Mesdames Chappell and Guyer Are Hostesses at Dinner
Mrs. Carl Chappell and Mrs. J. H. Guyer were hostesses at a delightful dinner party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chappell on Bridge Street Saturday evening to honor a bevy of townfolk, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Myers, who will soon move to their new country home on the Elkin-Swan Creek highway, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Barbour, who will move this week to Elk Spur street from an apartment in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chappell and J. H. Guyer on his sixtieth birthday anniversary.

The home was decorated throughout with a wealth of early autumn flowers and bouquets of vari-colored flowers was used as centerpieces for the dining room table and the smaller tables which were used in the living room. Candles were also used in the decorations. A beautifully appointed three-course dinner was served.

Covers were placed for Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Myers and daughters, Blanche, Irene and Tommie Ann, Mr. and Mrs. Sig Holcomb, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Barbour, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Guyer, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Guyer and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Chappell.

Miss Martha Maguire is Bride of Leonard Bunkmeyer

Miss Martha Rebecca Maguire and Leonard Bunkmeyer of Kernersville were married Saturday afternoon at four o'clock in a private ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Oscar Maguire, Sr., on Gwyn Avenue. Rev. Eph Whisenhunt of the First Baptist church, pastor of the bride, and Rev. J. Bunkmeyer of Dyer, Tenn., brother of the bridegroom, officiated, using the ring ceremony. Only the families and a few close friends were invited.

An improvised altar was arranged in front of the fireplace in the living room. On the mantle was a crystal bowl of white dahlias and on either side of the fireplace graduated candelabrae, holding cathedral candles were placed against a background of fern.

Miss Effie Crater played the wedding music. For a processional she played "The Bridal Chorus" from Wagner's Lohengrin. During the ceremony "To A Wild Rose" (McDowell) was softly played, and Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" was used as a recessional. The bride, a petite brunette, was becomingly dressed in a fall suit of spicetone, trimmed in black caracul, and wore accessories of black. There were no attendants.

Mrs. Bunkmeyer is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maguire. She was educated in the city schools, Appalachian State Teachers College, Boone, and took a special course at Carolina Beauty Culture School, Raleigh. For the past several months she has resided in Kernersville.

Mr. Bunkmeyer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Bunkmeyer of Randleman. He holds an important position with the Southern Silk Mills, Kernersville, where he and his bride will be at home following a honeymoon to places of interest in the South.

Immediately after the ceremony the wedding guests were entertained at a lovely reception by Mr. and Mrs. Maguire. Ices and wedding cake were served, the bridal colors of green and white being carried out in detail in the appointments.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding were: Miss Ann Bunkmeyer, High Point, sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. J. S. Plummer, Greensboro, Mrs. J. R. Lackey, Winston-Salem, Mrs. C. M. Bunting, Asheboro and Mrs. J. D. Berry, Raleigh.

COOL SPRINGS

Rev. Reece, of Jonesville Baptist church, filled the pulpit at the preaching hour on Saturday afternoon, and Sunday at eleven, in the absence of the pastor, Rev. I. W. Vestal, who was called to Burlington to attend the homecoming there.

The past year our Sunday school has seldom gone under the hundred pupil mark and many times more, considering the many homes where very serious illness in the family prevented them attending at all, we think the average is pretty good.

Soon now the record of our present associational year will have been written and nothing can change what we have done or left undone, but let us strive for a better and bigger year in the one yet to come.

Cool Springs lost another member last Saturday when Mrs. Elizabeth Harris Gilly departed this life. She was 83 years old, and had since girlhood been a member here, although her home had been on Mitchell's river until the death of her husband a few years ago. Since then she had made her home with her sister, Mrs. Joe Pardue. "Aunt Lizzie" has many friends here and on Mitchell's river who remember her when she with her sister, Lodeem Harris, walked twelve miles with her father, William Harris, to his appointment here at Cool Springs church where he was pastor.

In this day of motor cars and good roads what excuse shall we offer for failing to "Assemble ourselves together on the Sabbath day?"

Mrs. Molly Newman spent the week here the guest of her son, J. W. Newman, and Mrs. Newman. Mrs. Newman's son, Bobby Newman, and grandson, Bobby Gray, called for her Sunday afternoon and carried her to their home in Winston-Salem to spend some time there as their guest. Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Freeman of Elkin, visited Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Newman Sunday afternoon.

Misses Nora and Edna Couch were guests of the Misses Holbrook Sunday.

Among our visitors Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Cap Yarborough of Charity and Miss Bonnie Rose, Mrs. Jacob Key and daughter, Metta Lou.

Sunday evening we had as visitors Mr. and Mrs. Hunter and small daughter, recent additions to our community.

