

LATE NEWS from the State and Nation

JAIL IS FOR SALE

New York, Oct. 8—Manhattan Island's saddest spot—the place where criminals have been punished for 300 years—is for sale.

The city announced today that the prison called "The Tombs" and the criminal courts building—both atrocious specimens of architecture—and the land on which they stand may now be purchased by anyone who wants them.

The price, for the information of any collectors who might be interested, will be about $1,850,000. If anyone buys both buildings, the "bridge of sighs" which connects them will be thrown in gratis.

ELECTION DISPUTE BACK IN COURT

Raleigh, Oct. 18—The Deane-Burgin election dispute today made its second official trip to the state supreme court, but the tribunal took no immediate action to determine the Democratic nominee in the eighth congressional district.

The court met in executive session this afternoon and presumably considered cross motions—filed by counsel for the state board of elections, C. B. Deane, of Rockingham, and W. O. Burgin, of Lexington—asking that the way be paved for certification of a candidate.

35,000 GO BACK TO WORK

New York, Oct. 18—Autumn industrial revival in the United States was backed today by a General Motors Corporation announcement of plans for re-employing 35,000 factory workers within the next two weeks and restoring salary cuts for about 30,000 white-collar employees.

Speeding of re-employment in motor plants will supplement the back-to-work march in steel, textile and other industries since a business recovery trend took hold last summer.

BRITISH PROCLAIM MARTIAL LAW

Jerusalem, Oct. 18—A form of martial law to help British soldiers crush the uprising of an estimated 10,000 Arabs was proclaimed throughout the Holy Land tonight by Sir Harold MacMichael, commander-in-chief for Palestine.

Control of the entire country was placed in the hands of an army backed up by planes, tanks and artillery while rebels clung to the Moslem section of Jerusalem's old city after four days of siege.

NEW APARTMENT BUILDING BEGUN

Louis Mitchell Building $12,000 Structure on North Bridge Street

MODERN IN EVERY WAY

Adding to building activity here is the construction, begun several days ago, of an apartment house on North Bridge street, next to Boyles' Esso Service Station.

When completed, the structure will house four modern apartments, and the builder, Louis Mitchell, Elkin business man, stated that they would be up-to-date in every respect.

The building will be of brick construction and will be erected at a cost of over $12,000. The contractor is O. L. Brown, of Hamptonville. John Franklin is the architect.

Of two story and basement type, the new building will house two apartments on each floor. Several months will be necessary for its completion.

Mrs. Alex Chatham, of this city, accompanied by Mrs. M. E. Molsinger, of Winston-Salem, will leave today for Medina, Ohio, to spend a week the guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Baldwin, the latter the daughter of Mrs. Chatham.

ELKS LOSE TO GALAX BY 9-0

Costly Fumbles Pave Way to Downfall Before Light But Scrappy Team

N. WILKESBORO IS NEXT

After a week's lay-off from the football wars, the Elkin High Elks journeyed to Galax, Va., last Friday for a game with Galax high school which resulted in a 9 to 0 defeat.

The light but scrappy Virginia eleven took advantage of Elk fumbles and threw in a 95-yard run that put the game on ice.

With Grier and Sparks going at full steam, the Elks threatened several times, but lacked the extra punch necessary to put the ball in pay dirt.

Outstanding for Elkin were Grier, Sparks and Mastin, while the entire Galax team turned in a fine performance.

The Elks squad reported in fine shape after the battle, and Coach Bumgarner hopes to have them at full strength when they invade North Wilkesboro tomorrow afternoon (Friday).

First Period of Tribune "Cash Offer" Campaign Is Unusually Successful; Workers Run Close

Candidate

John R. Jones, above, of North Wilkesboro, is one Republican candidate for congress in North Carolina who has no opposition. Seeking office from the eighth congressional district, the squabble between Democrats Deane and Burgin, each seeking the office, has thus far left the field clear.

Mr. Jones, who held the office of solicitor for the 17th judicial district for a period of 12 years, is a former law partner of Johnson J. Hayes, now a federal judge. He has the distinction of being the only Republican solicitor in the state.

Last Saturday night marked the end of the first period in the big "Cash Offer" Campaign just launched by The Elkin Tribune. Now watch the candidates plunge toward the $600 award.

And for the other awards! There is time for many other candidates to jump in and out-strip those already running. New ones are coming in every day. Folks, it is going to be an unparalleled race, with interest waxing hotter and hotter and thrills galore for everybody.

To say that the announcement of the Elkin Tribune "Cash Offer" campaign in which hundreds of dollars worth of elegant awards are to be given away absolutely free to ambitious workers struck a popular chord is putting it mildly. To give such wonderful awards in exchange for spare time efforts in helping this newspaper increase its subscription list is unusual at this time in this vicinity.

Three Counties The Cash Offer Campaign is well represented in Surry, Wilkes and Yadkin counties, which gives it an interesting triangular field of competition for the valuable awards. They are all three mighty good counties and have good workers in the campaign and we feel that the workers all have good boosters in their respective counties. The race will no doubt be watched with much interest as each county will want to have the honor of capturing the best award.
