THURMOND

Messrs. John and Autie Vanhoy and family of High Point visited their sister here last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Gurney Barker and little daughter, Barbara of Winston-Salem are spending some time here with the latter's mother.

The entire community was shocked as well as saddened at the loss of our close neighbor Mr. G. A. Norman, who died suddenly last Wednesday night, and was buried Friday morning at the Thurmond cemetery. We hope for the family a comforting help from God who is able to supply all our needs.

Mrs. Maggie Collins and her son and granddaughter of Winston-Salem, spent several days here with her sister, Mrs. G. A. Norman.

We are sorry to note the unfortunate luck of little Clyde Royall who sustained a very serious cut on the arm last week. We hope for him a quick recovery.

Our sympathy goes out to the family of Mr. Watson Lyons of a nearby community. Mr. Lyons shot and killed himself last week. He was buried at Roaring Gap Saturday.

FALL OPENING NOW UNDERWAY

McDaniel's Invites Everyone to Visit Store and Inspect New Goods

FEATURING LARGE STOCK

McDaniel's Department Store, of this city, is announcing in a special four-page section in this issue of The Tribune, its greatest Fall Opening.

As a part of its invitation to the public to attend the opening, now in progress, McDaniel's has published the pictures of its entire personnel, who join with the management in extending a cordial invitation to all, and who await to courteously serve everyone who visits the store.

This year's opening features many thousands of dollars' worth of the very newest merchandise for fall and winter wear. Buyers visited three of the largest markets in the United States in order that the store might feature just what its customers desired.

It has been pointed out by E. W. McDaniel, proprietor, that there is no need for anyone to visit larger towns to buy fall merchandise. McDaniel's, in addition to having an extremely large and varied stock, also handles nationally known and advertised lines, from the ladies' ready-to-wear department to the large men's department.

PUBLIC IS INVITED TO TAKE PART IN PROGRAM

A pounding to honor Rev. Carl Cockerham will be held at his home on the Little Mountain Road, the second Sunday in October, according to B. H. Barker.

A sermon will be a feature of the day's program and special music is also planned.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

A TIMELY SUGGESTION TO TOBACCO FARMERS

When you go to market your tobacco may we suggest that you visit several furniture stores and check their prices and quality. Don't try to REMEMBER, but jot these prices down, then come to the EAGLE and we will not ask you to buy a single article, but just COMPARE prices with quality and if you do not agree with us that we are saving you money on your furniture we will give you enough gasoline to drive to your favorite furniture store.

You are due it to your family, yourself and your pocket book, to stretch your dollar as far as it will go, and we will help you stretch it.

SHOALY BRANCH

This community was greatly saddened when we heard of the death of our beloved pastor, Rev. I. C. Woodruff. A number from this community attended the funeral Sunday afternoon at Mt. View Baptist church.

A revival meeting will begin at Shoaly Branch Baptist church the first Sunday night in October. Rev. E. G. Jordan and Rev. A. B. Hays in charge. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Spencer spent a part of last week with their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Adams.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Tulbert visited their son in Elkin Saturday night. Mr. and Mrs. Worth Tulbert.

Miss Sallie Gilliam visited her brother, Mr. Jack Gilliam Saturday night and Sunday.

The farmers are very busy taking care of their crops.

GIRLS TO BEGIN CAGE PRACTICE

Basketball practice will start next Monday afternoon at the school gymnasium for the high school girls' team, under the supervision of Miss Rebecca Bohanon, coach.
