

TO HONOR SURRY VETERANS OF WAR

Plans Announced for Erection of Monument at Dobson Courthouse

TO INVITE ROOSEVELT

The World War veterans of Surry county will be honored with a monument of native Mount

Airy granite, which will be erected on the lawn of the county court house at Dobson, according to plans announced last week by the Surry county welfare officials. The plans of the group, who are working in conjunction with A. H. Wolfe, principal of the Dobson high school, also call for the placing of a marker at Lowgap in memory of Governor Jesse Franklin, the only Surry county man that ever sat in the North Carolina gubernatorial chair at Raleigh. The welfare officials plan to erect the soldiers' monument and the Franklin marker during the next year, and elaborate unveiling ceremonies are planned for next Armistice Day, November 11, 1939. The plans for the ceremonies next year even include an invitation to President Franklin D. Roosevelt and a concerted effort to have the New Deal leader attend.

The invitation to President Roosevelt will be extended by Congressman A. D. Folger, who goes to Washington this year as fifth district representative. In case the President is unable to attend, it was said that a member of his cabinet will be invited.

The plans for the veterans' monument was conceived by A. H. Wolfe in 1923, and he has personally conducted a campaign which resulted in the contribution of about $2,000 to a fund for the purpose. His movement is backed by the welfare board, which includes W. M. Allen, of Elkin; John G. Lewellyn of Dobson; and Mrs. R. J. Lovill, of Mount Airy.

CHRISTMAS MORNING ECSTASY

"Hello, Santa! Sorry I'm so late but Christmas is just around the corner and I'd like to place my order. Bring me a doll, a teddy bear, a tricycle, a toy piano, a bag of candy, a new dress and a . . . What's that, Santa? Have I been a good girl? Of course I have! Er . . . that is, I hope I have."

"Look at that doll! Santa WAS here last night, wasn't he, mummy? Guess I must have been an awfully good girl to deserve a doll like this! Brown eyes, real hair, a pretty dress . . . 'n everything!"

"What's this? Another doll! Kind of hard to get it out. Wonder what else is in this big stocking . . . maybe it's the candy I ordered from Santa Claus."

"Whee-e-e! Some tricycle Santa left me. There's so much to play with that I hardly know where to start. Wouldn't it be nice if Christmas came every day? But maybe that would be too much work for Santa Claus, and, after all, maybe I'd get kind of tired, too."

"Here it is bedtime already. I've had a busy day but I'm really not tired. Better go to bed, though, 'cause mummy says I should . . . and I really ought to be a good girl after this wonderful Christmas. Thanks a lot, Santa Claus!"

Cabbage Head
Once while campaigning in the home state of his opponent, William Howard Taft found his speech constantly interrupted by heckling from the gallery. Finally a cabbage landed on the stage and came to rest near his feet. Pausing in his address, Taft peered at the vegetable intently and then remarked, "Ladies and gentlemen, I see that one of my adversaries has lost his head."

44,000 thunderstorms occur daily throughout the world.