Rev. I. C. Woodruff will preach here Saturday evening at 7:30. Mr. Woodruff, pastor at Shoaly Branch, is well known here and needs no introduction to you, so just be sure it will be worthwhile for you to hear him.

PLEASANT HILL

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Day, Mr. and Mrs. Brown Day, Clyde Couch, Luther Day, Irene Day and Bernice Welborn spent Sunday in Burlington.

The "Happy Day" quartet sang at a special service at Glenhol Baptist church in Burlington on Sunday. At the close of the service the quartet was given a special invitation to sing over radio station WBIG in Greensboro on a thirty minute program. Our pastor, Rev. I. W. Vestal also gave a short talk on the program.

Mrs. G. W. Welborn entered the Baptist Hospital in Winston-Salem on Tuesday for treatment and a minor operation.

Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Absher and family spent Sunday visiting relatives near Roaring River.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Burcham spent Sunday visiting relatives at Cycle.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Morrison attended the state wide singing convention which was held at Greensboro Sunday.

Mrs. Robert Spencer of Benham visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lyon Sunday.

Mr. Jones Darnell of this community is not improving, we are sorry to note.

ST. PAUL

Farmers through this section are about through curing tobacco and report a fairly good crop.

Miss Edith Walker spent the week-end in Wilkes county, visiting her cousin, Miss Edith Chambers.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Hinson of Hamptonville spent Sunday here with their daughter, Mrs. Walter Wellborn.

Mrs. W. E. Macey spent a short while Saturday visiting her daughter, Mrs. Will Holcomb of Jonesville, who is a patient in the Elkin hospital.

Charles and Joe Thomasson left last week for Misenheimer to re-enter college.

Mr. and Mrs. Mack Walker and little daughter, Mary, of Hamptonville, were the guests Saturday of the former's mother, Mrs. Sina Walker.

We are glad to know that E. G. Myers, who has been ill for some time, is much improved.

Misunderstood

A salesman who travels much on the interurban electric lines says he overheard this conversation:

One day two pretty young girls were discussing their favorite operas. Just as the conductor came up one of the girls said: "I simply love 'Carmen'."

The conductor blushingly whispered: "Try the motorman, miss. I'm married."

BETTER HEALTH

By DR. J. ROSSLYN EARP
Director, New Mexico Bureau of Public Health

SPLIT FINGERNAILS

They are troublesome and unsightly, but they are not dangerous. Perhaps that is why so little is written about them in the medical text books.

Fingernails split when they become too dry. This happens in general diseases that result in poor circulation of the finger tips. In these cases the nail gets dry because it is ill nourished and the best way to restore its food supply is to treat the disease. Besides some rather rare diseases of the nerves which control the blood supply such diseases as tuberculosis, diabetes and kidney disease may result in split fingernails.

The nails may also be dried out by the local action of certain chemicals. Much soaking in soda may have this effect. Certain nail polishes, polish remover and cuticle remover have been blamed, but little is known about this hazard. Bear in mind, however, that such strong chemicals as potash lye may be sold for removing cuticle, and that there is no federal law to control the composition or advertising of cosmetics. Of course there ought to be one.

As a local treatment for this condition, you may use a nightly application to the cuticle of Balsam of Peru, 50 per cent in castor oil to stimulate nail growth. Split nails may be protected by zinc oxide strapping and the nails should be cut with scissors because the use of a file on brittle nails is likely to make them split again.

LIPOID PNEUMONIA

By his inventiveness man is constantly creating new hazards for himself and his family. Here is one of them: lipoid pneumonia. It seems that nature did not intend our lungs to cope with oil substances. Our intestines can digest animal and vegetable fats and do not seem to be harmed by mineral oils so long as these are pure. But the lungs cannot digest fats and cannot get rid of any kind of oil. The effort to do so results in inflammation and inflammation of the lungs is pneumonia.

Lipoid pneumonia, according to present knowledge, is chiefly a disease of young children. The helpless mites suffer large doses of oily nose drops from well meaning relatives; oil runs down the windpipe and collects in droplets in the lungs. Usually the resulting pneumonia is local. No doubt the baby is sick but the cause of its sickness remains unsuspected. Sometimes the pneumonia becomes general and the baby dies. Pneumonia is a common cause of death in infancy. Our knowledge of lipoid pneumonia is not yet sufficient to say how often it is a cause of death.

But the risk is now plain enough to see. Nose drops should never be given to young children except by doctor's orders and following carefully his directions. Nor should cod liver oil or castor oil or any other oil be forced down small protesting throats. That, too, may result in the dangerous consequences of getting oil into the lungs.
