SPECIAL MOVIE TO OPEN TODAY

"You Can't Take It With You" Said to Be Finest Show of the Past Year

MANY STARS IN CAST

Said to be better in every way than even the Pulitzer Prize play by George S. Kaufman and Moss Hart, the Columbia screen version of "You Can't Take It With You," enacted by a distinguished cast which includes Jean Arthur, Lionel Barrymore, James Stewart, Edward Arnold, Mischa Auer, Ann Miller and Spring Byington will show at the Lyric theatre here today and Friday. Others in the cast include Donald Meek, Halliwell Hobbes, H. B. Warner, Dub Taylor, Eddie Anderson and Lillian Yarbo.

"You Can't Take It With You" expresses the philosophy of Grandpa Vanderhof (Lionel Barrymore) and his lovable family group. Grandpa has long believed that too much money is a liability and that the major motif of life should be good clean fun. His entire family, as a consequence, has become imbued with this unconventional theory of living. Everybody who lives in the Vanderhof home does just what he or she wants to do, and nothing else.

The story is said to be packed with delightful comedy and delightfully astonishing incident. The screen story was adapted by Robert Riskin, Capra's "ace" collaborator, from the Kaufman-Hart Pulitzer Prize play which ran on Broadway for two years.
