ALL READY FOR WINSTON FAIR

Annual Event Begins Next Week; Many Unusual Features Planned

EXCELLENT PREMIUMS

Next week is fair week in Winston-Salem.

For many months preparations have been underway for this thirty-eighth annual event in the Tobacco City and advance publicity indicates the most successful ever held.

All the usual features of a modern fair will be found in Winston-Salem from October 5th to 9th. There will be the agricultural and livestock exhibitions, with a handsome premium list assuring plenty of entries. There will be horse racing every afternoon; a big show at the grandstand every night; fireworks, band concerts; vaudeville every afternoon, the usual splendid midway for which Winston-Salem fairs are famous and all the other things that go to make a good time for everybody who comes.

With the tobacco market open, retail stores showing all the new fall merchandise and the whole city prepared to entertain the multitude expected, every visitor to Winston-Salem during this first week in October will find something doing every minute and ample entertainment to repay him for the time and trouble in spending a day or more at the big fair.

LYRIC FEATURES BIG SHOW WEEK

Five Outstanding Attractions To Be Shown at Local Theatre; Burns Picture Heads List

The Lyric Theatre is featuring a week of big pictures for next week, having booked no less than five outstanding attractions for the six days.

Leading the parade will be "Mountain Music," starring Bob Burns and Martha Ray, which may be seen Monday and Tuesday. In the picture Martha Ray goes to the hills to get her man and nabs Bob, who regrets that he is such a "purty feller."

Wednesday theatre-goers will see Richard Dix in "It Happened in Hollywood," a brand new picture that has just been released.

Thursday a special picture, "They Gave Him a Gun," featuring Spencer Tracy and Franchot Tone, will be shown, the story being about the World War.

Another exciting war picture will be shown Friday, "The Last Train From Madrid." This picture features Dorothy Lamour, Gilbert Roland and Lew Ayres.

Saturday lovers of western photoplays may see "California," starring Ricardo Cortez and winsome Marjorie Weaver.
