Week of Prayer Service
The Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist church will hold a Week of Prayer Service on Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the church.

Methodist W. M. S. Circle No. 4 To Meet With Mrs. Meed
Circle No. 4 of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist church will meet in a Week of Prayer Service this evening, (Thursday) with Mrs. Gilbert Meed, Jr., as hostess, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Masten, on Elk Spur street. All members are urged to attend.

Mrs. Chatham Honored
Honoring her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Hugh Chatham, an October bride, Mrs. Richard Chatham entertained with a lovely luncheon-bridge on Tuesday at her home on East Main street. Covers were placed for twelve at the attractively appointed table. In the bridge progressions of the afternoon, Mrs. Paul Gwyn and Miss Louise Grier won the high score awards. Mrs. Hugh Chatham, honoree, was given costume jewelry.

Mrs. Davis Hostess to Bridge Club
Mrs. C. L. Davis delightfully entertained her bridge club on Thursday evening at her home on Gwyn Avenue having as a special guest, Mrs. Clyde Cothren, a recent bride.

A pretty setting for the card tables was wrought with fall flowers and foliage. Mrs. Cothren, honoree, was singularly fortunate in winning the high score award and the traveler's prize in addition to a lovely gift from the hostess. An attractively appointed salad course was served.

Miss Lawrence Hostess to Young Woman's Auxiliary
The Young Woman's Auxiliary of Elkin Valley church met Tuesday evening in the monthly session with Miss Louise Lawrence as hostess.

Miss Iris Collins presided, the topic for study being "The Old and New in China."

The hostess was assisted in serving refreshments by Miss Mable Davis. Members attending were Misses Iris Collins, Opal and Helen Hayes, Grace, Bill and Mildred Lawrence, Mabel Davis and the hostess.

Brendle-Poley
Interesting to many friends of the young couple in this city, where they have frequently visited, is the recent formal announcement of the marriage of Miss Irene Brendle to George M. Poley, Jr., both of Winston-Salem.

The ceremony was solemnized in Independence, Virginia, on September 4, with the Rev. L. D. Mayberry, officiating.

Mrs. Poley is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Brendle of Winston-Salem, and a niece of Mr. and Mrs. David Masten, of Elk Spur street, this city.

Mrs. Wade and Miss Powell Hostesses at Party
Mrs. L. I. Wade and Miss Mattie Mae Powell were associate hostesses at a delightful club party on Friday evening at the home of the former on West Main street, their guests being limited to members of the Friday Evening Book Club.

A lovely three-course dinner was served at seven o'clock from three card tables, central decorations of which were bowls of yellow fall flowers.

Rook was an enjoyable diversion after dinner, Mrs. Edworth Harris capturing the high score award and Mrs. T. A. Leeper the consolation.

Errol Hayes Jr. Celebrates Tenth Birthday Anniversary

Errol Hayes, Jr., celebrated his tenth birthday anniversary on Saturday by giving a Halloween party to thirty-six friends and classmates at his home on Church street. The girls and boys wore Halloween costumes and made merry on the lawn with a medley of games appropriate to the season, including the popular one of pinning the tail on a donkey. Prizes were given the successful contestants and horns and whistles were given as individual favors.

Refreshments were served later in the dining room where the Halloween motif was accentuated in decorations of golden pumpkins and candles of identical hue.

Mr. and Mrs. Brewer Entertain
Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Brewer entertained with a delightful club party on Friday evening at Hotel Elkin, their guests including members of their club and other friends to make up three tables.

Dinner was served from an attractively appointed table in the private dining-room at seven o'clock. Bridge was played afterward at three tables.

The club prize was won by Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Poindexter and the visitor's prize by Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Smith.

Those enjoying the party were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Poindexter, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Poindexter, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Roth, Dr. and Mrs. R. B. Harrell, Mr. and Mrs. Brewer.

Senior B. Y. P. U. Entertained at Scavenger Hunt
Members of the Senior B. Y. P. U. of the First Baptist church were entertained at a scavenger hunt Monday evening.

Gathering at the home of Miss Fannie Sue Harris on West Main street for instructions under the direction of Miss Hoyland Harris, the guests were sent to the far ends of the town in search for the objects on their lists. After the hunt the guests returned to Miss Harris' home where prizes were awarded Mr. and Mrs. Jack Terrell, Mrs. Leslie Reinhardt, Walter Minish, Bill Harris, and Frances Evans for finding the most complete lists.

Later in the evening punch and wafers were served to about thirty members and guests.

Misses Crater and Myers Hostesses at Halloween Party
Misses Mary Crater and Clyde Myers entertained their friends of the young high school set with a Halloween party on Thursday evening at the home of the former. Halloween games and stunts furnished fun galore for the guests who vied for honors in fantastic Halloween costumes.

Numerous favors were awarded the designers of the most original costumes, the award for best costume being won by Misses Peggy Royall, Nan Johnson, Mary Elizabeth Allen, Jo and Jerry Barker, who appeared as the Dionne quintuplets.

In the dining room adorned with Halloween symbols and lighted with weird jack o'lanterns, individual cakes and punch were served, and individual favors were at each cover. About forty-five friends were included in the guest list.

Mrs. Cothren Honored at Bridge Party

Mrs. Clyde Cothren, a recent bride was honored at a delightful bridge party given on Saturday evening by Mrs. Jones Holcomb and Mrs. M. A. Holcomb at the home of the former on Bridge street.

Three tables were made up for play in a setting of white and green.

Mrs. Odell Holcomb, highest scorer in the progressions and Mrs. Reece Cockerham, low scorer, were given remembrances. The honoree's gift from the hostesses was linens.

