhibit.

School days have been an institution at the Winston-Salem Fair for the past thirty-seven years and nothing makes the management happier than to see the grounds crowded with little folks and their parents. On Wednesday the big fair will be in full swing, with every detail operating perfectly and it is hoped the weather man may be kind and that nothing will prevent a record breaking attendance.

COOL SPRINGS

I was fortunate indeed to be among those present at the Singing Convention at Macedonia Sunday. A large number of choirs and quartettes participated, among them being Macedonia, the home choir, Cool Springs, Pleasant Home, Elkin Valley, Little Elkin, Happy Day, Pleasant Hill, Piney Hill, East Elkin, South Fork of Winston-Salem, Byrd of Macedonia, Burcham of Ohio and Shoaly Branch, Howard Sisters, Ladies Quartette of Cool Springs.

Good singing and good music was the feature of the day, and a crowded auditorium attested to the fact that folks enjoyed every moment of the time.

Ernest Wall was there from South Carolina to lead his choir from Little Elkin, and to sing with the Cool Springs choir at noon, which proved quite an interesting feature for it pulled lots of folks from their noon lunch. Mr. Wall left at noon.

The children of Luther Byrd sang a special number, and they evidently mocked the famous birds of the name for their notes were high, rich and clear and then at the last soft, low and scarcely audible.

John Burcham at home for a visit from Ohio, gathered the old family quartette of almost a quarter century ago, and came to sing with the old friends and to meet the new. Mr. Burcham's friends welcomed him warmly.
