BETTER HEALTH
By DR. J. ROSSLYN EARP
Director, New Mexico Bureau of Public Health

WISDOM TEETH

The third molars or wisdom teeth, are particularly liable to cause serious illness and even death because of the frequency with which we have trouble in "cutting" them. The complications most often arise between the ages of twenty and thirty but may occur at any time after adolescence even into advanced old age. Men and women suffer equally but in both sexes the trouble is more often in the lower than in the upper jaw. The most common mishap is that only the front half of the wisdom tooth comes through and the gum forms a hood over the back half of the crown. Infection creeps under this hood and dangerous germs thrive in this little cavern. Attempts to remove a wisdom tooth while the gum around it is infected may result in a fatal spread of the infection.

Extraction of wisdom teeth is, however, an easy matter if taken in time. Abnormalities in the development of the third molars can be recognized by X-ray examination by the age of eleven years; that is to say several years before they are likely to cause any trouble. The time will probably come when careful parents will seek a dental X-ray of their children at this age to be sure that all is well and in order to forestall dangerous maldevelopment. The dental surgeon who recognizes abnormality at the age of eleven will continue to make X-ray observations of the tooth until its growth reaches a stage when preventive surgery can be undertaken with safety and a minimum of inconvenience to the patient.

ANTHOCYANINURIA

Kenneth aged six came running with John's little pot. John aged two trotted along behind. Both childish faces shone with an excitement that was compounded of pride and fear. Kenneth felt important as the bearer of startling evidence, John in the accomplishment. Within the pot was liquid which John had just produced. It was a rather vivid red.

Now if mother had been scared, had looked startled, had cried: Oh dear whatever is that? then the children's anxiety would quickly have changed to panic. Fear would have struck deep into the plastic minds and left its scars perhaps for life. But mother showed not even a trace of surprise. All she said was Beetroot and from the tone of her voice the youngsters knew at once that whatever lay behind the mystery it was nothing that they need fear.

Then mother explained to them that when little boys or girls eat lots of beets sometimes the color from the beets goes into the blood, from the blood into the kidneys and comes out into the urine. If she had been a doctor talking to grownups she might have added that the beetroot dye is named anthocyanin and the passage of grand name of anthocyaninuria. That's something for you to be proud of, isn't it, John; even though it is commoner than you supposed?

Happy the children who can buffer themselves from the dread of the unknown by the wisdom and tact of a mother who understands.

A fellow who was an inveterate smoker went to the country for a vacation. Reaching the small town in the morning, he wanted a smoke, but there was no store open. He approached a boy smoking a cigarette, saying: "Say, my boy, have you got another cigarette?"

"No, sir," said the boy, "but I've got the makings."

"All right," the city chap said. "But I can't roll 'em. Will you fix one for me?"

"Sure," said the boy. "Don't believe I've got a match," said the man as he searched his pockets.

The boy handed him a match. "Say," the boy said, "You ain't got anything but the habit, have you?"

Whichever one goeth, his name is liable to follow.

TAXES

By ELLIS PARKER BUTLER
(Reprinted from the New Mexico Tax Bulletin)

Said Statesman A to Statesman Z: "What can we tax that is not paying?"

We're taxing every blessed thing—Here's what our people are defraying:

"Tariff tax, income tax, Tax on retail sales, Club tax, school tax, Tax on beer and ales.

"City tax, county tax, Tax on obligations, War tax, wine tax, Tax on corporations.

"Brewer tax, sewer tax, Tax on motor cars, Bond tax, stock tax, Tax on liquor bars.

"Bridges tax, check tax, Tax on drugs and pills, Gas tax, ticket tax, Tax on gifts in wills.

"Poll tax, dog tax, Tax on money loaned, State tax, road tax, Tax on all things owned.

"Stamp tax, land tax, Tax on wedding ring, High tax, low tax, Tax on everything."

Said Statesman A to Statesman Z: "That is the list, a pretty bevy; No thing or act that is untaxed: There's nothing more on which to levy."

Said Statesman Z to Statesman A: "The deficit each moment waxes; This is no time for us to fall—We will decree a tax on taxes."

HEALTH BRINGS CHARM

You can't enjoy life unless you are 100% well. Most sickness is just some slight trouble and if you assist nature even to a small degree you will find you will "snap" out of your illness.

Perhaps you are overly fatigued, over-worked, or had too much excitement for your jaded nerves. Why not take a good old-fashioned tonic and watch the pep return and feel the red blood tingle through your veins. Try a bottle today.