Ices molded in the form of lilies individual decorated cakes and salted nuts were served. The guest list included Mrs. Cothren, honoree, Mesdames Odell, Hugh and Sig Holcomb, J. D. Jones, Ivory Johnson, Reece Cockerham, Misses Margaret Holcomb, Lucille Phillips, Catherine Boles and Emma Eller.

Winters-Lewis

Of much interest here and elsewhere is the announcement of the marriage of Miss Ola Gaynelle Winters to Irvin Washington Lewis on October 30, 1937. The ceremony was performed by Rev. M. T. Sarrel, at his home on Third Avenue, Danville, Virginia.

The bride was becomingly dressed in a fall suit of brown with accessories to match.

Mrs. Lewis is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Winters of Jonesville. For three years she has resided in Danville, where she holds a position.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Lewis of Danville. He holds a responsible position with the Danville textile mills.

The only attendants were Miss DeEtte Brown and the groom's brother, Otis Lewis.

After the ceremony, the young couple were entertained at a wedding supper at the home of the groom's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis will make their home with the bride's aunt, Mrs. J. B. Scott, Route 1, Danville.

Elkin Woman's Club Holds November Session

The three departments of the Elkin Woman's Club met in the November sessions on Tuesday afternoon in the following homes: The Garden Department met with Mrs. R. G. Smith on Gwyn Avenue with eight associate hostesses and an attendance of nineteen.

Mrs. C. G. Ashby directed an interesting study of Flower Arrangement. Mrs. E. G. Click illustrated the study with a display of unusual flower arrangements.

Mrs. J. S. Atkinson discussed arrangements of flower under water and Mrs. L. W. Laxton discussed window gardening.

The Education Department met with Mrs. Errol Hayes on Church street with several associate hostesses and an attendance of twenty-two. Mrs. L. G. Meed, directed the program study with "Reminiscences of the World Friends Conference" as the topic. Miss Alice Dixon, who attended the conference gave a comprehensive description of the things which impressed her as the most important in the problems discussed.

The Department of Literature met with Mrs. Eugene Soainhour on West Main street with seven associate hostesses and a large attendance.

Mrs. F. M. Greene led the study with an interesting review of the books, "The Nile" and "The Northwest Passage." Her criticisms of the two books were intensely interesting to her audience.

The hostesses of each department served refreshments during a social hour at the conclusion of the programs.

Methodist Circles Meet

The three circles of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist church, met for the November Bible study programs on Monday afternoon in the following homes:

Circle No. 1 met with Mrs. G. T. Roth on Terrace Avenue with eleven members and one visitor present. Mrs. J. F. Hendren conducted the devotional and Mrs. R. G. Smith the Bible study from the Book of Acts which has been chosen for simultaneous study by all the circles.

Circle No. 2 met with Mrs. Raymond Chatham on East Main street with nine members present. Mrs. E. F. McNeer conducted the devotional and Mrs. J. Mark McAdams the Bible study.

Circle No. 3 met with Mrs. R. B. Harrell on West Main street with twelve members in attendance. The devotional service was conducted by Mrs. E. M. Chatham and the Bible study by Mrs. H. C. Salmsons.

A social half hour and refreshments were enjoyed by each group at the conclusion of the study program.

Kirkman-Green

Interesting to friends here, throughout the state and elsewhere was the wedding on Saturday morning in Greenville, South Carolina, of Miss Alice Isabelle Green of that city to John Frank Kirkman, formerly of this city.

The ceremony was solemnized in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy A. Hoe, brother-in-law and sister of the bride, with Dr. C. H. Nabers, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Greenville, officiating.

The vows were taken in the living room before an improvised altar having for its background, palms and ferns. Chrysanthemums, orange blossoms and the soft radiance from Cathedral candles completed a setting of unusual beauty.

The bride's only attendant was her sister, Mrs. E. A. Hoe, dame of honor who wore a gown of black crepe with black hat and gold accessories. Her arm bouquet was Talisman roses.

Mr. Kirkman was attended by his best man, John G. Coley, of Greenville.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Roy A. Hoe.

For the ceremony and for travel afterward, she wore a three piece suit of mahogany cloth with trimmings of raccoon and green hat and gloves. Her bouquet was gardenias and valley lilies.

After the ceremony, an informal reception attended only by intimate friends was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hoe, 101 Byrd Boulevard, in Greenville. Immediately afterward, Mr. and Mrs. Kirkman left for a southern trip.

Mrs. Kirkman is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett M. Green of Milan, Missouri, the former having retired after a connection of forty years with the Burlington railway. Her family has long been identified with the business and civic life of northern Missouri. Mrs. Kirkman, during her residence in Greenville for the past year has acquired a host of friends.

Mr. Kirkman, the eldest son of Mrs. Robert Lee Kirkman of this city and the late Mr. Kirkman, was educated at Davidson College and has been located for some time in Greenville, as traffic manager of the Transportation Incorporation.

Mrs. R. L. Kirkman, and Robert Kirkman of this city, mother and brother of the bridegroom, attended the wedding ceremony.

PLEASANT HILL

Sunday school was well attended Sunday and after that several of this community went to the singing at Pleasant Home church.

The Happy Day Quartette sang at Elkin Valley Sunday night.

We were glad to have with us at church Sunday evening, Rev. Richard Day. The pastor, Rev. I. W. Vestal, delivered the message. Other interesting talks were made by Rev. Richard Day and C. H. Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Paris and son of Leaksville, spent the latter part of the week in this community, visiting Mr. Paris' daughter and sister, Mrs. Paul Darnell and Mrs. Zora Couch, respectively.

Mrs. J. H. Pettyjohn spent last week in Winston-Salem, visiting her daughter, Mrs. Frank Hicks.
