

NEWS FROM THE COUNTY CAPITAL

Dobson, December 13th. — The Surry County 4-H Achievement Day program and banquet was held in the Woman's Club House on Friday evening, December 10, beginning at 6 o'clock. Covers were laid for one hundred and twenty and dinner served in three courses by the Dobson Woman's Club.

County Council officers are as follows: President, Shepherd Gillespie; Vice President, Mary Frances Carson; Secretary-Treasurer, Geneva Banner; Recreation Leader, Peggy Wood; Historian, Estelle York; Reporter, Grace Hendrix.

Program—Club pledge given by the entire assembly; song, "America;" Invocation by Rev. C. W. Russell; banquet; song, "A Flaming Boy;" summary of club work by Miss Verna Stanton; presentation of awards by Mr. W. E. Woodruff in his usual jovial manner; introduction of speaker by Mr. J. W. Crawford; address "Training for Leadership," by Mr. A. R. Morrow.

Plans for 1938 were discussed by Mr. A. P. Cobb. The banquet dinner and club program was interspersed by thrilling Christmas carols. To an observer one would readily see that this is a wide-awake organization, showing spirited leadership of those in charge.

Last Wednesday was truly a gala day for the Dobson school. Under the efficient leadership of Supt. A. H. Wolfe a full force of Surry teachers were in attendance of the usual teachers meeting, observing the splendid method of loading school buses, originated by Mr. Wolfe. State Supt. of Public Instruction, Clyde A. Erwin, of Raleigh, was in attendance and expressed great satisfaction at the clever idea of protecting school children by the safety method demonstrated. W. F. Credle, director of state division of school house planning and Supt. J. W. Comer were also present. Mr. Erwin addressed the assembly of teachers. He was introduced by Mr. Comer.

Mr. Morgan Cockerham of the Mitchell's River section, was in Dobson Friday attending to legal business.

Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Jones and Mrs. Jones, mother of S. F. and little Miss Mary Ann Jones of Yadkinville were Sunday guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Reece.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Freeman, Mrs. F. F. Riggs, Mrs. Emma Mock, Mrs. W. L. Reece, Miss Edythe Reece, Mrs. C. G. Comer and Marianne Mock spent Saturday afternoon in Winston-Salem. The city is most attractively decorated for the approaching Yuletide and the streets and stores were teeming with Christmas shoppers.

Mrs. J. W. Comer and Miss Emma Comer spent Saturday in Raleigh.

The Christmas season is fast approaching and we have only 11 more days for Christmas shopping. Better hurry!

The Coe and Collins brigade are busy almost constantly slaughtering porkers in and around the vicinity of Dobson. The odor of backbone and spare-ribs and sausage pervades the air.

"The Dobsonian," the attractive and clever school paper, edited by the Dobson school was out the last week in an interesting Christmas edition.

TAYLORSVILLE STORE DESTROYED BY BLAZE

Taylorsville, Dec. 13.—Fire completely destroyed the United Variety store here early this morning, causing a loss estimated to be about $20,000. At the time the blaze was discovered by night Policeman Dester Millsaps, the elevator shaft and roof were on fire, and the building was so filled with smoke that nothing could be saved.

The store here was the headquarters for a chain of 12 stores operating in this section of the state. For a time the entire business district was threatened, and Statesville firemen were called to aid the local volunteer department in bringing the blaze under control.

There was no insurance on either the building, a new two-story brick structure, or the contents. L. M. Hinshaw, owner, and his staff began immediately to transfer goods from other stores to a new location here for the resumption of business this week.
